BASE BALL MAGNATES MEET

National League Adopts Report of Schedule Committee.

NATIONAL AGREEMENT DISCUSSED

American League Will Act Upon Schedule Report Today—Gossip About Trades and Purchases of Players.

CHICAGO, Feb. 17.—The opening sessions of both the National and American Base Ball leagues yesterday developed little sensational news...

At the National League session the schedule was adopted without change, and it was decided that in future the annual meetings will be held in New York...

The alleged attempt at bribing Umpires Klem and Johnson during the closing games in New York between the Chicago and New York teams was not discussed...

row. The Class AA league teams, comprising the American association, Eastern league and Pacific Coast league were under consideration during the greater part of the session...

President Comiskey was besieged during the day by base ball enthusiasts, who were anxious to know something of the future course of Fiedler Jones.

The matter is just as it was at the close of last season, said President Comiskey, and while I have not heard from Jones, I am almost confident that he will be back with us when the season opens.

In spite of Comiskey's optimism it is reported that William Sullivan had been elected to succeed Jones as manager of the team, but neither Comiskey nor others supposed to enjoy his confidence would verify the rumor.

National Agreement Discussed. In the short session held by the National commission the national agreement was the sole topic for discussion.

The Class AA leagues were represented by President O'Brien of the American association and President Patrick Powers of the Eastern league.

All friction appears to have disappeared between the magnates. President Fullam of the National league has announced himself in favor of bringing to light all that has been learned in connection with the umpire-bribe story.

At the session of the National commission tomorrow, W. R. Bryan, of Wausau, Wis., will endeavor to interest that body in the proposed plan of teams in Minneapolis and St. Paul.

A dinner given tonight by President Fullam to the sporting writers of Chicago newspapers resulted itself into a love feast before the banquet board had been cleared.

Whether or not Mr. Fullam will discuss Mr. Murphy before the sessions of the National league have ended is a matter of conjecture.

GIRL STILL ELUDES FATHER

Miss Peck is Yet Missing, Though Papa Has Possible Clue.

WANTS FOR CONDUCTOR OF TRAIN

Thinks Between Him and the David City Message He May Be Able to Get Some Line on Her.

State Senator J. W. Peck of Westboro, Mo., still brooding in the dark for his missing daughter, Miss Nellie Peck, he is at the Paxton hotel and hopes to meet a Northwestern conductor this evening on whose train the girl is supposed to have ridden and got some light from him as to his daughter's movements.

Senator Peck received a letter from David City Wednesday morning in response to one he had sent there relative to a postal card the girl had sent to David City friends from Omaha, announcing her arrival in Omaha. The telegram stated there was no postmark on the card that could be recognized. It said she had arrived in Omaha over the Northwestern, but that the train was an hour and forty-five minutes late.

"I am now waiting to see the conductor of the Northwestern train on which it is thought she came to Omaha from David City a week ago," said the father. "He will reach Omaha this evening."

"Nellie is one of six of my daughters. She is abundantly able to take care of herself. She was in excellent health and this is the first manifestation she has ever given of seeking to hide herself away. As it is, she has made a good job of it. Of course, I shall have no means indeed to find her. I do not know what to make of the case, but hope that something will develop within a day or two."

LEGISLATORS ARE ON WARPATH. South Dakota Home Body Killing Off Bills After Verbal Combat.

PIERRE, S. D., Feb. 17.—(Special Telegram.)—While the senate moved along serenely today without any attempt to entertain the crowd in the gallery, the house was in a seething mood all afternoon and made the road rocky for several measures, one of which was passed and another killed and a third went back to committee. The first mixup was on the boiler inspection bill, which had been in hiding for several days and popped into the open with the whole crowd after it, a bunch of amendments being offered and each man talked on his own amendment or at least attempted to and none ever got to a vote until Swanson offered as a substitute for everything else, ineffectual postponement and that bill went to oblivion for the eleventh time since statehood.

The next fight was on the county auditor salary proposition, which was supported by Newell and Taylor and opposed by Mondell. Mondell talked on his own amendment or at least attempted to and none ever got to a vote until Swanson offered as a substitute for everything else, ineffectual postponement and that bill went to oblivion for the eleventh time since statehood.
