WHEN OUT OF TOWN.

Remember where you stored the picnic basket?

About time to begin doing your house hunting early.

Congress is considering economy in everything but talk.

A democratic legislature dies just as hard as any other kind.

Wild geese and wild base ball pitchers are coming up from the south.

Oklahoma is beating Colonel Cody to it with a "Wild West" show this season.

Objections that will be raised later will not be "without form or substance."

There is no risk in making your summer vacation plans. They are always subject to change.

The house cleaning season and the municipal house cleaning season are, this year, here together.

"Inquirer" is mistaken. The author of the tariff bill is Sereno E. Payne, not Sereno O. Payne.

The emperor of China is just 2 years old in a country where a thousand years counts as a day in history.

If municipal ownership of the water works is sure to save money to the taxpayers, why a frontage water tax?

Since Speaker Cannon has taken up the game, there will probably be a radical reduction of the tariff on golf balls.

Servia is looking for a boss. Well, Joseph Benson Foraker and Thomas Collier Platt are both out of employment.

Governor Shallenberger is on record as saying that he suffers from too many laws. Let the governor come to our relief.

The house at Washington has decided to allow the tea room and the free lunch counter to remain on the free list.

The Filipinos have expressed their dissatisfaction with the Payne tariff bill, but congress has a chronic habit of disregarding the wishes of the Filipinos.

Mr. Hearst is also vociferating for the initiative and referendum. Is Mr. Hearst a disciple of Mr. Bryan or has Mr. Bryan been converted by Mr. Hearst?

It is announced that there are not doctors enough in London to take care of the sick. Those British are stubborn folks, even to the point of selecting a time to be sick.

We presume the war in the Balkans was postponed because Richard Harding Davis notified the belligerents that he wouldn't have time to come over and report it this spring.

"There will be no chance for Bryan's nomination in 1912," says Colonel Guffey of Pennsylvania, who may as well get ready awhile to be thrown out of the convention in 1912.

Castro, Ferris and much of the tariff debate will now be retired to inside pages to give the proper limelight to the budding stars that are being tried out by the base ball managers.

Returning Tide of Immigration.

More than 30,000 immigrants arrived in New York last week and the steamship bookings indicate a record for the year that promises to equal the high mark set in 1907.

Foolish Railroads.

All the railroads doing business in Missouri have agreed to utilize the decision they secured from Judge McPherson overturning the Missouri 2-cent fare law to put their passenger rates up again to a 3-cent basis.

A Law Ignored.

The Omaha charter bill, carrying an emergency clause, was signed by Governor Shallenberger last week. It became effective as a law the moment the gubernatorial signature was attached.

The Brownsville Incident.

President Taft has acted promptly in following the authorization of congress for the appointment of a board of army officers for inquiry into what is known as the Brownsville case.

Appeal for an Explorer.

The facility with which Americans lose interest in and track of adventurous explorers who get out of touch with the regular news channels is illustrated by an appeal just issued by Admiral Schley, president of the Arctic Club of America.

Disaster Averted.

Iowa has just had a lucky escape from a great disaster. Its legislature on Friday voted down a bill in the house making the state the guarantor of deposits in banks.

HUGHES A POLITICAL MYSTERY.

New York's Governor as a Man of Deeds. Governor Charles E. Hughes of New York is today the enormous mystery of American politics.

Experience Raises Doubts.

There are increasing evidences that a considerable number of people do not agree with the conclusions of Mr. Gifford Pinchot, expert and specialist, that a tariff on lumber makes no difference whatever, and that we should let the Lumber trust do us for our own good.

Enthusiasm of a Convert.

It would be difficult to decide which is the more enthusiastic admirer of President Taft, Cannon or Tillman. The latter says: "He is a patriotic, just-minded, big-hearted man. He will be popular in every section of the country. He will bring about an era of good feeling."

Right of Succession to the Throne.

The Serbian throne is not the most attractive piece of royal furniture in Europe, but it serves the purpose of providing a job and a living for some frayed remnant of a royal family.

By Way of Greeting.

Welcome, Mr. Blue-bird. With yer liquid note. Seems like blue sky melted. Tricklin' from yer throat.

When Silence is Golden.

The hosiery manufacturers are eloquent about the additional work a higher duty would provide for American labor. They are silent about the tax which would be levied on American labor mainly for their benefit.

In Other Lands.

Jingolism is a dominant force in the political activities of the old world. Increased armaments, both military and naval, overshadow all other demands on the treasuries of nations.

Right of Succession to the Throne.

The Turkish navy manages to keep afloat and present an outward appearance of preparedness. No long war. But the prevailing battleship, if not ornamental, are not wholly useless.
