GO TO UPHOLD OMAHA'S RIGHT

McVann and Guild Meet Shippers in Kansas City.

TAKE UP THAT RATE RULING

Missouri and Nebraska Cities Join in Repelling Effort to Subtract from Their Territory.

E. J. McVann, secretary of the Omaha Grain exchange, who is to direct the affairs of the newly organized traffic bureau, and J. M. Guild of the Commercial club, have gone to Kansas City to meet representatives of shippers and discuss the Interstate Commerce commission ruling which cuts off such a slice of Omaha and Kansas City territory by giving Denver lower rates.

The situation is a peculiar one and neither of the traffic experts would discuss the situation before leaving for Kansas City, where they were called by H. J. Wilson, who represents the big shippers of Kansas City in traffic affairs.

The rates formerly made to Denver were composed of the rate from Chicago to Omaha, plus the rate from Omaha to Denver. Thus the rate from Chicago to Omaha on first-class freight was 30 cents and the rate from Omaha to Denver $1.25, second class, Chicago to Omaha 35 cents, Omaha to Denver $1. While the first class rate was $2.06 from Chicago to Denver, by the new method of making rates it is cut 35 cents and becomes $1.90, and is not made up of the two locals, but is a straight rate from Chicago to Denver.

That the Chicago and St. Louis shippers got behind the Denver shippers who have been fighting for the rate for years, in retaliation for the Omaha and Kansas City shippers intervening in the Missouri river rate case, is the assertion of some of the best posted shippers and railroad men. The general opinion also seems to be that Denver is entitled to the lower rates and there seems to be no disposition to block the rates going into effect May 1, but the Missouri river shippers will likely ask the sum of the two rates be made equal to the lower rate granted to Denver. The Interstate Commerce commission has already ordered 9 cents sliced from the rate from Chicago to Omaha, leaving 16 cents

TO BE CUT FROM ONE OF THE RATES IF THE MISSOURI RIVER SHIPPERS ARE TO HAVE RATES WHICH WILL PREVENT CHICAGO AND DENVER CLIMBING INTO THEIR TERRITORY AND SELLING GOODS BECAUSE OF THE ADVANTAGE IN FREIGHT RATES.

BODIES OF FIVE SOLDIERS WILL LIE AT MAXWELL

Remains to Be Removed from Baggs, Where They Have Laid for Thirty Years.

The remains of five United States soldiers that have lain at Baggs, Wyo., for over thirty years are to be disinterred and moved to the McPherson national cemetery, Maxwell, Neb. Proposals for their removal have been called for by Major D. E. McCarthy, chief quartermaster of the Department of the Missouri, to be opened at his office in Omaha, April 24.

These soldiers are supposed to have been former members of the Fifth United States cavalry, or Fourth United States infantry, that were buried in the early '30s, being a part of the expedition that went to the relief of Major Thornburg and his command at the White River agency. This command of the Fifth cavalry and Fourth infantry was attacked by the Indians near Baggs, which was then a sort of a substation for army operations against the Utes. This command consisted of fifty men south of the Union Pacific railroad and nearly 100 miles west of Cheyenne.

At present Baggs is but a little mining settlement on the extreme southern border of Wyoming. The residents of Baggs have always taken care of the graves, and though the names of the dead soldiers have been forgotten, through the decay of the board grave markers, and it was through the patriotic interest of the people of Baggs that the government has been induced to have the bodies taken up and placed in a national cemetery.

NOT DRUNK FOR WHOLE YEAR

Think of It—That is Actually the Feat Accomplished by Charles Anderson.

"I haven't been drunk for a year, till now, Judge, and I'm going to swear off for another year," said Charles Anderson to Judge Crawford in police court Friday morning.

The judge discharged him with a warning not to break his promise or he would find himself in jail again. Anderson lives at 3201 South Twentieth street.

E. A. Cudahy Buys Half Block from Miss Hanscom

Property Extends from Eighteenth to Nineteenth, On Douglas Street.

E. A. Cudahy has bought the half block of vacant lots between Eighteenth and Nineteenth on Douglas streets from Miss Hanscom for $75,000 and will improve it in the near future.

The deal was closed Friday, though Mr. Cudahy is in Boston, and details of the plans for improvement will not be made known for some time.

The lots have been used for years for the highway of King Ak-Sar-Ben. The only building on the entire block is St. Mary Magdalene's Catholic church, which stands at the corner of Nineteenth and Dodge streets.

The lots bought by Mr. Cudahy, who is the head of the Cudahy Packing company, are 264 feet on Douglas street, sixty-six feet on Eighteenth street and 122 feet on Nineteenth street.

With the sale of these lots to Mr. Cudahy a long stretch of Douglas street property is to be improved and become a part of the business district of the city. Beginning at Seventeenth and Douglas streets J. L. Brandeis & Sons are erecting the eight-story office building and theater involving an expenditure of $500,000; J. L. Kennedy, vice president of the bank of J. L. Brandeis & Sons, is excavating for a building 65x122 directly opposite the lots bought by Mr. Cudahy. The Kennedy building will have rooms for six stories, many of which are already taken, the Smith-Premier Typewriter company taking the corner store room and having it built in accordance with extravagant plans.

The Omaha club at Twentieth and Douglas streets is planning to secure additional ground and increase the size of its building. The sale of the Hanscom property will have the effect of consuming several other deals which have been waiting on the disposal of the big vacant spot which Mr. Cudahy has secured to improve.

"HIS HONOR" PITIES HIM SO
Judge Gives Man Fifteen Days Rather Than See Him Foot It Across the Bridge.

"I'd hate to see you die in Council Bluffs," remarked Police Judge Crawford to Edward Wood, a street hanger, Friday morning, when the latter said he had 3 cents and would walk across the bridge if his honor would discharge him.

Fifteen days in jail was the judge's sentence for Wood. He was picked up on Farnam street Thursday afternoon by Officer Thrasher, who also rounded up another beggar near there on the same day. The police and the judge are determined to remove all beggars from the streets and generally make several arrests every day. The other man arrested for that offense by Patrolman Thrasher was discharged on condition that he would leave Omaha immediately.

Is Dr. Gifford Making Donation?

He is Suggested as Physician Back of Orthopedic Hospital for Omaha.

While Omaha physicians are not generally aware of the name of the member of their profession who has made the proposition to the Nebraska legislature through Senator Ransom, to erect an orthopedic hospital in Omaha, they favor the building and maintaining of such an institution.

Dr. H. C. Gifford has had such an institution in mind for some time, according to members of the profession, but Dr. Gifford is out of the city and could not be reached. An associate said Dr. Gifford was probably the physician mentioned by Senator Ransom, as he had long believed a great field existed in Omaha for an institution which would work to correct the deformities in children and the orthopedic hospital would find not only patients, but skilled surgeons who would devote much time to the work.

Dr. Volney of the Omaha Medical college, which is the school associated with the University of Nebraska, said he did not know what plans had been developed in connection with the hospital, but that Dr. H. B. Ward, dean of the medical college, would be in the city Friday evening when any plans for the institution might be discussed.
