and falling hair. I tried many advertised hair preparations and various prescriptions, but they all signally failed; many of them made my hair greasy, so it was impossible to comb it or do it up properly. I think that many of the things I tried were positively injurious, and from my own experience I cannot too strongly caution you against using preparations containing wood alcohol and other poisonous substances. I believe they injure the roots of the hair. After my long list of failures I finally found a simple prescription which I used with most remarkable results, and I can unhesitatingly state that it is beyond doubt the is concerned, there are others who think most wonderful thing for the hair I have differently. Golfers cannot wait for the formal opening of the clubs, but are now making use of the links, although the ground-keepers keep them off the regular course and have improvised temporary greens. The custom of sending downtown for refreshments will be done away with this year at the Country club, as the management has decided to take out a license. The sale of thermostat bottles will also fall off since the memhers will not be compelled to carry their own cold drinks to the club.

Mrs. C. G. Belman entertained the teachers of Farnam school and some of the principals of the city schools, informally, Saturday afternoon at her home, 4807 Dodge street. The afternoon was spent with needles and fancy work.

One of the largest parties of the season was the joint dance given Friday night at the Rome by three of the most prominent dancing clubs of Omaha. The Saturday Night club, the Hanscom Park club and the West Farnam club united in a large affair, which was largely attended. The banquet room was beautifully decorated and after dancing many small dinner parties were given at the different cafes.

A card party was given Saturday evening by Mr. Roy Flanagan at his home, 2722 Fowler avenue. The guest list included: Misses Helen Anderson, Laura Lay, Hazel Anderson, Marguerite Lay, Anna Bliss, Caroline Hanson, Georgia Miller, Helen Linn, Clara Larson, Lillie Johnson, Ruth Johnson; Messrs. Edward Lunberg, Wallace Linn, Edward Howell, Russell Henning, Charles Anderson, Allen Blanchard, Carl Hardman, Marton Reese, George Ross, Frank Hazy, Walter Ablquist.
