COVERNOR USES THE KNIFE

Cuts Out Provision for Experimental Farms From Big Bill, Indeterminate Sentence of Criminals Not Favored and Bill Vetoed--Assessment Board Soon To Begin.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, April 7 .- (Special Telegram.) By his veto of items for $15,000 and $5,000 for experimental stations in western Nebraska, Governor Shallenberger has probably prevented that section of the state m securing an experimental farm for wo years and incidentally he drove another knife into the vitals of a democratic platform piedge? The governor cut these items out of the Poynter.

general appropriation bill under the impression that the money has already been appropriated out of the university one mill layy. Officials of the university hold that letter to county assessors: the proceeds of the one mill levy cannot be used for the establishment of the experimental farms. The governor finished his work on all the bills this afternoon iate, among the number signed was the pure food bill, which provides that the net weight must be stamped, on packages of food, other than preserves, meats and anned corn and goods put up by the retailer. He vetoed S. F. 174, the irrigation reservoir bill and S. F. 335 the indeterminate sentence bill.

Work on Railroad Yards, Work is to begin within the next few days by the Burlington on its new railroad yards. They will, when completed, run from First and J streets west for a trifle over three miles, and will give the Burlingion greatly increased facilities for handling cars and making quick exchanges. Work is expected to be completed within six months after starting.

The yards are to be finished in single homp, double yard style, and will contain twenty-one classification tracks. They will have a capacity of between 6,00 and 8,000

At present the only yards of this nature within the vicinity of Lincoln are situated at Galesburg. The new yards will place Lincoln on a par with the other towns slong the Burlington route near Chicago. The principal asset of the new yards will be to greatly increase the speed with which train crews can make up and dispatch both freight and passenger trains. Railroads File Reports.

Before vetoing this act, I have investiga-ted its provisions very carefully. Among a number of reasons for my action are a number of reasons for my action are the following:

First. One of the provisions of this act is to create a prison board. This board is to have jurisdiction of hearings on all applications for paroles of persons imprisoned in the penitentiary. No provision is made for the board to conduct the hearings on applications for pardons, reprieves or communications. If the legislature can lawfully create a prison board to conduct hearings on applications for paroles, I can see no reason why the same board could not be empowered to conduct hearings on applications for pardons, reprieves and commutations. The hearings on applications are so intimately connected with the matter of issuing puroles, that it would be impossible to separate them and have one class of cases heard by the board and be impossible to separate them and have one class of cases heard by the board and the other heard by the governor.

The principal reason urged for the creation of this board is that it will relieve the governor of the necessity of conducting the hearings on applications for parole. The matter of hearing applications for paroles takes less time than the applications for paroles takes less time than the applications, so the governor would not be relieved of the important part of this w ork.

Second. On April 5, 1909, I approved the Snyder law, House Roll No. 514. That law, which passed with an emergency clause, repealed and amended Sections 596 and 579 of the criminal code. Under the provisions of that law, the Governor will not be required to a pend so much time in conbe required to a pend so much time in conducting hearings as he has heretofore. The Snyder law is now in effect. The present act attempt to repeal Section 570 of the criminal code. This section as it now exists is different than it was when the present Act was introduced and passed by the legislature. It hardly think that the and doubt as to the manner of securing paroles.

Third. This Act creates two new officials with a salary of ten dollars ($10.00) per day. It does not fix the maximum salary that can be drawn by these officials. Business experience has demonstrated the necessity of fixing a maximum salary of all public officials. In my message to the legislature, I strongly urged that all officials be placed upon a salary basis. While this Act provides for payment of salaries, no appropriation has been made to defray the expense arising under its provisions.
