The Harmony of Home

Does Not Mingle With or Emanate From The Table of Dyspepsia.

In the home, meal time should awaken in all the inhabitants a peculiar harmony of joy which will make for the home the abiding place of interest and happiness. If one member at the dinner table is out of sorts, this influence is felt and the harmony is lacking. Conversation and mirth are absent. Devouring thoughts assail the dinners and silence prevails.

RECORD NOT SATISFACTORY

C. B. Nash Company Says it Does Not Correctly State Facts.

OPINION ON WARRANT ISSUES

Woodring Undertaking company, Tel. 332. City Atterney Says, Same Are Not Property Chargeable Against the Water Works Sinking Fund Levy.

> The C. B. Nash company of Omaha. which brought suit to restrain the city from issuing the proposed $600,000 bonds for the construction of a municipal water works system, is not satisfied with the nending of the record for the supposed meeting of the city council on the night on September 7 of last year, as recommended by City Solicitor Kimball. amended record, the company says, in a ommunication which was read at the meet ing of the city council last night, will not conform to the facts in the case. At the suggestion of the city solicitor, the record of the meeting on September was amended to read that "by agreement and without objection it is ordered that the regular meeting of September 7 be adjourned on that date to September 8, and that the city clerk make a record of such proceeding," while the record of the disputed meeting on September 7 was amended quorum present, by unanimous consent of all present the council did then adjourn to Tuesday, September 8, at 8 p. m., pursuant to adjournment."

The C. B. Nash company, in its communication, says that the facts shown by the testimony given at the hearing before Commissioner Ferguson are that Councilmen Skodsholm and Jensen, on the evening in question, namely, September 7, were in the city engineer's office for about an hour, engaged in general conversation while walting for other councilmen to ap pear; that neither of them was in the council chamber on the evening in question; that no other councilman nor the clerk nor his deputy was present; that there was no assembling of the cour climanic body on September 7, no organiza tion of a council meeting on said date, nor any attempt at such an organization. The company demands that the correction of the record of the pretended meeting should be made to conform to the facts.

The communication was ordered received and placed on file after a statement by Mr. Kimball to the effect that the assertions of the company were not supported by the facts in the matter.

Payment of Warrants. The following written opinion relative to ne payment of certain warrants out of the water works sinking fund was submitted by City Solicitor Kimball:

mitted by City Solicitor Kimball:

The enabling act allowing the city to use the water works sinking fund was approved February 25, and went into effect by publication. February 24, 1909. It provides for the poyment of expenses of acquiring a new plant out of the water works sinking fund. Relative to warrants Nos. 2401 to 2403, inclusive. 2783 and 2785, inclusive, to Harl & Tinley for littgation, will say that this litigation was over matters not involving a suit preparatory to purchase or for erection of water works, but a suit to determine whether the franchise of the old company had expired. In my opinion, therefore, these warrants are not payable out of the water works sinking fund and the general or contingent fund should not be reimbursed on those items. Warrants Nos. 4409, 4410, 4882, 7888, 7887, 7897, 7892, 8862 and 8563 were all issued for expenses of engineers preparatory to the purchase or crection of a water works plant for the city and in my judgment the funds used erection of a water works plant for the city, and in my judgment the funds used for the payment of these warrants may be reimbursed out of the said water works sinking fund. Warrants Nos. 8572 and 8573 were used for the preparation and printing of information on the water works subject preceding the election. In my judgment this expenditure was for the general enlightenment of the public and not a necessary expense, referred to in the law, and that the emergency fund should not be reimbursed out of the water works fund for these two items.

Relative to warrants Nos. 8574 to 8759, in-

Relative to warrants Nos. 9674 to $769, in-Relative to warrants Nos. 8674 to 8769, inclusive, Nos. 8983 to 8987, inclusive, Nos. 8248 and 8320, were all warrants issued in payment for expenses incident to the special election and are by said law payable out of the water works sinking fund and the general fund should be reimbursed out of such fund for the amount thereof.

What was said with respect to the warrants Nos. 3401 to 2468, inclusive, to Harl & Tinley, is true of warrants Nos. 4888 to 4385, inclusive, issued to the same parties.

No One Saw Accident and Uncertain How it Happened.

William J. McCune of 230 Graham avenue well known resident of this city, met almost instant death yesterday afternoon beneath the wheels of a freight train is the yards of the Northwestern railroad. Mr. McCune was agent for a life insurance company and during the afternoon he went to the yards to look for a man to whom he expected to issue a policy. While there were no eye-witnesses of the accident, indications are that McCune came to his death by attempting to board a freight train which was coming up town. The accident happened in the south end of the yards near the ice house at Avenue I.

Shortly after I o'clock McCune told some friends that he had to go to the Northwest ern yards to look up a man named Callaghan, who was talking about taking out some insurance. He boarded the car at the corner of Broadway and Pearl street and about two hours later word was received up town that he had been run over and killed by a freight train in the railroad yards.

How the accident happened is not definitely known, as no one in the yards, so far as could be ascertained yesterday afternoon saw him fall under the wheels. A train of freight cars was being made up on what is known as track No. 4, of which W. J. Westrio was the conductor and J. F. Stageman was the foreman of the switching crew. All of the cars had been coupled up and the train was being pulled out for the freight depot when Stageman saw what he thought was a coat being whirled around by the wheels of the last car. Stageman at once had the train prought to a standstill and investigation disclosed the mangled body of a man later identified as McCune lying beside the track but a few feet behind the train, McCune, although both limbs were severed above the knee and the right arm was almost torn from the shoulder, was still breathing when the train crew reached him. Death, however, released him from his sufferings n a few minutes. The belief that McCune, after failing to find the man he was seeking in the railroad yards, noticed the train pulling out for uptown and attempted to board it is borne out by the fact that his watch and small sum of money which had evidently fallen out of his pockets were found by the rails almost a block north of where the train was brought to a stop. McCune's body was found on the west of the tracks, while all the members of the crew of the train were on the other side, and this accounts for the fact that they did not notice him attempt to board the train, if such was the case. Coroner Treynor ordered the body taken to Cutler's undertaking rooms. Dr. Treynor. had not decided last evening whether he would hold an inquest. He said he did not think an inquest would be necessary, but would not decide until he had consulted with the relatives of the dead man.

Mr. McCune is survived by his wife and one son. For a number of years he was traveling salesman for the Stewart Bros. grocery house. From April I, 1906, to April 1, 1907, he was secretary of the Council Bluffs lodge of Elks and recently had become associated with the Alliance Life Insurance company as its local agent. He came to Council Bluffs about ten years ago from Johnson county, of which his father was one of the first settlers. His sister is the wife of Judge O. D. Wheeler of the district court. Judge Wheeler, on being informed of the accident, at once adjourned court and proceeded to McCune's the local lodge of the United Commercial 'Travelera' association, in which he held an insurance policy for $6,300. He is also said to have held a policy for $5,000 in one of the Iowa accident insurance companies.

Injunctions were issued by the court in the cases against F. B. The last two named conduct saloons in the village of Treynor. In each of the four cases Attorney Odle was given judgment for an attorney fee of $25, as provided by law.

> About half of the twenty-eight cases were submitted to the court on agreed statements of fact, while evidence will be taken in the others. In the cases of the Hoffman saloon and the Neumayer hotel bar it was admitted that a technical violation of the mulct law had been committed by having other doors to the saloon than the entrance

In the cases in which technical violations are alteged by the prosecution, arguments will be heard today. Two of the principal technical grounds upon which At torney Odle seeks injunctions are that the defendant saloonkeeper falled to file a new bond each year, as required by law. but merely renewed the old bond, and that the mulct tax, instead of being paid on January 1, as provided by law, was not paid until later in the month.

A large number of the members of the Woman's Christian Temperance union, conspicuously displaying the white ribbons of their organization, were in the court room to lend Attorney Odie their moral support. Rev. J. M. Williams, pastor of Broadway Methodist church, was the only minister present.
