In order to demonstrate the practicability of the Holsman high wheeled machines over the pneumatic tire, high power machines, I proposed that a certain dealer appear before a committee with any one of the cars he represented, and I before the same committee at the same time with the Holsman—my competitor was to have access to my machine for 30 minutes to do anything he could in the way of putting it out of commission without breaking any parts or damaging the machine so that it could not be put in condition with the tools that come with the machine as per catalogue specifications. I to have the same time with his machine. The only tools to be used by either in putting their opponents machine out of commission to be a pair of piyers. At the end of 30 minutes each opponent to take his own machine, put it in order without any aid or tools other than regular equipment, and drive to Fremont and return, the last one back to be the loser.

This challenge has never been accepted and is still open. The only further stipulation is that I operate the Hoisman and the competing machine must be operated by the agent of the other machine and not by an expert mechanic. This challenge does not have to be accepted or test conducted on any particular day. I am ready at any time after Saturday.
