ALLISON DAY IN SCHOOLS

March Two Date on Which Funds for Monument Are to Be Raised.

PROCLAMATION BY GOVERNOR

State Has Honored Monuments to Its Soldiers, but This is the First One Proposed to Do Honor to a Civilian.

Copies of Governor Carroll's proclamation naming March 2, which will be the eightieth anniversary of the birth of the late United States Senator William B. Allison, as the day on which a special effort will be made to raise funds for the erection of the proposed monument in memory of the deceased statesman, have been received by General Grenville M. Dodge, chairman of the Monument commission.

An effort will be made to interest the pupils of the public schools of the city in the movement and it has been suggested, and the suggestion will probably be carried out, having brief Allison exercises on the date named in all of the public schools. The proclamation:

The general assembly by unanimous vote of both houses has passed a bill, which shall not exceed 10 per cent of the amount appropriated of $10,000 for the erection of a pedestal for a monument to be erected in memory of the late Senator William B. Allison. The bill provides that the amount expended for the pedestal shall not exceed 10 per cent of the amount raised by popular subscription or donation for the erection of the monument.

The bill also provides that the United States has now before it a bill carrying an appropriation of $5,000 for the erection of a monument to the late Senator William B. Allison, at Washington, and the United States commissioner, and the Hon. W. W. Morrow, treasurer of state, has been selected as the person to be in charge of the erection of the monument.

March 2, being the eightieth anniversary of the birth of Senator Allison, has been selected as a day upon which it is desired that special attention be given to the raising of funds for the erection of this monument. General Dodge's plan of raising funds is that the schools and school children of the state, of which Senator Allison was always an especial friend and advocate, be asked to give an opportunity to make donations upon the date above referred to, that is, upon Tuesday of next week, March 2, and that the amount thus raised be forwarded promptly to Treasurer Morrow. It is also desired that our people generally contribute as their inclination may direct them toward the raising of the monument fund, and in order to give special attention to the persons, committees have been appointed in the various counties of the state to look after the soliciting and receiving of such donations.

Our state has erected monuments to our soldiers, both within the state and upon various battlefields where our soldiers died honor both to themselves and our commonwealth, but up to the present time, so far as we are aware, no monument has been erected in memory of any civilian. I want to give my hearty approval and endorsement to the plan which has been adopted both by the legislature and the Allison Monument commission for the raising of funds and the erection of the monument, and I trust that all of our people will respond liberally and promptly to this simple and worthy undertaking at the head of which General Dodge, one of our most noted and gallant civil war generals, has been willing to place himself.

Victims of Grappers Are Many

Details of Their Operations Coming to Light.

In renting a suite of offices in the Merriam block, J. C. Maybray and his associates, who are charged with relieving Banker Ballew of Princeton, Mo., and numerous other wealthy men of large sums of money, represented to Custodian Pierce of the building that they were connected with the Southern Land and Timber company. A man named Crafts, who had the appearance of a prosperous business man, conducted the negotiations for renting the offices and these arrangements were later approved by a man giving the name of Mason. It was Mason who owned the red automobile and is believed by Pierce to have been none other than Maybray.

After the strangers had occupied the rooms for some time Pierce's suspicions were aroused from the fact that the members of the supposed Southern Land and Timber company never let a single scrap of paper about the office, although there was a typewriter and other articles of office furniture in the rooms.

When the "firm" gave up its offices last November it was Crafts who notified Pierce that they would not require the rooms any longer. Crafts, according to Pierce, gave as the reason for not requiring the offices any longer that Mason had died. It was about this time that Maybray made a hurried departure from Council Bluffs on learning, it is believed, that the government authorities were on his track.

One of the witnesses before the recent grand jury which returned the indictment against Maybray and his alleged associates for conspiracy in connection with the alleged swindling of Banker Ballew was Frank Blank, cashier in E. E. Hart's private bank. He testified to Maybray renting a strong box in the bank from which he drew money and which he carried in November a stranger presented a letter to Mr. Blank from Maybray, in which the latter stated he had sold his right in the box to Mr. Clarke and directing that the bearer, "Mr. Clarke," be given the use of the box. One of the men arrested with Maybray at Little Rock gave the name of Clarke.

Dr. F. H. Hollingsworth, a local veterinary surgeon, testified before the grand jury to treating two race horses during the summer of 1908. These horses, he said, were killed while at his place by several men dressed in military uniforms and interested in the animals. One of the strangers who came to look at the horses drove a red automobile. It was the owner of the red automobile, Dr. Hollingsworth testified, who paid him for treating the horses.

Among the victims of the gang was Samuel Sutor, a wealthy hotel man of Cass Lake, Minn. Sutor is said to have dropped his wad on a fake horse race. He has been camping on the trail of the swindlers ever since and is said to have furnished Postoffice Inspector Swanson valuable information. Another victim, hailing from Nashville, Tenn., who parted with $5,000 is said, at a fake wrestling match, also complained to Postoffice In-

Two Women Want Divorce on Grounds of Cruelty.

Alleging that her husband on one occasion drew a big butcher knife across her throat and threatened to sever her jugular vein and other times exhibited a revolver and threatened to kill her, Mrs. Ethelma R. Teague yesterday filed in the district court suit for divorce from Orval E. Teague to whom she was married November 15, 1906 in Omaha. The plaintiff further alleges that on November 20 of last year her husband after repeated acts of cruel and inhuman treatment, drove her from home. She asks to be awarded the custody of their minor child.

Little May Arty brings suit for divorce from E. S. Arty, to whom she was married May 15, 1907 at Mapleton, Ia., and from whom she separated in October, 1906, on account, she alleges, of his cruel and inhuman treatment of her. Mrs. Arty asks the court to award her the custody of their minor child in addition to the decree of divorce.

The trial of the suit brought by Dell G. Clark against the Clark Implement company of which he was formerly president, to recover $1,000 claimed to be due him for salary and commission was begun yesterday afternoon before Judge Thornell and a jury in district court.

The next criminal case on the assignment is that against Albert Hogan, charged with the theft of hides valued at $300 from the warehouse of J. R. Lindsay.

Moses L. Marks has begun suit against the Chicago & Northwestern Railroad company, claiming damages in the amount of $22.50, for alleged injuries to twelve horses included in a shipment of twenty-five from Glen Rock, Wyo., to South Omaha in October of last year. Marks alleges that the floor of the car in which the horses were shipped gave way and injured twelve of the animals.

LITTLE LEGISLATIVE WORK

Too Many Members Absent to Enable Business to Proceed.

HEARING ON TERMINAL TAX BILL

General Morton and Other Officers in Des Moines Looking Over Proposed Location for Military Tournament.

DES MOINES, Feb. 26--(Special.)

Both houses of the legislature adjourned at noon today for the recess of six days, but owing to the large number of absentees not much work was done.

The senate finally passed the bill to authorize licensing of optometrists. The bill provides for a board of five persons, two being of the State Board of Health, to establish qualifications for optometrists and to license them upon examination. The doctors of the senate made a final effort to have the bill destroyed by providing that the doctors should have control of the board, but this was defeated.

The senate also passed the bill to provide how sheriffs can secure their mileage accounts after retiring from office; the bill to fix the liability of a bank for forgeries, the bill to appropriate $10,000 for work on the soldiers' roster and several minor bills.

The house passed a bill which had previously been passed by the senate providing for a manner of taxing districts for libraries and hospitals; also a senate bill changing names of county poor farms to county homes; a bill requiring that hedges along highways be cut or trimmed every year, and bills relating to manner of submitting bills to the legislature.

Tilt Over Postage.

In the house there was a tilt over postage furnished a clerk engaged in doing work for the legislators. It appears that the secretary of the executive council, A. H. Davidson, did not find any law for permitting this clerk to secure postage from the state supply, and the house passed a resolution censuring him. He came back with a communication showing that there was no authority in law for the action, and this was referred to a committee.

A bill for a state marshal law was introduced in the house by Mr. Inman. It is similar to bills that have been considered in the past for the establishment of the state marshal system to handle liquor violations.

Complete Historical Building.

A bill was introduced in the senate to appropriate $50,000 for the completion of the State Historical department building. This would be for the interior decoration of the building.

A bill was introduced in the house to appropriate $44,000 for the purchase of land for the establishment of a colony for epileptics.

The senate committee on cities and towns reported adversely the Van Law bill to give cities the right to inquire into the affairs of public service corporations to find out the proper rates to be charged, and this report with the bill was placed upon the calendar and will be acted upon. The friends of the measure gave notice they would fight for it on the floor of the senate.

Senator Saunders introduced a bill to pension firemen.

Terminal Tax Hearing.

The railroads committee of the senate will next Thursday give a public hearing on the bill to tax the terminals of

Attorney for State Moves for Verdict of Not Guilty.

BOONE, Ia., Feb. 26--(Special Telegram.)

Dr. G. Baker, a prominent attorney here, was tried today on a charge of accepting illegal fees. The charge was a surprise to Mr. Baker and he demanded an immediate trial, which was granted.

The case fell to pieces with the examination of the first few witnesses and the county attorney moved to instruct the jury to find a verdict of "Not guilty," the case being apparently without foundation.

Kills Self When Lodge Refused Aid.

MUSCATINE, Ia., Feb. 26--(Special.)--Because the Muscatine aid of Red Men refused his request for help, Herman Stolens, a former wealthy Muscatine contractor, committed suicide in Chicago today. While his son and daughter were at a social function here the news of their father's tragic death was received. Stolens made a fortune in this city by contract work, but by the collapsing of an immense sewer he became bankrupt. His wife and children left him and he had been destitute and heartbroken since then. He threatened suicide often and the appeal for help came to the fraternity a few days ago. The Red Men refused because Stolens had seemed to be disposed not to help himself.

Iowa News Notes.

POCAHONTAS--Word was received here today that F. Byrnes of this city was killed at Potosi today by being run over by a train. He was 30 years old.

Northwestern Runs First Train Over Structure Just Completed.

CLINTON, Ia., Feb. 26--(Special.)--When the first train was operated over the Clinton & Northwestern Railway company's massive new double track bridge across the Mississippi river at Clinton on Tuesday that first glimpse of the culmination of that company's efforts at this point could be seen. Railway trains are now being sent across the $2,000,000 structure regularly and the work of dismantling the old bridge has begun. Before the railway has completed its work here, however, it is expected that more than $5,000,000 will have been expended. The new depot, one for the main line and one for the Midland branch, connected by an underground passage, a new freight house, new round houses and the parking of a large tract of company property are among the contemplated improvements.
