BANK ROBBER LINCOLN MAN

Mysterious Imogene Bandit Identified as Auriel Walla.

WIFE GLITTERS WITH DIAMONDS

Walla Had Good Reputation Up to Last June, but is Now Suspected of Several "Jobs."

SIDNEY, Ia., April 3.—(Special.)—The identity of the bank robber, who, as "Edward Gordon," was sentenced to serve ten years at the state reformatory at Anamosa, has finally been discovered. He was identified by Detective Malone of the Lincoln police force as Amiel Walla of Lincoln.

The bandit's wife and brother came to visit him, but did not arrive until after Sheriff Harris had departed for Anamosa with his prisoner. The woman was very stylishly dressed and wore diamonds.

Detective Malone said that Walla bore a good record up until last June. Since that time he has been suspected of complicity in no less than five robberies. He has been arrested three times, but so far as known has never before been convicted. It is now believed that he was the ringleader of the gang who looted the Imogene bank, and that his pals were both young men, instead of old-timers, as he represented them to be.

Walla says that if it hadn't been for the "fool farmers" they would all have made their getaway successfully. One farmer discovered the robbers asleep in his strawpile, and another held up Walla with a shotgun, ordering him to surrender or he'd "blow his head off." He surrendered and kept his head—by a close shave. As Walla's identity has come out, it is now thought that the rounding up of his accomplices is merely a matter of time. A letter supposed to have been written by the bandit's wife, was received by Marshal Moonaw of Sidney. She signed herself Mrs. Walla, 2144 N street, Lincoln, Neb.

Injunctions Have Hard Sledding—Attempts to stop improvement work in South Omaha by means of injunctions are not meeting with great success. Morningstar is a native of Indiana. He is 34 years old, and has been prominent as a billiardist for several years. He distinguished himself in this tournament by scoring a victory in every one of his six games. The night game between Slosson and Morningstar attracted wide interest as the latter's championship was involved. Slosson won the bank and scored on the break, but failed on his second shot. Morningstar made two, then fell short of a two-cushion carom. Similar failures occurred in the second and third innings. Slosson was the first to regain control and rattled off twenty-six and twenty-seven in his fourth and fifth innings, while Morningstar netted one and nineteen, respectively. Slosson got a cipher in the sixth and then Morningstar began to nurse the ivories into control on the lower rail. After running up fifty he got them for the open space nurse, which he worked until they went wide on his seventy-third shot, but he gathered them again in six open table plays. This run went to 114 points, a two-cushion cross-table shot ending it. The score for six innings stood: Morningstar, 136; Slosson, 54.

A run of forty-six in the seventh inning sent Morningstar's stock up further and another of twenty-three put him beyond the 200 mark in the tenth. At the end of this inning the score was: Morningstar, 208; Slosson, 62.

Morningstar ran past 400 in the eighteenth inning, while Slosson reached double figures only twice from the eleventh to nineteenth inning. The score at the end of the nineteenth inning was: Morningstar, 447; Slosson, 112. Slosson's best effort was forty-seven in his twenty-second inning, but with an unfinished run of twenty-seven Morningstar won the game and the championship by a score of 500 to 214 in the twenty-third inning. FEED YOU MONEY

Feed Your Brain and it Will Feed You Money and Fame.

"Ever since boyhood I have been especially fond of meats, and I am convinced I ate too rapidly, and failed to masticate my food properly.

"The result was that I found myself, a few years ago, afflicted with ailments of the stomach and kidneys, which interfered seriously with my business.

"At last I took the advice of friends and began to eat Grape-Nuts instead of the heavy meats, etc., that had constituted my former diet.

"I found that I was at once benefited by the change, and I was soon relieved from the heart-burn and the indigestion that used to follow my meals, that the pains in my back had ceased entirely.

My nerves which used to be unsteady, and my brain, which was slow and lethargic from a heavy diet of meats and greasy foods, had gradually, but none the less surely, been restored to normal efficiency.

Now every nerve is steady and my brain and thinking faculties are quicker and more acute than for years past.

"After my old style breakfasts I used to suffer during the forenoon from a feeling of weakness which hindered me seriously in my work, but since I have begun to use Grape-Nuts food I can work till dinner time with all ease and comfort." "There's a Reason."
