Date.

Lincoln, March 4—(Special.)—Nebraska and Ames have patched up their differences over a date for a foot bail game next fall and have settled on Nevember 13 as the time for the annual contest. An understanding was reached today by Manager Eager of Nebraska, and Prof. Beyers of Ames in a conversation over the long distance telephone. According to the agreements made today the game will be played in Ames. In case, however, that Manager Eager falls to schedule a certain big school for a contest in Omaha, the Ames game will probably be transferred to the metropowill probably be transferred to the metropo year contract for an annual game. Las season's battle was played in Omaha, be cause the Cornhuskers wanted to place it there. This year the contract calls for the annual contest to be held in Ames and unless the Aggies are willing to let the change from their city to Omaha be made, the game will have to remain booked for the Iowa city.

Omaha is certain to see the Cornhuskers in action against some atrong eleven next day and took an early recess until today, fall, even though the Aggies do not consent to go there. Just now Manager Eager when it eleuted a controller, state frequency on a trip trying to close up a contract with a "Big Nine" school for a and the democratic and republican boards contract with a "Big Nine" school for a game to be played in Omaha in October. In case he fals to secure this contest for the metropolis and Ames refuses to agree to a transfer the Cornhuskers will play their Thanksgiving Day game there. This has been decided by Manager Eager and the athletic board. Omaha is to have a good game next fall, the present plan being to give it one of the two biggest games.

good game next fail, the present plan being to give it one of the two biggest games on the Nebraska schedule.

Two dates have now been settled on for games next fail, Kansas having November 6 and Ames, November 13. For a while it looked as though the Cornhuskers and the Iowa Aggles would not agree on a day for their annual meeting for Ames was pressing that November 6 should be the insisting that November 6 should be the date for the contests. Nebraska was scheduled to meet Kansas on the day, however, and could not make a change. Ames was booked to meet Jowa November 13 and that school offered to change its date with the Aggies to November 6 in order to allow Nebraska to play Ames on November 13. This concession by Iowa resulted in Ne-braska and Ames coming to an agreement.

COUNT QUORUM IN TENNESSEE General Assembly Proceeds to Elect State Officers and Appoint

Primary Boards. NASHVILLE, Tenn., March 4.-Acting on the ground that as a constitutional quorum of the entire general assembly was present, it was not necessary for w constitutional quorum of each of the house to be present for the transaction of business in joint executive sessions, the joint convention of the Tennessee general assembly proceeded with business this afternoon. The convention first met last Saturs of state primary election commissioners.

Reau E. Folk was re-elected treasurer and insurance commissioner and Frank Dibbsell succeeds himself as comptroller. The roll call of the respective houses in ioint convention, showed twenty senators and ninety-four representatives present, a total of 114. There are 182 members of the joint convention, making 106 - twothirds of the total membership, a quorum according to the contentions made. There were six members present over a constitutional majority, according to the ruling. HOPKINSVILLE, Ky., March 3.-Eight democratic fillbusters from the Tennessee legislature, sojourning indefinitely in Kentucky, to prevent a quorum in joint convention, will not return to Nashville. They regard today's procedure as a scheme of the republicans and anti-administration members to trap them into returning to Tennessee, in which event they believe they would be promptly placed under arrest and forced to be present at a joint convention long enough for today's election to be ratified, or else for another election to be held and the coalition slate railroaded through the general assembly.

Insist it is Liable to Stop Work on Federal Project. SCOTTS BLUFF, Neb., March 4.-(Special Telegram.)-Much feeling has been aroused here by the receipt of a copy of senate file 174, introduced by Raymond. and passed by the senate last week. Telegrams were immediately sent by officials of the government irrigation project in an effort to hold off the bill in the house. The board of directors of the North Platte Valley Water Users' association, in a session attended by all of the nine directors.

passed the following resolutions: Whereas, We, the members and directors of the North Platte Valley Water Users' association, consider that a bill now before the state legislature, named S. F. 174, dangerous to the interests of the farmers dangerous to the interests of the farmers under the government project; and.

Whereas, We believe and are confident that should said bill become a law it will stop the further extension of the government project or construction of the government reservoirs; therefore, be it Resolved, That we request and urge our senators and representatives in the state legislature to use all honorable means to defeat said S. F. 174.

The resolution was adopted maniferently

The resolution was adopted unanimously The water users' association comprises all the settlers under the $4,000,000 government project. They must pay $45 per acre on their land under the government ditch to reimburse the national government for the building of the ditch and it then becomes their property. As a part are contempfated in the Nebraska part of the system.
