union of Nebraska and the local committee in charge of arrangements for the entertainment of the National Woman's Christian Temperance union convention next Occober has engaged apartments at the Paxton hotel and will open headquarters there April 1. Mrs. Frances Heald, prestdent of the state organisation, and the other state officers, will come to Omaha for this work, and Mrs. Lillian Stevens, president, and Miss Anna Gordon, secrotary of the National Woman's Christian Temperance union, will arrive in Omahaon April 1 or 2 to remain a week or two the winter in Evanston, at the headquarters of the national organization. During er visit in Omaha Mrs. Stevens will address the Woman's club, April 5 having been set for it. The convention next autumn will bring many distinguished visitors to Omaha, as well as over a thousand delegates and members of the union. It is also expected that several of these will stop in the city during the summer to arrange for the meeting.

CEDAR FALLS, Ia., March 27 .- The club women throughout the state of Iowa are anticipating great inspiration and benefit from the eighth biennial meeting of the State Federation, which will be held in Davenport, May 18, 19, 20 and 21. The president, Mrs. Gertrude R. Nash of Audubon, has issued a circular letter in which she states some of the treats that may be expected, while others will be announced later. The local committees in Davenport are actively engaged in perfecting plans for the entertainment of the guests who will attend this biennial. Each gathering of the Iowa Federated Clubs adds a deeper interest to the work of the progressive and thoroughly active club women and makes greater possibilities available. It is hoped to make this biennial the most successfy. in the history of the Federation. The following is an outline of some of the good things that the board of directors is arranging, and it is hoped they may reach most of the club women in the state and attract a large representation of delegates: The first day, May 18, will be occupied argely in the revision of the constitution and bylaws and it is very necessary that all who are interested in this special line shall be present at this opening session The future of the Federation depends much upon the strength of its constitution. Mrr Philip N. Moore, president of the General Federation, will be present during the en tire convention, and Mrs. Sherman of Chicago will probably be the parliamentarian. Among other prominent speakers will b the first vice president, Mrs. E. L. Johnson of Waterloo; Mrs. Julian W. Rich ards of Waterloo, chairman of the lecture bureau of the General Federation; Mrs. Horace Deemer of Red Oak, chairman o the program committee; Mrs. Marian McC Treadway of Dubuque, General Federatic secretary for Iowa; Miss Emille B. Star of Des Moines, Federation journalist; Mr. Warren Garst of Des Moines and Miss T: ler, also of Des Moines, who will speak of the library commission. Miss Floren Ward of Cedar Falls will speak of th kindergarten work. Among those from out by the civics committee.
