FIGHT FOR EXCISE BOARD

Fifty Candidates Circulate Petitions to Serve "Dear Peepul."

EVERY ELEMENT IN THE MIXUP

Only Two Aspirants, Charles Karbach and Julius Meyer, Have Thus Far Completed and Filled Papers.

Fifty Omaha men have already signified their willingness of serving the "dear peepul" as members of the Board of Fire and Police Commissioners, petitions in this number having been taken out of the clerk's office. Two of the petitions have been filed with the requisite 20 names and been filed with the clerk, but the other forty-eight are circulating around the city. The candidates have until fifteen days before the election to file their petitions.

Republicans on Petition.

Those affiliating with the republican party who are circulating petitions, are: J. J. Hunter, grocer, defeated for city comptroller six years ago; George Cott, with Martin Cott Hat company, defeated for the council three years ago; Jule Aultman, with a loan company, new in politics; Henry Schroeder, new in politics; Thomas Crocker, paving promoter, formerly register of deeds; V. F. Kuncel, grocer, new in politics; C. W. Britt, lawyer, new in politics; W. F. Wappich, lawyer, defeated for legislative nomination last fall; Sam W. Scott, clerk in county clerk's office, defeated for council nomination three years ago; Ben Keegan, teamster, new in politics; Thomas W. Hazen, insurance, new in politics; W. B. Christie, retired, member Omaha Board of Education; John G. Willis, pioneer resident, retired; E. E. Zimmerman, insurance, new in politics; Colonel F. P. Hanlon, defeated for nomination for council from fourth ward in last primary; C. J. Westerdahl, mail carrier, new in politics; Sidney W. Smith, retired; Fred W. Hoyer, contractor, former councilman, defeated for nomination for sheriff four years ago; A. J. Donahue, switchman, perpetual candidate for sheriff, member Square Deal club.

On Democratic Side.

Of those of the democratic faith the great majority circulating petitions are Jim, though there are a few Jacks. The Jim candidates are Theodore Spratlan, in city engineering department; Dan J. Connell, plumber, Jim candidate for gubernatorial appointment on excise board; John F. Coffey, plumber, new in politics; Thomas H. Dalley, deputy city clerk, president of the city council twenty years ago, defeated for council nomination three years ago; Joseph J. Mink, Burlington train master, defeated for nomination for councilman from the first ward in the last primary; Otto Siemsen, real estate, former publisher of German paper; John E. Reagan, lawyer, defeated for nomination for state senator last fall; William Neve, former deputy sheriff, captain in Bryan's Third Nebraska regiment; Arthur L. Anderson, city passenger agent for the Milwaukee; Nick Garaszewski, "mayor of Sheely," city blacksmith.

The Jack candidates are W. S. Shoemaker, attorney, member of the state legislature; J. P. Connolly, caretaker at River-view park, member of state legislature, former county commissioner; John F. Brandt, coal dealer, former sheriff; John G. Brandt, secretary Nebraska Savings and Loan, nominee for county controller two years ago and defeated candidate for county treasurer; R. J. Aitchison, coal dealer, leader of the Jack club; Another democrat who has a petition out is J. H. Hengen, but he is known neither as Jack or Jim.

Others in the Race.

Other candidates with petitions, but with the party affiliation not given, are A. Schramm, J. W. Schane, J. W. Rasm, John J. Donovan, Warren L. Hamilton, E. H. Larson, Charles Anderson, Ed Brooks and J. A. Davis. Many of those who are circulating petitions are candidates before the primary, but their names were not placed upon the primary ballot for the reason that the new charter, which makes the excise board an elective body, had not as yet passed. These are W. J. Hunter, Dan J. Connell, Henry Schroeder, Thomas H. Dalley, John F. Coffey, John G. Brandt, C. E. Roberts, Sam W. Scott, John Power, J. P. Connolly, John E. Reagan, William Neve, W. S. Shoemaker and Sidney W. Smith. Three of those who filed a month ago but who are not circulating petitions are W. I. Kierstead, August Myers and Matthew E. Muxen.

Charles Karbach, a member of the present board, and Julius Meyer are the only candidates who have filed with their petitions. Mr. Karbach is a republican and Mr. Meyer is a Democrat.

WOMAN SERVES OUT TIME

Shoplifter Sings in Jail to the Amount of Fifty Dollars Fine.

Anna Kroon breathed the balmy air of Omaha and freedom Monday morning, having served out a fine of $50 and costs for shoplifting. Her companion, Mrs. Mary Russell, was released Saturday. Her fine had been worked out and her husband appeared to pay the costs.

The two women worked a shoe box game at the Brandeis store early in March. About the middle of the month they expected friends from their home in Pacific Junction, Ia., to pay their fines, and the sheriff of Mills county, hearing of this, waited one day here expecting to re-arrest them on an Iowa charge. The friends did not appear, however.

Missouri River Jobbers Have Their Case Heard

Rate Controversy is On in Omaha Before Interstate Commerce Commissioner Examiner.

J. S. Bennett of Washington, D. C., special examiner for the Interstate Commerce commission, is hearing the evidence in the case of the Missouri River Wholesalers' association against the several railway companies relative to the recent order of the Interstate Commerce commission reducing freight rates on interstate traffic to Missouri river points, particularly to Kansas City, St. Joseph and Omaha.

The only witness examined Monday morning in the United States circuit court in Chicago and secured a temporary injunction restraining the Interstate Commerce commission from carrying the reduced rates into effect.

The testimony on behalf of the protesting railway companies was taken several weeks ago in Chicago. The present hearing is in behalf of the Missouri river wholesalers, and only their side of the case will be presented. The hearing is likely to last two or three days.

The interests of the railway companies are being looked after by Judge W. D. McHugh and C. H. Clark. The Missouri river wholesalers' interests are being cared for by John L. Walter of Omaha, attorney for the association, and he is being assisted by John H. Atwood of Atchison. Lester M. Walter of Washington, D. C., attorney for the Interstate Commerce commission, is representing that body in the hearing. Charles W. Pearson is the official stenographer of the hearing.

Illinois Pupils to Raise Show Corn

Children of Twelve Thousand School Districts Will Patronize National Exposition.

Twelve thousand school districts of Illinois will be asked to plant corn for the National Corn exposition. The request will be made by the state superintendent of schools of the State Board of Agriculture of Illinois.

George Stevenson, assistant secretary of the National Corn association, returned from the east Monday. He met with President Eugene Funk in Bloomington and the plan of the Illinois schools was outlined. The state superintendent will ask the teachers in each school district to urge each boy in the school to plant at least one ear of corn on a plot of ground where it will be his corn and not pointed by a scrub or muddin' ear.

Oldest Amherst Graduate Dead

James L. Batchelder, Father of Mrs. I. W. Carpenter, Near to Century Line.

James L. Batchelder, the oldest graduate of Amherst college, is dead at Chicago. He was the father of Mrs. I. W. Carpenter of Omaha. Mr. Carpenter received word of his death Sunday and left for Chicago.

Mr. Batchelder was about 83 years of age. He was a preacher, teacher, journalist and author and had lived a most active life. He was graduated from Amherst in the class of 1840. Newburyport, Mass., the seat of the old college, was his birthplace.

Jury Gives No Pay for Child's Leg

Cannot Agree and Street Railway Escapes Verdict for Damages.

Eric Anderson lost a verdict against the Omaha & Council Bluffs Street Railway company because the jury could not agree how much he should be awarded. He was suing in behalf of his daughter, Mildred, a child of 4, who lost a leg. One jurymen who stuck for a verdict of $1500 was the chief obstacle, the others wishing to give a larger sum up to as high as $15,000. The case will be tried again.

POOL BALL IS RECOVERED

Ivory Article's Loss Causes Much Annoyance and False Alarms of Theft.

"One pool ball, value $10" was the item over whose theft two men were arrested and charged with passing arsenic in police court Monday. After various arguments had been made with the intention of proving the men had deliberately fished the ivory sphere and had played "catch" with it in two cities for several days, the prisoners were discharged.

They were J. F. Smith and J. W. Stringer, and it developed that they had had the ball in question, but had come to possess it unknowingly. John Sturzel, who conducted the pool hall at 24 South Fourteenth street, was the complainant. He is now happy in the possession of the lost ball.

RUSH LEADS HASKELL TRIAL

Omaha Lawyer Chief Prosecutor if Case Goes On.

NOW DOWN IN OKLAHOMA

If He Succeeds in Placing the Governor on Trial He Will Be the Government's Principal Counsel.

Special Assistant Attorney General Rush is in Tulsa, Okl., to argue against the motion to quash the indictment found against Governor Haskell in connection with the alleged Creek townsite and land frauds. The case is being argued today. Should the indictment stand Mr. Rush will be engaged as the chief counsel for the government in the trial of the case against Governor Haskell. The date for the trial is yet in the indefinite future.

Rush Under Fire at Haskell Case.

TULSA, Okl., April 5.—Governor Charles N. Haskell and six other prominent Oklahomans, under indictment for alleged fraud in the Muskogee town lot cases, appeared in the United States circuit court here today ready for trial. Judge John N. Marshall of Utah, the special judge assigned to try the cases, was on hand, and there was present in court, besides the well known defendants, one of the strongest arrays of counsel probably that was ever interested in a case in an Oklahoma court.

The program called first for disposition of the motion to quash, filed at Muskogee on March 14 by the defendants, and in which sensational allegations were made. The motion charged misconduct upon the part of the special assistant attorney general, Sylvester Rush of Oklahoma, who conducted the grand jury investigations at Muskogee in February that resulted in the indictment being returned. It was alleged that government secret service operations gave hearsay testimony before the grand jury, that important testimony was suppressed, that the governor denied the jury's request for certain testimony, that witnesses were coerced and held in subject, and that Attorney Rush told the jury that indictments should be returned for the reason that the government wanted it done.

Attorney Rush, in an interview recently, denied the truth of the defendants' allegations, and he was on hand in court today to represent the government and to deny these charges.

TRADE MEETINGS BRING MORE BUYERS HERE THAN YEAR AGO

With Five Days More of Period Number Now is One-Fourth Larger.

With five days more for merchants to come to Omaha and buy goods while attending the meetings of the Manufacturers and Jobbers' association, the number who have visited Omaha this spring already exceeds those who came last spring by 25 per cent.

Buying has also been heavier. The paying of railroad fares by Omaha wholesalers has made the spring and fall excursions popular and buyers come from points further distant than in the past. While the spring excursions will cease April 10, plans are already being made for the fall excursions and merchants' meetings. They will be conducted on the same plan—the Omahans paying the railroad fare of one member from each firm.

During the summer a campaign will be started to increase the membership of the Manufacturers and Jobbers' association. It is thought over 500 new members can be secured. This number will add greatly to the strength of the organization and consequently will give the merchants many more privileges and advantages.
