

NEW BOARD OF EDUCATION

Governor Carroll of Iowa Will Sign Bill Recently Passed.

INTEREST IN APPOINTMENTS

Board Will Have Office in Each Institution and One in Des Moines—Troubles Over Patronage.

From a Staff Correspondent. DES MOINES, March 28.—(Special.)—The legislative season is not likely to close for nearly two weeks, though it is admitted that but very little real work is being accomplished at the present time. The bills that will receive serious consideration have nearly all been thrashed out in committee, and it is found that the matter of very important legislation there is but little to be done. The appropriations bills will wait until a date is fixed for the close of the session, when they will be rushed through. All that remains to do on these bills is to decide what shall be the sums given the colleges, as all the institutions bills are completed. The date for adjournment may be set before the close of this week, but it may be delayed. As the end approaches there is more and more interest in the appointments of Governor Carroll on the Board of Education. He will certainly sign the bill, though efforts have been made on behalf of various interests to have him sign the bill in a way that will not name the members of the board. This is an entirely new board. It will consist of nine members. On this board there will be one alumnus of the university, one of the college and one of the Normal. There cannot be other representatives of these colleges. The board of nine will have its office at the capitol and will meet at once to organize to control and direct the affairs of the three colleges. Its first duty will be to elect a finance or managing committee of three persons, which committee will have direct personal supervision of the colleges. One of the smaller committees will look each one of the three institutions. Officers will be maintained at each institution. The general board will elect all the persons connected with the institutions and decide upon all expenditures of every kind; will also pass upon the general policy of the institutions and arrange the courses of study. The finance committee will supervise the building operations and generally handle the detail business of the institutions. The members of the finance committee will be on pay of $3,000 a year. A secretary will get $2,000 a year. There is as yet no possibility of making up a slate for the members of the board, and perhaps a hundred names will be put before the governor. It is supposed that the board will be picked largely from the membership of the present boards, which are abolished, but this may not be done.

The Troubles Over Patronage.

The patronage troubles of the new administration are becoming somewhat embarrassing. There was the usual customary protest brought on by the complete change and to turn all out who were in, so that the outsiders might have a chance, and so far as this can be done in regular order it will be done. But there was also a demand for forcible election of some persons. The first was made on the pharmacy board, but an obstacle was found in the fact that there is no way of summarily removing a state official having a fixed term and holding a commission for the full term. Governor Carroll has therefore turned the matter over to Attorney General Burnham. In the meantime the probing having commenced and some things being found that are not very pleasant, the work is going on and a committee of the legislature is now at work making investigation as to the use of the funds of the state in the last few years. It is stated that before the close of the session some important matters will be disclosed, possibly reflecting on some high officials. In the meantime patronage matters will wait until after the close of the legislature.

Status of Prohibition.

The status of the prohibitory amendment at this time is hard to state. The resolution passed the house and is in the hands of the proper senate committee for consideration. It is upon several bills that a majority of the members of the committee believe that the amendment ought not to be passed up to the people to become a disturbing factor in state affairs. It is also known that a majority of the members of the senate are of the same opinion. But it is also known that a great majority of the senate feel that it is a political necessity with each one to vote for the amendment if it comes to a vote on the floor, or in other words, the members fear the effect of voting against the amendment because of the threats of the prohibitionists as to revenge at the polls. The committee heard the well-recognized prohibition agitators, who are, of course, very zealous for the amendment of the constitution and it has also heard orators interested in the opposite side, but it is now proposed to hear from the business and professional men of the state. This may cause some delay in action. While there is confidence expressed on both sides, it seems reasonable to anticipate that in some way the movement for forcing a vote on an amendment will be headed off in this legislature.

Pullman Company Comes to Iowa.

A remarkable incident was that in the house Saturday afternoon when Representative O'Connor stated the terms of an agreement which had been entered into between a member of the house and one in the senate by which the Pullman company agreed to reduce sleeping car rates in Iowa on condition that the O'Connor bill be indefinitely postponed. The bill was to force a reduction. The company sent attorneys here and hastened an agreement. The bill was killed and the new rates go into effect very soon.

Want a Bill Vetted.

The hotel men of the state are making strenuous efforts to induce Governor Carroll to veto a bill which he has before him for signature. This is the bill to require safety devices, fire escapes and fireproof construction in hotels, and to provide a hotel inspector whose duty it shall be to inspect hotels and enforce compliance with the law. They claim that the bill is expensive; that it will be impossible to comply with it; that many hotels will have to be closed up; that others will have to be rebuilt, and that no good can come from it. The traveling men have secured passage of the bill and are demanding that it be signed as a protection to travelers.

Report on President's Residences.

The special committee to which was referred the resolution on the expense of the normal college, relating to the illegal use of money in building president's residence at Iowa City and Cedar Falls, will report Monday that the expense was justified. They examined the book of accounts and found that while the forms of the law were complied with there was an evasion of the intent of the legislature and that the boards had not acted as they should have done. The residences have

CRESTON, Ia., March 28.—(Special.)—Considerable feeling has been engendered by the proposed Carnegie library question that is to be submitted at the municipal election held here tomorrow. The federal clubs have met with much opposition from one of the daily papers, which has opposed the scheme on the grounds of the perpetual tax that will have to be levied to maintain the library if the project carries. The other daily paper has championed the women's cause. There have been some warm scenes at the mass meetings held relative to and against the enterprise. The women will vote tomorrow on the question and no guess at this time can be hazarded as to the outcome. State Declaratory Contest. CRESTON, Ia., March 28.—(Special.)—Orcola's opera house was packed at the state declaratory contest Friday night, many being unable to gain admittance. In the oratorical class the winners were: Warden, Rimel, Malvern, first; Walter Marshall, Elkader, second. Humorous class, Paul Peterson, East Waterloo, first; Leah Piattman, Colfax, second. Dramatic class, Lucile Landers, Centerville, first; Mary Reese, Ida Grove, second. Iowa News Notes. The public schools are enjoying a week's vacation this week. CRESTON—William Schwartz, a wealthy German farmer, living near here, aged 26 years, is dead at his home after a long illness. He had lived on the same farm for many years and was the possessor of a good deal of property. He leaves a large family of children. ATLANTIC—L. M. Wheeler has filed suit in the district court against the Potawatomi County Farmers Mutual Insurance company, claiming a fire loss paid due and not yet received. He asks for a judgment of $50 and costs. He filed a similar suit recently against the Cass County Mutual. LOGAN—Sheriff O. O. Rock returned this afternoon from Plattsmouth with Prad Howard, wanted for the east side as the principal in the alleged offense of inducing a 15-year-old girl to accompany him out of the state. The charge against him here was withdrawn, but he is being held by the request of the officials of South Omaha who will come for him tomorrow. LOGAN—The municipal election of Missouri Valley is attracting much attention in Harrison county. J. J. Amen, republican candidate for mayor, represents the Missouri Valley. He has been a member of Missouri Valley in the past and both are regarded as excellent business men. LOGAN—August Brierbach, the Missouri Valley schoolkeeper, was given a hearing in district court today involving the ability of a search warrant and the de-

Great Bridge to Be Opened

Queensborough Viaduct, Which Has One of Longest Spans in World, is Finished. NEW YORK, March 29.—One of the greatest bridges in the world, the Queensborough bridge or Blackwell's Island bridge, as it is more familiarly known, will be formally opened to the public for foot passengers and vehicles Tuesday or Wednesday of this week. It has required eight years to construct it. The bridge spans the East river from Fifty-ninth street, Manhattan, to Long Island City. This bridge contains the longest span in any bridge in America and one of the longest in the world. This span measures 1,132 feet. The total length of the bridge including its approaches is 5,617 feet. The structure cost $12,500,000. It is of a two-story type, the upper floor being four elevated railway tracks and two promenades, while four trolley car tracks and a 36-foot roadway occupy the lower floor. It is estimated the new bridge will have a capacity over its car lines alone of 150,000 persons annually.

Like Shooting Cows in Yard

Dana Estes Says Big Game in Africa is Too Tame for Real Sport. NEW YORK, March 29.—In the opinion of Dana Estes, the Boston publisher, who arrived here today on the St. Louis after a journey of 23,000 miles in Europe, Asia and Africa, former President Roosevelt will find hunting big game in East Africa like shooting cows in a back yard. "The antelope and animals of that kind are so tame," he said, "that they graze along the railroad track and scarcely look up as the train goes by. I saw thousands of them, including ostriches, etc. They were within a few hundred yards of the train, and most of them never so much as lifted their heads as we went by." Mr. Estes visited Uganda, circled completely around Lake Victoria Nyanza and

Dahلمان Makes Address to Italian Voters

Sons of Land of Sunshine Weep as He Pictures Ingratitude of Berryman.

The Dahلمان club rooms, those hallowed apartments locally known as "Dead Man's Reef," because so many schooners have there come to grief, were the scene last night of another spiritual uplift, the occasion being a meeting for the benefit of those Italians of the city who sit at the feet of the Jims and learn of Dahلمان. King Manardi was not in evidence, but his vicar, Joe Costa, sat in the chair, with Tom Flynn behind him as the power behind the throne, to give aid and comfort at the proper moment. Costa introduced the speakers in Italian and also gave the crowd the cue as to the right time to applaud. Once or twice they made a mistake and applauded at the wrong time, but that was a mere incident and was readily forgiven. Faith and patriotism were the keynote of the speeches. An American flag was draped in a prominent place and whenever the applause began to run low some reference would be made to its silken folds and the desired result was always forthcoming. But the pathos was the real thing. Mayor Dahلمان came up with a suit case full of it and when he unloaded it in his speech against Berryman it made a strong man weep. He spoke of ingratitude, the marble-hearted fiend, the apotheosis of all that is low and vile; the sin of all sins, so black that all the seven mortal sins boiled down into one black drop would leave a white mark beside its stain. He told with tears in his voice of how he had taken Berryman up in his arms, so to speak, had given him his political life, of how in a political way he had been mother and father, even mother-in-law to him, and now—now, when Berryman has grown up to be almost a man, and Dahلمان had made him president of the Park board, he turns and stings his party parent. The thought was too much, the mayor wept, the audience wept, a stray dog under a table howled dimly, even the pictures on the walls sobbed, outside the wild wind howled and the atmosphere became so humid it soured the milk in the refrigerator of a family in the next building. The strain was too great to be endured and when the mayor recovered his voice and brought his speech to a climax with the assertion that Berryman is a "little sucker" and his two principal supporters are "two county, cheap-John lawyers," there was a shout which was like the sound of many waters. There were many other speakers. Some argued, some ranted and some just talked, but when it came to putting on the soft pedal and holding it there, an Horatio belted the bridge, the mayor had them all backed off the board and calling for help.

Vote for Lindsay

Knowing the uselessness of the pledges of men when appealing for your votes, we believe the proper method of securing good officers is to secure good and worthy men to fill these offices. Knowing that William A. Chapman has been an honorable, able and upright man, and that he is a man of good character, deep principles and a successful business man, we believe that he is, in every way, a man worthy of your support as a candidate for Councilman of the Twelfth Ward. He is bound to no faction, corporation or interest, except that of the Republican party, the City of Omaha and the Twelfth Ward. We believe, if nominated, he will be elected; and, if elected, he will give an aggressive, thorough, conservative service. Believing in your sincerity for good and worthy men in this office, we, the neighbors and friends of William A. Chapman, and citizens of the Twelfth Ward, who personally know him, appeal to you of the Republican party for your votes at the primaries on March 30, believing, if nominated, he will be elected. D. POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENTS

THEIR RECORD

Omaha's Democratic City Council THINK IT OVER

Our citizens have every reason to be proud of them and the record they have made as "THE BEST CITY COUNCIL OMAHA HAS EVER HAD." You ought to help re-elect them if you believe in keeping in office men who have been tried and found to be true representatives of the people. ANDY HANSEN, Councilman First Ward. LEB BRIDGES, Council Second Ward. L. B. JOHNSON, Councilman Fourth Ward. GOODLEY F. BRUCKER, Councilman Fifth Ward. W. S. STELDON, Councilman Sixth Ward. ALMA JACKSON, Councilman Seventh Ward. DR. JOHN C. DAVIS, Councilman Eighth Ward. THOMAS MCGOVERN, Councilman Ninth Ward. PETER E. ELSASSER, Councilman Tenth Ward. M. F. FUNKHOUSER, Councilman Eleventh Ward. M. L. ENDRES, Councilman Twelfth Ward. They have given a business-like administration of city affairs. They have paid off more old debts than all other Omaha City Councils, they having paid $275,000 of old bonded debt and $110,000 of old warrant debt. They have reduced taxes an aggregate of $15.60 on each thousand dollars of Omaha property during their term of office, as compared with the former years of Republican rule, and have issued no bonds to pay running expenses as did the preceding administration. Under this administration, more miles of new pavement and more blocks of new sewers and new sidewalks have been placed than under any council before it. They have placed and have kept the city on a cash basis. They have permitted no over-laps in city funds, thus no deficits. All transactions of the City Council are held in open meeting. No star chamber work. No corporation lobby at this Council's meetings. They have been free from corporation domination. Fairness of treatment to all has been their watchword, the humblest citizen receiving the same courteous treatment as the largest corporation lawyers. This Council has been free from prejudice and fanaticism. They have enforced the laws and made many better ones. They have granted more police and given better fire protection. They have installed in the city more than 340 new electric street lights; this with less taxes. They have secured a contract whereby garbage is removed free to all citizens. They have secured the opening of Twenty-fourth street. Several other Councils failed. They have secured a viaduct to cross the railway tracks at Bancroft street. They have secured a reduction of Telephone and Electric Light rates. Among its most notable acts has been that of acquiring the Levi Carter Park—Omaha's future greatest park. They have secured universal street railway transfers. They have secured the removal of unused street car tracks. They have secured the removal of electric light and telephone poles from the down town streets. They have secured the removal of unsightly street signs from sidewalks. They have redeemed all platform pledges. They are not politicians, only three of them were ever candidates for any public office other than the one they now hold, and only two of these ever held public office before. By giving to the city a business administration of its affairs, they have re-established confidence, thereby increasing real estate values and encouraging all building operations. You ought to vote for them. They need your support. Polls open from 12 m. to 9 o'clock p. m. Democratic voters in any of the wards can vote for all of them at the primaries, March 30. They are to be nominated by the city at large.—ADV.
