GRAIN AND PRODUCE MARKET

Wheat Takes Another Sprint Tuesday Morning.

STRENGTH IN OUTSIDE MARKETS

Corn Strong and Higher on Improved Demand from Eastern Receivers and Decrease in Amounts Coming In to Market. .

The wheat market took another spurt shortly after the opening, advancing quickly en the strength shown in outside markets. The further options are showing the best strength, as the built leaders are extending their operations into the new crop futures, the damage news from the growing fields having become more definite.

Corn was strong and higher, with an improved demand from the east and a decrease in the receipts. This brought out a good demand for cash offerings.

Wheat started steady and advanced quickly along with outside markets. Pressure by the bear faction on all bulges resulted in a lower close, but little or no change in the situation. Cash wheat locally is bringing fancy prices at the top noten for the crop year.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS Features of the Trading and Closing Prices on Board of Trade.

Frices on Board of Trade.

CHICAGO, March M.—Heavy liquidation by promisent holders caused a weak finish in the wheat market here today, closing quotations showing nel losses for the day of higher to it. Corn and oats closed easy and provisions weak.

A vant amount of buillah news was injected into the situation in the wheat pit today, consisting chiefly of crop damage reports, but despite these advices the market at times was dedidedly heavy, owing to liberal realisation by leading longs. One of the rain supports of the previous session, namely a brisk demand for the cash grain, was almost entirely absent and this, together with the profit-taking, accounted for the intermittent weakness. The market was heavy at the start, because of the comparative weakness of the Livtrpool market compared with the duliness, but soon rallied on buying inspired to some extent by a report of a local crop expert, which showed that the fall sown crop of wheat hea, improved during the winter in the Ohlo river valley, but depreciated materially in Missouri and Texas, and to a less extent it Kansas and Oklahoms. Sentiment again became bearish during the closing hour and the close was almost at the bottom. During the day May during the closing hour and the close was almost at the bottom. During the day May sold between $1.1854.194, while July ranged between $1.054 and 1.0%($91.07. Final quotations on May were $1.18%($91.18%, and on the control of the c between $1.08% and 1.08%@1.07. Final quotations on May were $1.18%@1.18% and on July, $1.08%@1.08%.

Claims of an improved eastern demand for the cash grain caused considerable firmness in the corn market carly in the seasion, but lather a weaker tone developed. At the close prices were a shade higher to 16% to 160% of lower, compared with the previous close, final quotations on May being at 65% and July, 65%@66%c.

Trade in outs was not as active as that in the wheat or corn pits, but the volume of business, nevertheless, was not insignificent. The market was rather weak the greater part of the session and closed at not losses of 160%c, with May at 54%c and July at 67%c.

Provisions were weak all day. At the close prices were Tipe and 100% lower, compared with yesterday's close.

The professional followers of the market found themselves less able to find explanation for the rise in United States Steel, which came next in order, although the fact that the chairman of the directors, logether with other influential steel men, were reported to have appeared yesterday before the senate committee on finance in Washington in connection with the iron and steel schedules of the tariff bill, which was pointed to as a coincidence that might explain. Other iron and steel stocks were affected to some extent in sympathy with the movement in the United States Steel stocks. The price of copper was marked up again on the Stock exchange in that metal in New York, but the copper and smelting stocks were heavy. The estimated condition of the winter wheat crop coming from a private expert gave a percentage disappointingly low, but the reservations accompanying the estimate left confidence unimpaired in the improving condition of that crop. Stocks at the close of the day were showing less response to the support than at any other time.

Bonds were steady. Sales, par value, $2,890,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

The supply of cows and heifers was not The supply of cows and heifers was not very large and for that reason the opportunity for pounding the market was not so good as in the case of beef steers. Still the trade was slow and buyers were successful to a considerable extent in forcing more or less reduction. To call the market weak to loc lower would cover the majority of cases.

In spite of the fact that fat cattle were slow there was a very fair demand for the more desirable grades of stockers and feeders and the trade on cattle answering that description was reasonably active. If any-

HOGS—The vards were full of hogs this morning. The stock yards' count at 10 o'clock showed 24 cars in sight, with a rumor that late trains would bring the official count considerably above that number. This means that the receipts were the largest of any day since March II. when the official count gave the total as 250 cars, and, with that exception, the largest of any day since May of last year. At the same time, other market points were reporting liberal receipts, with prices decidedly lower in consequence. About the same time came advices of a lower opening on the Chicago provision market. All these bear features combined to make the market ail it was on the basis of a 10g05c reduction in prices, and as asiesman were not prepared to make any such concessions without a vigorous fight, the foremone was well advanced before any business of consequence had been transacted.

When the trade was once under way the general market was just abour 10c lower than yesterday. While the trade was at the process of 2500 bags, including March at general market was just abour 10c lower than yesterday. OMARA GENERAL MARKET. Very Large Run of Cattle, with SHEEP Snee, commanded steady prices today, while lambs sold generally around like lower. While the market was not exactly active, owing to the fact that eral trains were late in arriving at yards, which always delays the trade to a greater or less extent. Still there was a very fair movement and pretty much everything in sight changed hands in very fair season. That was especially true of the desirable kinds which were sought after by packers.

The weakness shown in the lamb market was due to the fact that a considerable proportion of the day's receipts consisted of lambs. It might be further added by way of explanation that the total receipts, numbering fifty cars, were the largest of any day since March 1. In fact, the day's run has been exceeded only on two days this year. In spite of the fact that there were so many lambs in sight, packers bought freely, cleaning up the desirable killers in a short time. While there was nothing as high as the $8.00 top yesterday, there were nine cars of lambs good emough to bring $7.20. As sheep were not in such large supply, they sold very readily at good, steady prices, there being quite a string of old wethers good enough to bring $8.55, with ewes selling up to $8.55. Considering the very large run, the market was in a most satisfactory condition. They had come to Livingston to call on young women and were waiting for a train when attacked by the mob. The reason for the attack is not known. Caspar and Hilton Adams, who introduced the men to the young women are barricaded in their homes today and fear to come out, as the feeling is high against them.

SUNDANCE, Wyo., March 20 .- (Special.) -There no longer seems room for doubl that County Commissioner John Marchant was drowned in the Belle Fourche river last Tuesday, while attempting to rescue his horses, which had been swept downstream when he attempted to ford the river. The bodies of the drowned horses, still attached to the buggy, although the harness showed desperate attempts to cut them loose had been made, were found in the river below the Colony ford last Friday evening, and alone that time the river for a long distance below the ford has been dragged for the body of Marchant. but without result. Marchant's overcoat the ford, where, it is believed, he dropped it when he plunged into the river to attempt to rescue the horses. Probably he was kicked by one of the struggling horses and drowned while insensible.
