NO NEBRASKA-AMES GAME

Cornhuskers and Aggies Fail to Agree on Foot Ball Date.

ATHLETIC BOARD IS DECIDED

Objections Raised to Each Date Proposed for Contest—Relations Still Friendly—Perry Made Captain.

LINCOLN, April 6.—(Special.)—Nebraska and Ames will not play foot ball next fall. The Nebraska athletic board this afternoon voted to drop the Iowa Aggies from the Cornhusker schedule for 1909 and to accept the list of games arranged by Manager Eager. The game with Denver university for November 13 was approved. This contest was scheduled by Manager Eager in place of the annual Ames game.

The break between Ames and Nebraska resulted from the failure of the two schools to agree on a satisfactory date for a foot ball game next season. The Aggies accepted and then turned down one date offered them by the Cornhuskers and this action left only one date on the Nebraska schedule that would allow a meeting between the two schools. This day was November 20, but Ames is booked to meet Drake on November 25 and feared to play the Cornhuskers so near the Thanksgiving day game. The Cornhuskers could not get the Aggies to accept that date.

Ames was willing to play Nebraska on October 25, but that date is only one week before Kansas is scheduled to come to Lincoln for a battle and the Cornhusker management would not consent to run the risk of losing the Jayhawk game by having a hard struggle the Saturday before that contest.

The dropping of Ames from the Cornhusker foot ball schedule next fall does not mean that the two institutions have severed athletic relations. They will still continue to meet in the other branches of sport this year, playing base ball this spring and basket ball next winter. In 1910 the Nebraska board hopes to be able to arrange a foot ball game with the Aggies.

Regret at Decision. Here at the local state institution the news of the failure of the two schools to agree on a date for next fall has been received with deep regret, for the Aggies are looked upon as natural rivals of Nebraska and are an eleven the local students like to see in action. Many of the students who saw the game between Nebraska and Ames at Omaha last fall had hoped to have the same exhibition here next fall. The report that the two teams will not play foot ball with each other at all next fall has been a disappointment. An effort will be made in 1910 to sign up a contract with Ames for an annual game in Omaha for five years.

At the meeting of the Cornhusker athletic board this afternoon H. O. Perry was unanimously elected captain of the basket ball team for next season. He has played on the Cornhusker five for the last two seasons at left guard and is one of the best players that has been at the local institution for several seasons.

At the same meeting the board approved the report of the committee recommending the establishment of a training table for the track team. The new table will be started the last week in April and will run until after the Missouri valley conference meet on June 5. Ten men will be sent to the table for the first week and after that the number will be increased to sixteen or seventeen.

Completed Foot Ball Schedule. The completed Nebraska foot ball schedule for next fall is as follows: October 2—South Dakota at Lincoln. October 9—Kansas at Lincoln. October 16—Minnesota at Omaha. October 23—Iowa at Lincoln. October 30—No game. November 6—Kansas at Lincoln. November 13—Denver at Denver. November 20—None at Lincoln. November 27—Haskell at Lincoln.

The schedules of all the Missouri valley conference schools this season are limited to eight games by a rule recently passed by the "Big Seven."

COLLINS TWITS PA ON RAIN

Old Boston Star and Millers Come in the Wet.

READY FOR THREE GAMES HERE

Ray Patterson, the Once Famous Boy Wonder is Member of Mike Cantillon's Minneapolis Aggregation.

"This is a nice way you have of treating visitors," said Jimmy Collins to Pa Bourke as the old Boston star, at the head of the Minneapolis American association team, got off the Rock Island train at Union station in the rain.

"Here we come all this way to play you fellows and you do this to us," and Collins gave a sweeping gesture to the clouds.

The old favorite, to whom Boston once knocked its head on the ground, is as full of his Irish wit as ever. He looks a wee bit stout, but says that before the season is far gone he will have some of the flesh taken off.

"I feel fine and am going to play some good ball, I hope, this year," said James. "We have a splendid team and expect to make our friends, the enemy, go for that pennant."

Besides the old Boston favorite the Millers have another one-time idol. He is Ray Patterson, formerly of the White Sox, the man who was so long known as the "boy wonder." Patterson's decline from major league form was one of the disappointments of base ball. He did grant work for a time and his friends thought he ought to have had a much longer time at the top. But he believes he will be good for some tail pitching this year.

Mike Cantillon, owner of the Millers, at least present, insists he will not go on the bench this season, or interfere with Jimmy Collins' management. He expects to give the old-timer full sway and put it up to him to make a showing, but Mike will stand back of his manager and help him all he can.

The Millers came for three games—Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday—with Omaha at Vinton street park, and if the rain lets up will play the other two. The game today is called for 3:30 p. m.

Fire Destroys Old Beef House

Building Being Torn Down, but Worth Ten Thousand to Packing Company, Total Loss.

Fire totally destroyed the old beef house of the Omaha Packing company's plant at Thirty-second and F streets Monday afternoon. The building was empty and had not been used since the big fire last year. Manager Culver and Superintendent Colvin thought the loss would be $10,000. The cause of the fire was undetermined.

The only value the building had was for the salvage lumber it contained. It was a story frame building 125 by 150 feet. It was used for the beef killing department and contained the chill rooms. All the internal wood-work was in a good condition.

The fire started in the northeast corner of the building and was discovered well under way about 3:40 p. m. The fire departments of the Omaha plant, the Cudahy plant and the city responded promptly. In the meantime the strong northeast wind had given the flames an impetus, which could not be checked short of total loss.

It was not easy to keep the fire within the limits of the building as the stables joined the beef house on the south.

The flames subsided about 7 p. m. in the evening, but the ruins were deluged with water all night. The wreckage is still smoldering and the clouds of smoke and steam make it appear that the fire was more serious than it was.

Manager Culver said a force of men had been working at the plant part of the day and that possibly some of them had carelessly lighted a match or dropped a cigarette. They were at work getting out salvage lumber, as the plant was being gradually reduced.

Storm Stops Airship Trial

Count Zeppelin Attempts to Make Twenty-Four-Hour Trip, but is Forced to Descend.

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, April 6.—The twenty-four hour endurance trip of Count Zeppelin's airship, which started from here this morning ended in failure, owing to unfavorable weather. The airship ascended at 9:15 a. m. and the voyage was abandoned at 12:35 this evening. During this time the airship descended twice to the surface of the lake, to take in water for ballast.

Major Spertling, who acted as pilot in place of Count Zeppelin, finally decided to return to the hall to refill the balloon with gas. The destination of the trip, which was made purely for military purposes, was kept secret. The balloon traveled as far as Biberach, and then returned to the lake, where it engaged for a long time in maneuvers. A strong easterly wind sprang up early in the evening, against which it was impossible to make headway, although the motors were working well. Major Spertling feared that he might be driven into the mountains, and he decided to seek shelter in the floating hall and abandon the idea of refilling.

Macon Lawyer Third Victim of Assassin

Attorney Interested in Famous Dodge Land Case in Georgia Meets Violent Death.

MCRAE, Ga., April 6.—That Pope Hill, a prominent attorney of Macon is the third victim of an assassin in the now celebrated Dodge case is the belief of the authorities of this county. The coroner's jury after a careful examination declared this afternoon that Hill was "murdered by parties unknown." Hill was found dead in the office of a local attorney at 7 a. m. today, a bullet in his brain and a revolver with one chamber discharged grasped in his right hand. The condition of the office indicated a desperate struggle. The stove had been turned over, the coal scuttle was crushed and the furniture was broken. On the floor lay an unfinished court motion in the Dodge case, drafted by the dead lawyer, which he came here to file today. Hill arrived at noon Sunday and went into a friend's law office to work on the case. A little while later he went to the home of the proprietor of a hardware store and said he had received some threatening letters and wanted a revolver. He was so insistent that the hardware man opened the store and sold Hill the revolver which was found clasped in his hand.

Today Hill returned to the office and was not seen again alive.

When his body was searched a note addressed to him at Macon was found. It was written in a childish hand and said: "Pope Hill: The next time you interfere with our settlement you will be broke."

Instead of a signature there was rudely drawn a skull and cross bones. The authorities believe that Hill received other threats after he arrived here on Sunday, which impelled him to buy the revolver.

The trail of deaths and injuries in the Dodge case began in 1901. In that year Captain John C. Forsythe, who represented the N. W. Dodge estate, was assassinated. After a six week's trial five men were sent to prison for life for the crime. Soon after this, Lucius Williams, one of the claimant's attorneys was killed and in a few weeks the entire country was in a state of great excitement. Since then there have been numerous encounters growing out of the case, in which the participants received severe gunshot or stab wounds. The Dodge lands cover some 400,000 acres in Pulaski, Dodge, Telfar and Lawrence counties. The titles rested on ancient land grants and since 1882 there has been continuous litigation over their ownership.

Hill was forty years old, was a member of the law firm of Harris and Harris and leaves a wife and one child.

ROADS WIN KENTUCKY CASE

Supreme Court Restrains Commission from Putting Low Rates into Force.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—The injunction suit of the Kentucky railroads in which the roads asked that the railroad commission of Kentucky be restrained from carrying into effect the order of the commission of June 20, 1904, fixing rates on intrastate business in that state was decided today by the supreme court of the United States in favor of the roads.

The case came to the supreme court on appeal by the commission from a decision by Judge Cochran of the eastern district of Kentucky, in which he held to be unconstitutional the Kentucky statute known as the McChord law, and issued an order perpetually enjoining the enforcement of the law. The lower court was affirmed, but the supreme court, holding that the statute did not effect the wholesale creation of schedules, avoided dealing with the constitutional questions involved. The decision was announced by Justice Peckham.

NO NEBRASKA-AMES GAME

Cornhuskers and Aggies Fail to Agree on Foot Ball Date.

ATHLETIC BOARD IS DECIDED

Objections Raised to Each Date Proposed for Contest—Relations Still Friendly—Perry Made Captain.

LINCOLN, April 6.—(Special.)—Nebraska and Ames will not play foot ball next fall. The Nebraska athletic board this afternoon voted to drop the Iowa Aggies from the Cornhusker schedule for 1909 and to accept the list of games arranged by Manager Eager. The game with Denver university for November 13 was approved. This contest was scheduled by Manager Eager in place of the annual Ames game.

The dropping of Ames from the Cornhusker foot ball schedule next fall does not mean that the two institutions have severed athletic relations. They will still continue to meet in the other branches of sport this year, playing base ball this spring and basket ball next winter. In 1910 the Nebraska board hopes to be able to arrange a foot ball game with the Aggies.

Regret at Decision. Here at the local state institution the news of the failure of the two schools to agree on a date for next fall has been received with deep regret, for the Aggies are looked upon as natural rivals of Nebraska and are an eleven the local students like to see in action. Many of the students who saw the game between Nebraska and Ames at Omaha last fall had hoped to have the same exhibition here next fall. The report that the two teams will not play foot ball with each other at all next fall has been a disappointment. An effort will be made in 1910 to sign up a contract with Ames for an annual game in Omaha for five years.

At the meeting of the Cornhusker athletic board this afternoon H. O. Perry was unanimously elected captain of the basket ball team for next season. He has played on the Cornhusker five for the last two seasons at left guard and is one of the best players that has been at the local institution for several seasons.

At the same meeting the board approved the report of the committee recommending the establishment of a training table for the track team. The new table will be started the last week in April and will run until after the Missouri valley conference meet on June 5. Ten men will be sent to the table for the first week and after that the number will be increased to sixteen or seventeen.

Completed Foot Ball Schedule. The completed Nebraska foot ball schedule for next fall is as follows: October 2—South Dakota at Lincoln. October 9—Kansas at Lincoln. October 16—Minnesota at Omaha. October 23—Iowa at Lincoln. October 30—No game. November 6—Kansas at Lincoln. November 13—Denver at Denver. November 20—None at Lincoln. November 27—Haskell at Lincoln.

The schedules of all the Missouri valley conference schools this season are limited to eight games by a rule recently passed by the "Big Seven."
