There's nothing in the world quite like flowers. Somehow they sort a' reach out and get a grip on your heart strings. They re-ignite the old sentiments; they hold out the tender hand of sympathy; they are cupid's advance messengers; they tell to another our story better than words.

Does this suggest anything to you? If so, turn to the want ad page, and under the heading of "Florists" you will find what the shops contain today, and where to go for the best and freshest flowers. Do it while the spirit moves you.

FORWARD WORD OF CHURCH

Big Missionary Campaigns Soon Held in Omaha.

BAPTISTS IN CHARGE OF ONE

Other is Interdenominational and Will Continue for Two Days. Twenty-Fifth and Twenty-Sixth of March.

The big meetings which Baptists are holding in this city this week are part of a series which before it is completed will extend from Maine to Kansas and probably to the Pacific coast.

The budgets of these three societies, aggregating $1,500,000, have been appropriated among all the churches, so that each church knows what its share is.

"Budget Conferences" is the term applied to the great missionary meetings. Special efforts are being made to bring together from the churches as many of the men as possible and to have laymen together will meet in earnest discussion of ways and means for raising the appropriations in the various churches.

On a six months' tour of study of plans and methods of the Young Men's Christian association in the United States, George Spangenberg, general secretary of the Young Men's Christian association of Christ Church, New Zealand, will spend three days with the Omaha association and will address the public twice during his stay in Omaha.

Plans for three immense missionary meetings of all the Protestant churches in Omaha at the First Methodist church March 23 and 24 have been adopted by a local committee composed of representatives of eleven different denominations.

Among the speakers are Bishop Hendrix of Kansas City, Rev. Josiah Strong of New York City, Rev. A. W. Fortune of Cincinnati, Rev. Ward Pratt of Philadelphia, Rev. David H. Bauser of Springfield, O., and Prof. E. A. Steiner of Grinnell, Ia.

The local committee, of which Rev. J. W. Conley is chairman, met Thursday at the Young Men's Christian association and concluded final arrangements. They were addressed by Mr. Edmund D. Soper, secretary of the young people's missionary movement, who spoke in glowing terms of the success of the meetings held in Hartford, Cleveland, Portland and other eastern cities, which were addressed by many of the same men who are coming to Omaha.

The local committee is made up as follows: Congregational, Rev. F. T. Rouse, Rev. E. P. Burdick, Baptist, Rev. J. W. Conley, Mr. Charles Jacobs; Christ church, Rev. J. M. Kersey, Prof. J. F. Woolery; Methodist Episcopal, Rev. William Gorst, C. W. DeLamater; Presbyterian, Rev. E. H. Jenks, Mr. G. W. Garloch; Episcopal, Rev. G. A. Becher, Clement Chase; United Brethren, Rev. M. O. Case of Death Misstated. COUNCIL BLUFFS, Ia., March 12--To the Editor of The Bee: In order to correct a statement which appeared in your paper, we beg to give you the following information.

"STROMSBURG, Neb., March 2--Jesse Blount died from tuberculosis of the stomach after an illness of about two months. Mr. Blount was 22 years old and leaves a widow, having been married only about a year.

On October 19, 1908 in answer to an advertisement which we placed for salesmen Mr. J. E. Blount wrote us and then followed a little line of correspondence and on October 21, we wrote to him advising that our Mr. Andrews would be at Stromsburg on November 2 to interview him, which he did at that time.

Mr. Blount was ill and had been for some time, and was then unable to do anything. We received on November 9 a letter from him advising that his case had continued and that he had been unable to get out of the house for over a week. We then arranged to have one of our instructors arrive at Stromsburg on November 16, for the purpose of beginning work with Mr. Blount.

At the time he attended our annual convention of salesmen held here the first of the year he was ill and had been confined to his bed most of the time. He attended the convention and had done little or no work, so we most emphatically refute the statement that he contracted the disease from which he died through his work in the interest of this company, which your item states was caused from the dissecting of animals diseased with tuberculosis.

FLATULENCY OR WIND ON STOMACH

As It Is Commonly Named, Means That Decaying Food is Making Gas. This most serious condition is very prevalent and results most distressingly and fatally oftentimes. The stomach in cases of flatulency is unable to digest the food properly. Decay sets in, gases form, extend the stomach, force their way downward into the bowels, and if not relieved it extends upward pressing against the lungs, liver and heart, causing shortness of breath, belching, foul odors and many times sudden death.
