"The Corset That Moulds The Form To Fashion's Latest Mandate."

It's the corset—not the gown—that provides any figure-effect desired. The costume of this season cannot be worn correctly unless the figure is first definitely moulded into its proper shape. The C/B a la Spirite Corset gives the form-outline that this year's fashion demands, and at the same time forms a natural, comfortable support to the body. The C/B a la Spirite Corset is everywhere and always the corset of the woman of fashion.

Nebraska MOVE TO CHANGE INAUGURAL

Governor Shallenberger is Asked to Help it Along.

END OF APRIL TIME SOUGHT

Reward Probably Will Be Offered by the State for the Apprehension of the Murderer of C. W. Brown of Valparaiso.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LINCOLN, March 15.—(Special.)—Governor Shallenberger has received a letter from the committee, which has in charge the movement to change the date of the presidential inauguration from March 4 to the last Thursday in April. This committee is composed of twenty-one citizens of the District of Columbia and governors of the various states. The letter to the governor sets out that the weather reports show that March 4 is as "unkind" in the matter of weather as the last week in April is "kind." To change the date of the inauguration will require a constitutional amendment.

Governor's Picture on Shipboard.

Governor Shallenberger's picture and autograph will be in a panel of the steamship "United States," along with the photographs of other governors. With the picture of the governor, sent to the place of cherry wood secured through Superintendent Crabtree of the eFru Normal school. The steamship company has secured a piece of wood from every state of the union.

It is probable Governor Shallenberger will issue a reward for the arrest of the murderer of C. W. Brown in Saunders county. The sheriff of the county notified the governor of the murder, but the reward cannot be issued until the governor receives official notification of the murder by the coroner of the county.

FAVORS IRRIGATION BILL

G. L. Shumway Declares Measure Should Be Amended.

SCOTT'S BLUFF, Neb., March 15.—(Special.)—G. L. Shumway of Scott's Bluff, discussing Senate file No. 15, says: "The executive committee of the American Irrigation Federation of which I am chairman, declared some time ago for such a general provision in our irrigation statutes. A law to prevent anyone from impounding and holding water in excess of their needs. Water is too vital an element to be held in storage when homesteaders' crops are burning up.

This committee consists of L. M. Wilcox, editor of the Field and Farm, Denver; Zera Snow, Oregon; J. Turley, New Mexico; John McAlpine, Minnesota; and C. E. Brainard, Idaho, with Mr. Shumway as chairman.

"There are some vague, or inexplicit points in the bill," he continued, "that might be rectified. It was probably intended that these features were in the bill, but it is not clearly expressed. The law should provide that notice be served upon the water applicant, that he may have an opportunity to be heard, and that he may be held to a secondary permit.

"Then again, when lands are supplied by an appropriation which the owner thereof deems an insufficient supply and he wishes a supplemental appropriation from the reservoir of another, the owner of the reservoir shall have the right to make the application to furnish the supplemental supply. The government, having the best reservoir sites in Nebraska, will thus be enabled to supply such other canals as may be short of water, and reduce the expense to the water users under their own power.

"The amendment already proposed are not curative. Limiting the acreage of any one applicant for a secondary permit to 100 acres will work only in small reservoirs. Where there is a capacity of 5,000 to 100,000 acre feet and more it would be impractical to enter upon and improve, increase the capacity, etc. for so small a quantity of water. And eliminating the government works will in my opinion, invalidate the statute, making class legislation.

"It appears to me a good bill, if amended as I have suggested above, as the whole object of water legislation is to get the water upon the land, and upon the land as its duty can be stretched to permit."

Mr. Shumway was the democratic candidate for congress in the sixth district two years ago.

COMMERCIAL CLUB CONVENTION

Notable Speakers on the Program for Tuesday.

NORFOLK, Neb., March 15.—(Special Telegram.)—The fifth annual convention of the Nebraska Association of Commercial Clubs began a two days' session here tonight. Vice President A. L. Mohler of the Union Pacific railway, a speaker at tomorrow night's banquet, will arrive by special train tomorrow afternoon. Governor Shallenberger and Interstate Commerce Commissioner Clark arrive tomorrow to speak tomorrow night.

"The Business Value of Summer Chautauqua" was discussed tonight by the president of the Redpath Lyceum bureau.

A. V. Pease, a druggist of Fairbury, Neb., chartered a special train to carry him from Norfolk to Fremont last afternoon, when Pease had come to Norfolk to attend the convention. The train made the eighty miles to Fremont in about two hours. The cost of the train was $125, but for this train Mr. Pease would have had to remain here over night.

To Have a Clear, Velvety Complexion By MADAME D'MILLE.

(From Chicago Inter Ocean.)

Madame D'Mille, one of Paris' most famous beauties just passing through Chicago, gives us a few valuable ideas on skin treatment, as follows:—

"Yes, I have just come from beautiful Japan, and I must say the Japanese women have many toilet formulas and ideas which American women should know.

"What do they use to make their skin so soft and velvety?

"Any American woman can use the same treatment if she desires. Dissolve a small original package of maytane in about eight ounces of witchhazel. Massage the face, arms and neck with this solution once or twice a day, and you will shortly find you have a lovely, soft complexion, and then the best of it all is that this solution prevents the growth of hair, and is absolutely harmless to the most delicate skin. Make the solution yourself.

"Why, yes,—of course I use it. Just see how beautifully soft my arms and face are, and not a hair.

"No,—you will never use powder again, and those stray hairs will soon be missing from your face."

Ramsay has filed a petition in Justice Archer's court to collect from Earl C. Westcott on his bond of $25,000. His bondsmen, Charles C. Parmelee and Tom E. Parmelee, are also made defendants. The law to guarantee the building of a light plant in this city.

TABLE ROCK—The anti-licensing caucus for the nomination of two candidates for village trustees is called for Tuesday evening. Two trustees are to be elected, and the village board will have over a all license men, so it would seem that the license men are "in the saddle" this year, whichever way the election goes.

HASKELL HITS BACK AT RUSH

Governor Charges Omaha Attorney with Misconduct Before Jury.

WANTS INDICTMENTS QUASHED

Motion Asserts Government Secret Agents Were Allowed to Give Hearsay Testimony—Charge False, Says Goss.

VINITA, Okl., March 15.—Attorneys for Governor Charles N. Haskell and other prominent Oklahomans charged with conspiracy in connection with Muskogee town-site scheduling, today entered a motion in the federal court here to quash the indictments. The court took the motion under advisement and the case went over until the April term which convenes at Tulsa, April 2.

The motion to quash is identical with that served on assistant United States District Attorney Gregg at Muskogee last night. In it the attorneys for the indicted men allege that Special Assistant Attorney General Sylvester Rush of Omaha, who had charge of the grand jury examinations for the government, conducted these examinations illegally.

Special Assistant Attorney General S. R. Rush left Saturday night for Vinita, Okl., to be present at the trial of Governor C. N. Haskell. A motion to quash the indictments was recently filed in the Oklahoma district court, a copy of which was received in Omaha a few days ago.

United States District Attorney Goss said in reply to the charges made against Mr. Rush, and which were embodied in the motion to quash:—

"The charges of misconduct on the part of S. R. Rush when presenting cases to the grand jury are palpably false. Every one who knows Mr. Rush and his methods will, of course, credit him with too much intelligence and professional honor to permit him to do the silly things charged."

ST. PETERSBURG, March 15.—A dispatch to the Novoe Vremya from Juita, on the frontier between Persia and Russia, says that 1,099 Persian government horsemen and 500 infantrymen are marching on Juita from the Persian bank of the Araxes river, devastating the villages in their path and shooting down the people. Already ten villages, four of them inhabited by Russian subjects, have been pillaged and burned. The troops are ruthlessly killing the fleeing peasants. Many women, carrying their children on their backs, attempted to swim the Araxes to the Russian side, but were shot down. Three hundred homeless families have taken refuge on an island in the river, opposite Juita.

WHISKY NOSE VALUABLE ASSET FOR PAT LAMPHEAR

Man Whose Acute Sense of Smell Brought Him Large Income Dead at Lexington.

LEXINGTON, Ky., March 15.—Patrick Lamphear, one of the most widely known Bourbon whiskey experts of America, died here last night. His skill in determining the quality of whiskey and the large salary paid him had gained for him the sobriquet of "the man with the golden nose."

Mr. Lamphear because of his many years of study and experience and his acute sense of smell became so proficient in discriminating between the delicate aromas which arise from old liquors that he became wonderfully expert in detecting the distinguished fragrance of the various brands and it was claimed he could tell by their odor the age and brand of the different whiskeys. He was born in Ireland 65 years ago. Pneumonia was the cause of his death.

DEMOCRATS COME TO CANNON'S AID

of Wisconsin would have nothing to do with the speaker's fight unless they were assured beyond peradventure of doubt that Cannon could be defeated. This condition never eventuated and so these gentlemen voted for Cannon, believing that, after all, the country was much more interested upon a change of the rules than upon the personality of the speaker.

In his opposition to Mr. Fitzgerald's substitute for Champ Clark's resolution, Mr. Norris made one of the strongest speeches heard on the floor today. Notwithstanding that he had but three minutes, he used his time to such advantage that he received tumultuous applause, not only from his colleagues, but from a crowded gallery. Among other things he said: "There will never be a change in the rules that will be satisfactory to the membership of this house and country that fails to take away from the speaker the right to serve on the committee on rules and the right to appoint the standing committees of the house."

Rap at Outside Interference.

"It is unfortunate that members of the house have not been allowed to settle this question without outside interference. Members have been impudently by senators to vote against any change in the rules. They have been plead with to the same effect by members of the cabinet and, I am sorry to say, that I have been informed that the president has even lent his assistance to the house manager, Nebraska was the first state in the union to declare for the candidacy of the present chief executive, and I was a member of that convention. Then I believed him to be one of the very great men of the republican party and I have no reason to change my estimate of this splendid American, but I had hoped that we might fight out here on the floor without outside interference these questions which are so vitally a part of the good and orderly conduct of this house.

"The newspapers have heralded for several days what punishment the 'insurgents' would receive if they were defeated in this cause. It is said we will be deprived of committee appointments and that the executive will refuse to give us patronage heretofore extended to members of the house. If we are to be punished for standing up for principle, then let the lash be unfurled. We are advocating what I believe to be right and we refuse to trade principle for political pie or even for political life. I prefer to go to my political grave with a clear conscience rather than ride in a chariot of victory a congressional stooge, vassal or slave of any man, whether he be owner or manager of the legislative menagerie or the ruler of a great nation."

Texas Vote is Split.

Iowa, unlike its neighbor, Nebraska, did not present a united front for or against the rules, but split up in a most unbecoming manner. While all the Iowa delegation, with the single exception of Hubbard, voted for Cannon, six of the Iowa members were found in the "insurgent" camp for a revision of the rules. Hubbard and Haugen, two of the old members, and four new members, Good, Pickett, Kendall and Woods, joined their older brethren in the fight for principles.

Judge Smith of Iowa, who was an active force and able lieutenant for Speaker Cannon, said tonight that he believed the storm would soon blow over and that the house would get down to business quickly.

Under the terms of the resolutions, which were adopted at the caucus Saturday night the speaker should appoint to the committee on rules such persons as the caucus might recommend. Mr. Daisell and Mr. Smith of Iowa became "Uncle Joes" associates on that committee in the Sixty-first congress. Should the minority caucus fail to make a recommendation to the speaker for minority representation on the committee on rules it is generally thought that Fitzgerald of New York, by reason of his action today, and Dr. Armond of Missouri, will be appointed as minority members of that committee.

The South Dakota members and the lone member from Wyoming voted with the Cannon forces throughout.

Answer to Nebraska Bankers.

Some time ago the banks in Nebraska made a statement to Senator Burkett that western depositors had been discriminated against in that they have been required to furnish United States bonds as security for their initial deposits of $50,000; that calls for return of deposits went to banks that only had United States bonds and that could easily have been made on banks whose deposits were secured by $60,000,000 of railroad bonds. The Treasury department makes reply that the calls of the department were made without regard to location of the banks or the character of security furnished and they provided that bonds other than those of the United States must be first withdrawn, so that the smallest amount of United States bonds possible was thrown on the market. Since the recent call the amount of state, municipal and railroad bonds held as security for public deposits has already been reduced to about $2,000,000 and will be further reduced when the withdrawal of securities under the calls shall have been completed.

OMAHA NEST ORDER OF OWLS IS ORGANIZED

Local Branch Instituted Sunday Afternoon by Supreme Organizer Mitchell.

Omaha nest, No. 1082, International Order of Owls, became an accomplished fact Sunday afternoon at the United Workmen hall, when the local branch was instituted and officers elected and installed.

Supreme Lecturer H. W. Mitchell of South Bend, who has been in the city for some time working up the order, delivered an address upon the teachings and work of the order, as did also Past President George W. Brown. Two hundred charter members were present and the lodge was started under the most favorable auspices.

The following are the officers: George W. Brown, past president and delegate to the supreme convention; Peter Lock, president; J. W. Priest, vice president; E. F. Pope, instructor; J. E. Cole, secretary; James Cross, treasurer; Martin Salvo, warden; N. A. Lous, sergeant; Ellis McBride, pocket; Dr. B. H. Cheslock, physician.

The "Thirteen Club" held an informal meeting last night in their rooms at Fourteenth and Douglas streets. Supreme Lecturer H. W. Mitchell of the International Order of Owls was the guest of honor. Many invited guests, including a number of ladies, were also present. Music and social diversions furnished the evening's entertainment.

Friends Hold Three Meetings

Members Gather at Y. M. C. A. and Plan Permanent Organization, but Will Not Take from Others.

Friends, commonly called Quakers, may organize a church society in Omaha, and to this end held three meetings in one of the assembly halls in the Young Men's Christian association building Sunday afternoon and evening. All the meetings were well attended and at the afternoon service the proposition of organizing in Omaha was gone over carefully and a temporary organization was effected and it was voted to meet regularly Sunday afternoons. That next Sunday night a meeting of the Christian association at 3 p. m. E. S. Abel and Dr. Alfred S. Mattson constitute a committee in charge of the society.

Rev. John Fry of Plainview, general superintendent of the Friends' congregation for Nebraska, spent the last week in Omaha getting in touch with the members of his congregation, and decided upon the Sunday meeting. When this was determined upon he sent for Rev. C. W. Sweet of Des Moines to come and talk to the Friends. Mr. Sweet is chairman of the Evangelistic and church extension board of Friends for the United States and Canada and at the close of his sermon Sunday morning promised all possible aid in the event the Omaha brethren decided to organize, though he advised them not to organize if there were not enough to carry on the work. He also reminded his hearers that some had affiliated with other churches in Omaha which might make it hard to place on its feet a "Friends" church here.

"For the love of Christ constrainth us," from Paul's epistle to the Corinthians, was the text taken by Mr. Smith for the subject of his discourse. He called attention to the fact that love has from the first been the cornerstone of the Friends' congregation and that of late years the governments of the world had adopted the Friends' theory of arbitration rather than war. "Though few in numbers, the Friends should not be discouraged," for the love of Christ constrainth us," he said.

Thirteen Doilies Land Man in Jail

That is What Harry Conley Thinks Brought Bad Luck to Him Sunday.

"I ought to know better than to carry thirteen of them things around with me. No wonder I had bad luck," remarked Harry Conley to himself when a small stack of linen and silk goods, including thirteen doilies, was taken from his pockets, clothing and overcoat sleeves Sunday afternoon at the police station.

Arrested on the charge of malicious destruction of property, Conley is now held to be guilty of larceny of some sort, as the police think the goods taken from him when he was searched, are a part of a lot of stolen goods that disappeared some time ago. He will be held by the police until the case is cleared up. He refuses to give his address or tell where he secured the linen and silk goods.

On February 17 Conley was arrested with a gang of petty thieves and two days later he was sentenced to twenty days in the county jail. He was released from there only last week.

W. M. Conier of 1718 Webster street is the complaining witness against the man in the property destruction case. It is said Conley threw a brick through a window of Conier's house during an argument the two men had. Patrolman Flynn made the arrest.

C. E. LOVEJOY SUSPECTED OF BEATING HIS EMPLOYERS

Salesman for Tracy Bros. is Under Arrest on Suspicion of Peccolations.

Charged with being a suspicious character in connection with the embezzlement of about $300 from the Tracy Bros. Clear company, 1455 Douglas street, Charles E. Lovejoy, a former city and state salesman for the Tracy firm is in jail and his former employers say they will file a complaint against him Tuesday morning in police court.

Hearing that Lovejoy was in the city and staying with a friend who lived in a downtown rooming block, Detectives Mitchell, Sullivan and Maloney went to the place between 2 and 3 o'clock Monday morning and arrested him.

Tracy Bros. are busy looking up the matter and could not say yesterday just how much Lovejoy's peccolations would amount to. They say he left their employ last December and that he is suspected of operating over a period of time, although he was making for them for over a year and was not suspected.
