awers again, bow to your king." The democrat expressed profound regret for the feelings of Senator Willise and other republicans, pointed to their platform plank pledging them to a guaranty measure, and said the amendments were clear to a primer scholar,

'I never knew of a legislature that atcase with your banking committee. It is on the next ballot, with eight members not the custom of congress or any deliberative body.

I believe we should get the bill off our hands," said Senator Tibbets, "on the prinand this is the best we can get."

"There are some republicans who would of the majority of this body," declared Senator Cain of Richardson.

The rules were then sumpended by a vote of 21 to 12. Senator Myers voting with the democrats, ordering it to third reading and explaining he did so because he knew this bill would be passed and he was pledged in his campaign to support a guaranty measure.

Discussion in committee of the whole was confined completely to the republicans on the merits of the bill.

Position of National Banks. Randall of Madison explained the position of the national banks and favored the Myers hill as normitting them to tal advantage of the act.

Cain of Richardson recalled Mr. Bryan's remarks in a speech at Topeka saying a tax of one-tenth of 1 per cent would pay the losses of all the failures in the United States in forty years. The Nebraska bill provides for a tax of three-quarters of 1 per cent in eighteen months.

Randall mentioned the importance of 000 in the rest of the state, or counting all deposits-$99,664,000-in these institutions which the new law would directly | borhood of Cambridge. ammail.

Change in Assessor Law.

The senate today recommended for passage a bill relative to the election of assessors. H. R. 214 changes the existing election law to conform with the constitutional amendment for election of supreme judges, provides for the election of precinct assessors every two years, beginning in 1909; dividing the counties into districts by township lines and specifying one assessor for each city or village with 1,000 population and in cities of over 4,000 people one assessor for each 4,000 people. The county assessor's term is unchanged.

Sifting Committee in House. The sifting committee of the house will take charge of the general file tomorrow morning. The committee is composed of fifteen members, the speaker, two democrats from each congressional district and two republicans from the state.

There was scarcely a ripple this morning when Bowman of Nuckolls renewed his motion for the speaker to name the committee selected by the caucus and the congressional districts. The fight of yesterday afternoon inspired the democratic majority to take an inventory of itself. and that took all the fight out of the members this morning. So the only eruption came when Clark of Richardson movedthat Connolly and Thomas, selected by the second district yesterday afternoon, added to the committee as reported by Bowman. Clark, who had moved the adjournment and thus helped the speaker last night, made a talk in favor of the caucus sifting committee. This acted as a amper to the scrappers, but Holmes came to the front and told that the second dispointed a working committee and did not, trict members had been selected at a meetgive the minority a representation upon ing at which there were ten votes cast it." declared Senator King. "That was the and only eight members present, and that Shoettger of Washington, who succeeded vote for this bill more willingly than some | Chairman Stoecker, deposed, as chairman of the delegation, said there was a majority of the eleven members present when the selections were made.

'I move that the house select the members of the sifting committee from Douglas county," said Stoecker.

The motion was promptly voted down, for the house is at least too wise to get mixed up in the politics of the members elected as representative democrats of Douglas county. Then Clark's motion and the Bowman motion were carried and the sifting committee goes to work tomorrow.

The house very generously allowed itself to be whipped this morning by Mr. Kelley of Furnas county, who has been a thorn in sions. Fifty-one members of the house initely postponing H. Water Bill Amended. Boland Water board bill was amended by the standing committee of the house this afternoon and recommended for passage. The amendment provided that a franchise could be granted by the Water board, provided the question received a two-thirds vote at a special election or a majority of the votes at a general election. R. B. Howell, member of the Water board, presented a statement signed by all members of the board except O'Brien, protesting against being given the power to grant an extension of franchise. He then proposed the amendment, which, he said, was an amendment which Edward Rosewater had put onto the original bill regarding the voting of bonds.

Judge Shields talked briefly following Mr Howell, but no one objected seriously to Bartos Sued for Libel. Senator F. W. Bartos, from Saline county has been sued for $50,000 by the Woodman Accident company of Lincoln, for statecents published in the lincoln Daily Star ponement: and credited to him. The suit is based on alleged statements by Bartos regarding the loaning of money by the company and the investment of its money.

Bartos is chairman of the insurance com nittee of the senate and has been partic ularly energetic in matters of legislation relating to insurance. He and T. S. Allen, attorney for the insurance company, have had one or two lively scraps since the legislature convened.
