hooks to the faw and swung his right over, staggering Ketchell. O'Brien was too tired to take advantage of Ketchell's distress and the middleweight champion stailed him off. At this stage O'Brien's ring generalship was apparent and he landed a stiff left hook on Ketchell's injured nose before the bell rang.

Round 9—Ketchell swung wildly with his left and they clinched. Both were slow O'Brien hooked his left to the jaw and then fell down after getting a hard left to the wind. Ketchell then forced the pace with rights and lefts to the stomach and O'Brien showed distress. Ketchell was forcing with his right and left as the bell sounded.

But the mistake that so many Europeans make, and that is trying to rough it. There's no use for any of these fellows to try to punish me. I can always give as suuch as I take, anyway. They ought to know that.
Head work is the hest thing in wrestling.

Gotch sayk he will certainly go to Melbourne and wrestle Hackenschmidt in January. Klank will go with him. He is determined to show up Hack, who ducked him all over England.

Round 10-Ketchell was the quicker to begin and put two left hooks to the jaw which forced O'Brien to clinch. O'Brien could do little more than block and clinch at this stage. O'Brien tried his left jab and slowed Ketchell up a bit. Right and left swings to the jaw from Ketchell sent O'Brien to the floor for the second. O'Brien to the floor for five seconds, and he went down again from a right swing to the Jaw for nine seconds. Two more arashes on the jaw, a left uppercut and right swing sent O'Brien down again for four seconds, before the bell ended the bout This saved O'Brien from a knockeu

DES MOINES, is, March 27.—Jess Westergaard of Des Moines defeated Raoul De Rouen here tonight in a finish wrest-ling match, securing the first fall in 21 minutes and the second in 22 minutes. The minutes and the second in 22 minutes. The match was rough but speciacular. Westergard was the aggressor throughout. In the first fall De Rouen persisted in running his fingers into the local man's eves and noze and after repeated warning Referce Wright awarded the first fall to the local man in 21 minutes. The second fall was secured with a bar Nelson and head lock, the Frenchman holding a bridge for three minutes.
