While Henry Bailey, 2428 Avenue C, was leading his horse to water yesterday afternoon along Broadway the animal became frightened at a passing red automobile. It reared up, broke away from Bailey and, after performing a few antics in its fright, apparently tried to stand on its head, with the result that it broke its neck. Bailey reported the death of his horse to the police with the request that they try to find the owner of the vermilion-lined chug wagon.

J. Griffin, charged with being one of the two men who had stolen the diamond James Chaney of two diamonds valued at $750, has been released on $1,500 bond, with Attorney Ernest Finley as surety. His preliminary hearing was continued yesterday until this morning. J. Griffin is said to be one of the boys who was connected with J. C. Maybray and his gang. Griffin is said to be the man who brought one of the race horses, Charles Greener's, ship to Des Moines.

Hold Up by New Friends. W. C. Cross of Malvern, Ia., struck up an acquaintance with two strangers in a Broadway saloon Thursday night. Cross was inclined to be liberal in setting up the drinks and he and his chance acquaintances are said to have visited several of the saloons along Broadway. Shortly before midnight the strangers succeeded in steering Cross, so he told the police, towards the bridge at the Northwestern tracks over Indian creek, where they held him up and robbed him of $11, all the money he had left. Cross later made his way to police headquarters, where he furnished the officers with a description of the two men, but no trace was secured of them.

NEBRASKAN GIVES UP CASH

NEW MADE FRIENDS MISSING

Victim Inclined to Think the Lesson is Worth the Money and that He Will Not Bite on the Game Again.

Ignorance of the modus operandi of the bunco man and over abundance of faith in his fellow men are responsible for E. J. Englemayer, a young farmer of West Point, Neb., being swindled out of $65 by an ancient confidence game at the Union Pacific transfer depot yesterday morning. In exchange for $65 of good United States money Englemayer found himself in possession of a worthless draft for $1,250. Englemayer was en route to Oklahama City and stopped over in Omaha Thursday night to see something of a big city by electric light. He spent some time with a man he met on the train. When Englemayer left Omaha yesterday morning the man also happened to be on the same train. At the transfer depot, while waiting to make train connections, Englemayer's new made acquaintance met a friend. This friend had a package in the express office, which the agent refused to deliver until the charges on it were paid. The friend had a draft for $1,250 drawn by the Nebraska National Bank of Omaha on the First National bank of New York, but the express agent was unable to cash it. The man whom Englemayer had met in Omaha asked Englemayer if he had any change. When the young farmer from West Point produced his roll containing $65 the man who had the package in the express office reached out and took it, at the same time handing Englemayer the draft for $1,250 as security while he went and got the package. The two men left to get the package and after waiting a considerable time for their return Englemayer finally tumbled to the fact that in the parlance of the street he had been given a "package" and he had been swindled. He reported the matter to the police.

The grafter, after getting Englemayer's money, are believed to have taken the first car back to Omaha.

Englemayer was inclined to take his loss philosophically. To Sergeant Jim Nield he said: "While of course I hate to lose my money and will have to return to West Point instead of going to Oklahoma I guess the experience is worth something. It will be a cold day when I flash my roll again before strangers. I don't believe the express package racket will catch me again."

MATTERS IN THE DISTRICT COURT

Henderson Damage Suit Now on Trial.

The trial of the suit of R. B. Henderson against Herbert and David Downs for $2,000 for damages for assault, was begun in the district court yesterday. Henderson was employed in a feed barn in Neola at the time the assault is alleged to have been committed. The defendants, who are brothers, disputed a small livery bill and it was alleged that Henderson badly injured his horse while on the job. The trial was held in the afternoon and the jury returned a verdict for Henderson in the sum of $1,000. Henderson sued to recover on a policy for $1,000 covering property near the school for the Deaf. The company contested payment on the ground that Seaman sold the property to H. F. Pierce without giving it proper notice of the sale.

P. J. Boyan has filed suit as administrator of the estate of his son, Peter Boyan, against the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railroad company for $15,000, for the death of his son on August 5 of last year. Young Boyan, who was a student in the high school, was working during the summer vacation in the railroad yards. He was squashed between two cars and was killed almost instantly. Besides the railroad company, Slack Peterson, yard foreman and H. W. Williamson, foreman of the switching crew, are made party defendants.

Harry C. Hurd filed suit for divorce from Margaret A. Hurd alleging that the defendant had abandoned him for over two years.

Edward Montgomery seeks a divorce from Isabelle Montgomery, to whom he was married in Cass county, Nebraska, in 1877. He also charges abandonment.

Charles H. Day, who brought suit Thursday against Charles R. Haman for $2,000 damages for injuries alleged to have been caused by a load of bricks falling on him while working on the new building of the City National bank, filed an amendment to this petition yesterday, naming E. H. Doolittle and J. G. Wadsworth, trustees, and the City National bank as party defendants.

MONTH'S WORK OF THE POLICE

Ninety-Nine Arrests Made, None for Serious Offenses.

While Council Bluffs has received a considerable amount of undesirable advertising owing to the revelations of the operations of J. C. Maybray and his gang of bunco artists, giving the impression that it is a favorite resort of thugs, grafters and crooks of all kinds, yet the report of the police department for the month of February shows that the city is particularly free of crime of a serious character. During the month only ninety-nine arrests were recorded and the big majority of these were for minor offenses. The re-

Loeche's Body in Des Moines River

Belief that Ottumwa Man Was Murdered by Bandits to Prevent His Testifying Against Them.

OTTUMWA, Ia., March 6.—The body of Fred Loeche, with the throat cut, more than a dozen knife stabs in the body and a gash in the head, presumably inflicted with an axe, was found in the Des Moines river today. Loeche was held up and robbed a few months ago by five men. Two of these men, Frank Ash and Fred Young, were sentenced to fifteen years in the penitentiary for the crime. Loeche was missing when the cases were tried, but the men were convicted without his testimony. It is now believed that members of the gang murdered Loeche before the trial to prevent his testifying.

DIVIDED ON SCHOOL PROGRAMS

Minister Demands They Be Given Up and Teachers Sign.

FORT DODGE, Ia., March 6.—(Special Telegram.)—Dayton, a small town south of this city, is divided against itself as a result of a minister who approached the high school principal requesting the discontinuance of the public programs frequently given by the school because they feel they are not consistent with their religious convictions. The teachers refused, six of them resigned and only the intervention of the county superintendent, hastily summoned, prevented a teachers' strike. The question was made an issue for the coming election and the warfare will be hotly waged.

MORNINGSIDE DEBATERS WIN

Ames Man is Second and Drake Third.

SIoux CITY, March 6.—(Special Telegram.)—Fred W. Backmeyer of Morning-side college won first place in the state historical contest held here tonight. Second place went to S. W. Allen of Ames and third to Charles O. Purdy of Drake.

Dr. Wheeler Not Dead.

MARSHALLTOWN, Ia., March 6.—(Special.)—Rev. Dr. J. A. Wheeler, known throughout this section of Iowa as a preacher of the gospel, temperance lecturer and organizer of "fake" medical companies, who was reported to have leaped from the deck of a Long Island Sound steamer to his death fourteen months ago, has been seen alive. A personal friend who knew Wheeler, met him face to face on the street of Troy, N. Y., no less than ten days ago. At the time Wheeler leaped from the deck of the boat into the Sound he was managing a sanitarium at Cornwall, N. Y. Wheeler achieved much notoriety locally by the sensational episodes during his residence here. He promoted the "Ovono Company" of Omaha, which proved a bogus cancer cure company, and sold $100 of the stock to Mrs. and Mrs. David Strain of LaGrand. Wheeler was arrested in western Canada months afterward. He was brought to this city where he lay in jail for months. Eventually he was released and discharged, and he went lecturing to pay the Strains back, which he eventually did.

Omaha firm offers opportunity for investment to people of small or large means Stock will double in value in 8 or 4 years. Only five shares will be sold to one person. Act quickly.

The company's officers are all sound, successful business men

M. J. WOODWARD, President, Canute, Kansas. F. A. PARSONS, Secretary, Canute, Kansas. Kansas Co-operative Refining Co., Treasurer, Canute, Kansas. J. W. POWELL, Manager, Omaha, Neb. JOHN W. COOPER, Attorney, Omaha, Neb. References—First National Bank, Canute, Kan.; U. S. National Bank, Omaha, Neb.; Dun and Bradstreet, commercial agencies.

The officers are practical men

M. J. Woodward is a practical refiner of Crude Oil and all its products, and is now Director and Superintendent of the Kans-Co-operative Refining Co. F. A. Parsons is Vice President and General Manager of the same refinery. Kans-Co-operative Refinery is well established, has been doing business for several years having their own tank cars, pipes, lines, etc. J. W. Powell was for several years connected with the above refinery and is experienced in all lines of oil and the selling of the same. All parties connected with the Omaha Oil Co. are conservative business men. We have invested our money in the Omaha Oil Co., Real Estate, Oil Tanks, Warehouse, Horse, etc., as shown by photographs. We have also established a business of approximately $50,000.00 per annum and we can very easily double or triple this business with more equipment.

Do you want a safe investment with dividends the first year?

We offer this stock to people who have from $100 to $500 to invest and want a good, safe investment that will start off with good dividends. We will be able to pay our stock holders from eight to twelve per cent on their money the first year. Other whole jobbers the same as we are that have been in business for several years are now paying their stockholders as high as thirty per cent on their stock, why can't we do the same. We have the refinery with us, giving us every cent that is to be made out of oil. Our business is now well established and all we have to do now is to push the sales end of our business and the dividends will surely be satisfactory to our stockholders.

A word to the investor

We will say to the investor that this is strictly a business investment. All the proceeds of the sale of this (100) shares of stock will be invested in further equipment of our business, and we should be able to make the stock that you pay ($100) per share for today, worth double the amount within three or four years besides the dividends.

Quick action necessary—rare opportunity

One hundred shares in all we will sell, some of this has already been taken by business men of Omaha. So, if you want one or more shares don't delay, but send us your check, draft, money order which ever is the most convenient for you and we will send you stock to you at once. Give your name and address plain as we will make no mistake in entering your name on our books, we will send Stock Certificate to your bank, if desired.

Iowa BILL STRIKES OFFICIALS

Permits Action for Removal for Failure to Enforce Laws. COMMISSION FOR SMALL CITIES Measure in Senate Intended to Meet Swindling Games Such as Maybray and Companions Pulled Off.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) DES MOINES, March 6.—(Special.)—The senate today passed the bill to provide a way for removal of a public official who wilfully fails or neglects to do his duty. The bill provides that on complaint of ten persons the attorney general or governor shall set and bring the matter before a judge of the court and the officer may be removed on showing as to his guilt. The bill was debated for two days and a few minor amendments added, but in the main the bill was passed as drafted by the senate committee on judiciary. This was the only business done in the legislature.

The house spent an hour airing the personal grievances of a few members in a quarrel they had with the secretary of the State Board of Health and several of the members denounced the secretary for his alleged lack of courtesy to them. He was also accused of having given out an interview in a local paper which was false.

The house reconsidered its vote in defeat of the Haekler bill to permit second class cities to try the commission form of government, after the reconsideration an amendment was offered to fix the minimum population of cities affected at 7,000 and to remove the objections which had been made by Waterloo to the bill. It was then made a special order for next week.

In the senate Hammill presented a bill to revise the law as to gambling and swindling and especially to strike at just such a situation as that recently developed in Council Bluffs and to provide that where persons have been swindled by games of any kind they can recover the money. Security Company Measure.

The Moore bill to require that county companies shall file with the state auditor securities to back them up in their situation as the same as insurance companies has features that are valuable. Some time ago a surety company which had bonded about 300 notaries in Iowa went out of business, and after it had gone out of business several months it was discovered by those who have a right to know that these bonds are not good. Yet the bonds had been accepted and notaries were acting under them. There was no way to compel the company to make good on the bonds or provide new ones. The Moore bill would prevent such things.

Des Moines Cannot Pay for Bridge. W. C. Ballard, a local insurance man, has secured an injunction restraining the city of Des Moines from making further payments on the big Locust street bridge recently opened. He claims that the city acted illegally when they issued certi-ificates for $50,000 before the bridge was completed. The Central State bank is also restrained from selling the certificates. The city still owes the bridge company $15,000. The Marsh Bridge company, the builders of the bridge, recently went into bankruptcy.

Demand to See Jenken. Two determined looking men today demanded admittance to the cell of the negro Jenken, slayer of Clara Rosen at Ottumwa. They were denied. They later climbed to the top of the outside grating and slashed two windows of the jail. It is believed the men were armed and intended to shoot the negro. They escaped.

Iowa News Notes. STRATFORD.—William Matthew Hook of Stratford, aged 90 years, died. A slight attack of influenza proved fatal at his age. Since 1856 he had been a prosperous farmer.

REINBECK.—Harry Houghton, aged 21, a school teacher of this city, who has been teaching rural school near Clarkbrook, has disappeared. He left Sunday night, and despite the efforts made by Judge J. W. Lyman, a search for his whereabouts are as yet not known.

ESTHERVILLE.—At the home of the bride, Mrs. E. W. White, at the home of Mrs. Nicholson, at 6 o'clock yesterday morning took place the marriage of their daughter, Nellie, to Charles Lyons, a drug clerk of this city. They left immediately for Pleasantville, Ia., and will visit different points in Colorado before returning.

DAVENPORT.—The eleventh annual conference of the Iowa State Conference of Churches and Clergymen will be held in this city during next November. The conference includes all of the state institutions of charity and correction, all of the public charity officers and all associated private charities of the state.

BURLINGTON.—Word has been received here which says that Mr. and Mrs. George B. Herron, very well known former Iowa people, who are now living in Florence, Italy, are the parents of a son, born March 1. The escape of this couple at the time Herron was a professor at Iowa college, originated, made them very well known throughout the entire west.

FORT DODGE.—In one month the members of the Baptist church in this city will make a great effort to raise $1,000 to pay off the remaining indebtedness of their fine new church building. While they are doing this the Christian church, one of the newest religious organizations, will continue a strenuous effort to raise $10,000 for a new church home.

MARSHALTON.—A dispatch received here today says that the Muscatine, North & South railroad, connecting this city with Des Moines, will be sold to the Philadelphia people, who control the most of the lowest religious organizations.

MASSACHUSETTS.—The doctoring of the poor in Marshall county will be in charge of the Marshall County Medical society for the first time in the history of the society and county this year. The Board of Supervisors today rejected all bids and accepted the medical society's offer to take care of the county's charges for two-thirds of what is ordinarily charged other parties.

IDA GROVE.—Homer Hubbard, former Ida Grove and Ames football star, has signed to play this summer with a team of the Smith & Weston ranch. Hubbard will organize and manage. An excellent schedule is being arranged to admit the coach himself a big drawing card. It is thought that it will be one of the most successful amateur teams ever got together in the state.

CRESTON.—A picked team of Elk bowlers from here went to Red Oak Wednesday night where they met a team from the lodge of that place. The home team is managed by Ed. Johnson. The bowlers were gloriously beaten. The Red Oak bowlers being the victors in two series of games. It is hoped a return game may be arranged on the home alleys soon, when the home team will try for better luck.

IDA GROVE.—Rufus S. Fairchild and Madge E. White, daughter of Andrew White, of the Smith & Weston ranch; Chris Schierbeck and Ethel O'Brien, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles O'Brien; C. M. Clouse and Lillian Kramer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kramer, and John Vollman and Gladys Krause, were married here this week. March is the annual moving time on the farm and with it comes an unusual number of weddings each year.

FORT DODGE.—Department Commander Millman of Logan and Adjutant General Newman of Cedar Rapids met in the city together with Fort Dodge Grand Army officers, and decided that the annual state encampment, which is to be held here, will be held the second week in June, although the exact dates have not been set. The Woman's Relief corps convention will meet here at the same time, as will the Spanish War Veterans and the Sons of Veterans.

ATLANTIC.—Two business changes took place in this city, whereby one of the oldest business men goes out and another old-time business man again goes into it. The first named, Arthur Walker, yesterday sold his livery business to Clarence Hodges and the latter will take possession at once. The Walker livery has been in the city for twenty years. The second change was of the Billwood drug store to J. B. Jones, who has been in the drug business at various times in the city for the last thirty years.
