Death May Save John Masauredis From Facing Jury

Greek Who Killed Ed Lowery is Reported Weak from Bullet Wound.

John Masauredis may never face trial for the murder of Officer Ed Lowery. The Greek is declared to be an extremely ill man. The wound in his chest, which runs from side to side across the body, has refused to heal.

Hopes of trying him next week has accordingly been disappointed, and the case of Louis Peterson for manslaughter may be called instead. Peterson is charged with striking William Hibbard in the former's saloon July 28. Hibbard fell to the floor, according to the information, and fractured his skull. After that he wandered away, the information goes on, and was found the next day dead in the rear of the Drexel hotel.

How Hibbard came in the alley where they found the body has not until this time been told, but it appears that sitting in a chair in front of the hotel that night after receiving the injury he looked as if drunk to two men passing by. They thought he might be arrested, and picking him up, carried him back and laid him down in the alley, where he passed away.

W. I. Gordon Renews His Ancient Police Judge Suit in Court.

Over and out of the salary of Samuel Gordon as police judge of Omaha, there has been litigation since 1897, and it is by no means done yet. Friday morning there began before Judge Sutton the suit of W. I. Gordon against the bondsmen of the late former City Treasurer A. H. Henning.

The suit has its origin in the act of the legislature of 1897 reducing Samuel Gordon's salary from $2,500 to $1,300. That act, it will be remembered, Gordon fought, and through his lawyer, Judge Eller, instituted many mandamus proceedings against the city council and Mayor Moores to have the warrants drawn.

Finally Gordon and Eller disagreed. Eller claims that a particular warrant for $1,000 which was put through by court order was assigned to him by Gordon as an attorney fee. Gordon's assertion is that the warrant was assigned to his son, W. I. Gordon, who is plaintiff in the present suit, and that Henning, then holding office, was notified to pay the money to him. Eller got the money and the younger Gordon how sue to recover from the bondsmen of Henning, who is dead.

BILLY DAVIDSON QUITS RAIL- ROADING FOR LAND BUSINESS

Round Out Twenty Years in Passenger Work, Leaving the Chicago Great Western.

W. G. Davidson, city passenger and ticket agent of the Chicago Great Western, has rounded out twenty years of railroad service and quit. He has accepted a position with one of the big Canadian land companies and will have offices at Fifteenth and Harney streets, with territory he can conveniently reach from Omaha.

Mr. Davidson began his railroad work with the Burlington in Omaha just two decades ago. He remained with the Burlington for nine years, then went with the Wabash & Port Arthur and left the famous "Wabash corner" at Sixteenth and Farnam streets to accept the city passenger and ticket agency of the Great Western after seven years with the Gould road. He has been with the Great Western four years.

Mr. Davidson knows the railroad passenger business thoroughly and will be able to profit in his new occupation by his past experience. His acquaintance with railroad men and the traveling public is extensive.

Wrecking Old Jail Next Thing

That is the Present Step in Process of Getting New Court House.

The contract let for the new county court house, the next thing in order is the wrecking of the old jail and the finishing of the excavation contract held by Lamoreaux & Peterson.

It is expected that this work will be done by the middle of May and not before that will Caldwell & Drake begin activities here. That firm's first work is to build a retaining wall under the south side of the old court house. After that laying the foundation and sinking the concrete piers for steel columns will be in order for the south wing of the new building.

There is no likelihood of bids being advertised for a long time for those features of the new building not included in the Caldwell contract. There will be no need for the fixtures, plumbing, electric wiring and elevators for many months to come and it is now too far ahead to seek to make the contracts.

George Caldwell of the firm of Caldwell & Drake left last Thursday night for Columbus, Ind. He will be back in a week.

AFRAID OF ACCIDENT SO HE CARRIES PISTOL AND IS FINED

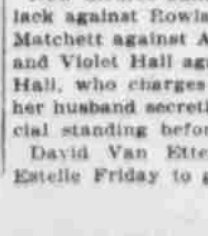

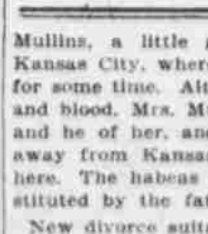

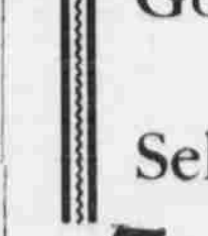

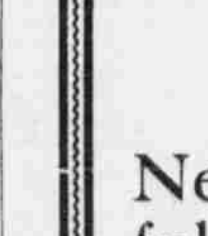

Sheeley Citizen Arrested Under Vinton Street Viaduct After Midnight.

"I was afraid I would meet with an accident, so I carried a revolver," explained Tom Calligargo, a Bohemian, in police court Friday morning. He had been arrested under the Vinton street viaduct at 1 o'clock in the morning by Special Officers Heaton and Shriner and Patrolman Pisk on the charge of being a suspicious character and for carrying concealed weapons and threatening to kill the officers.

His wife was in court, and when she was asked if she understood English, she politely told Judge Crawford that she did not. The couple live in Sheeley, Tom had to pay a fine of $10 and costs and leave the weapon with the police before he was allowed to go.

PARENTS CONTEND FOR SON Father and Mother Go Into Court to Fight for the Custody of Boy.

Judge Sears will hear argument Saturday over the issue of husband and wife, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Mullins. Mrs. Mullins was awarded a decree of separate maintenance Friday morning by Judge Estelle with alimony of $25 a month. The fight, however, is over the custody of a boy of 16 years, who is Mullins' son, but only stepson of Mrs. Mullins. Another child of Although not her own flesh and blood, Mrs. Mullins is fond of the boy and he of her, and it is said the boy ran away from Kansas City and came to her here. The habeas corpus proceeding is instituted by the father.

New divorce suits are those of Ella Wallace against Rowland Wallace, Edith Belle Matchett against Alexander Irwin Matchett and Violet Hall against Fred S. Hall. Mrs. Hall, who charges non-support, avers that her husband secretly investigated her financial standing before he married her.

David Van Etten came before Judge Estelle Friday to get vacated the restraining order which binds Jacob New from interfering with Anna New pending a divorce hearing. The court refused to vacate the order.

MRS. CHARLES E. CLAPP DIES

Widow of Attorney Who Dropped Dead One Year Ago Passes Away.

Mrs. Charles E. Clapp, widow of Attorney Clapp, who dropped dead in Council Bluffs in March, 1908, died shortly after midnight Friday morning. She had been frail and in poor health for a number of years and ill for the past few weeks. It is thought that the sudden and untimely death of her husband, who was a prominent lawyer in Omaha, had weakened her health and led to her ultimate death.

She was the daughter of Colonel Dallas Bach, who until his death recently, was medical director of the Department of Missouri. She had long been a resident of this city and had many warm friends. She was a communicant of Trinity cathedral. Her maiden name was Miss Harriet Bach.

A brother, Dallas Bach of California, and two sisters, Mrs. McMahon, wife of Major McMahon of Fort Riley, and Miss Bertha Bach of New York, survive her. They are expected to come to Omaha for the funeral. Until their arrival or at least the receipt of word from them, no arrangements for the funeral will be made.
