Cash Situation is Necessarily Strong. but the Offerings Are Taken Slowly on Extremely High Asking.

OMAHA, April 8, 1909.

Wheat caused more excrement on the local market today. No. 2 hard went to $1.32, which is 2 cents higher than yesterday and one car of it sold at that figure. No. 2 hard went to $1.32, it cents above yeaterday and made the record.

All wheat values were very erratic and the fluctuations were rapid, while corn sagged under heavy pressure. Excitement ruled throughout the market session and new high prices were reached by the buying done mainly through public trading, which is without precedent during the present crop. The cash situation is of necessity strong, but offerings are taken alowly at the extremely high asking.

Wheat was very nervous, with changes being quick under extreme excitement on the flotr. Cables continue to be strong and support from the bull leaders accomplished new high records. May wheat opened at $1.30% and closed at $1.19%.

Corn was dull and inactive, prices rulling lower for cash offerings. The option is neglected and any pressure developed a sagging market. Demand is not good and receipts are gradually falling off. May corn opened at $25,0 and closed at $25,00 bushels, against receipts last year of 255,000 bushels, against receipts last year of 255,000 bushels and shipments 364,000 bushels, against receipts were 267,000 bushels and shipments of 374,000 bushels. Clearances were none of corn, none of oats, and wheat and flour equal to $7,000 bushels.

Features of the Trading and Closing Prices on Board of Trade.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS

CHICAGO, April 8.-Wheat prices con Cricago, April 8.—Wheat prices com-tinued their record-breaking advance on the Board of Trade today, the May delivery soaring to $1.25% and the July to $1.12% or 1.12% per bu. The advance, however, was not maintained, the market closing irregu-lar, with prices % lower to 1% higher, compared with yesterday's final quotations. Corn and oats closed weak and provisions firm.

There was no such strain in the wheat trade today as noted on the previous session, but at times, however, the market displayed considerable activity. Instead of an upward jump of a cent or two on initial transactions, there was a calmer feeling today and the market showed some signs of a reaction from the extreme buoyancy of the last few days. Opening prices were a shade to his below the final figures of yesterday. May being at $1.560.254, and July at $1.11\(\frac{1}{2}\) 11\(\frac{1}{2}\). Early trading was of an ordinary character and prices worked at trifle lower owing to quite general selling and absence of any substantial support. The big volume of business was in the July delivery, which is now regarded by many as an old crop month. After May had sold off to $1.24\(\frac{1}{2}\) and July to $1.11\(\frac{1}{2}\). However, the market of the Day on Various Commodities.

NEW YORK, April 8.—PLOUR—Receipts, 20.98 bbis.; exports, 1.25 bbis. Market firmer, with demand quiet. Minnesota winter straights, $5.50\(\text{0}\). 50\(\text{0}\). 50 the July delivery, which is now regarded by many as an old crop month. After May had sold off to $1.2% and July to $1.11%, sentiment suddenly became bullish again. Within the space of three minutes July had advanced to $1.12%, £1.12% and May to $1.26%. The upturn was partly due to a prediction made by the leading bull that this country will not raise $60,000.000 bushels of winter wheat this season. The buyling furore subsided as quickly as it had developed and prices soon reacted again on realizing sales. Distant deliveries, however, were relatively much stronger than the May or July options and showed only slight declines from the extreme high points. The warket closed somewhat unsettled, the May and July deliveries being lower and September and December higher. Compared with the previous close. Final quotations on May were $1.24%. July closed at $1.11%, $1.11%.

Sharp declines occurred in corn prices owing to heavy realizing sales, particularly of the July delivery. One leading concern is said to have sold more than 1,000,000 bu. of that option during the day. May sold between 66c and 67c, and July between 66c and 67c, and July was down $1.25% c at $55c.

Outs experienced a further break in prices, chiefly in sympathy with the slump in corn. At the close wire unchanged to %c lower, compared with the previous close. Final quotations on May were at $1.000.000 bu. of that option during the day may sold between 66c and 67c, and July was down $1.25% c at $55c.

USUAL MARKET LEADERS QUIET

Traders Show Disposition to Curtail Operations Because of Approach of Three-Day Holiday -- Bonds Are Firm.

NEW YORK, April 8.- The day's pro-N.E.W. YORK, April S.—The day's proproceedings in the stock market exemplified the adage that "every dog has his day," the stock exchange's special adaptation of the term "dog" making the old saying apt. The market gave every evidence at an early stage of a diaposition to curtail operations on the eve of the three days' rocess. The occasion was selzed, however, by numerous pools to rush into prominece innumerable favorities seized, however, by numerous pools to rush into prominece, innumerable favorites and to push them upwards by violent advances. This sudden advance of strength was accompanied by nothing in the news to account for it, either of a general tenor or of special application to the stocks affected.

There was little

There was little even in the way of There was little even in the way of rumors to explain the appearance in the spotlight of stocks, which have stood in the background during all the period of activity of stocks of larger issues and more representative character. Some others have not appeared on the tape at all for days or weeks past. One of the day's news reports was that the Hughes commission to investigate exchanges had completed its report and that no recommendation of legislation to restrict trading in stock exchange would be included. Whether the unostentatious appearance of the anthe background during all the period of activity of stocks of larger lesues and Mebison gen. 4s. I more representative character. Some others have not appeared on the tape at all for days or weeks past. One of the day's news reports was that the Hughes commission to investigate exchanges had completed its report and that no recommendation of legislation to restrict trading in stock exchange would be included. Whether the unostentatious appearance of the announcement and the astonishing variety of the day's movement in obscure and pooled stocks had any connection may afford an interesting subject for conjecture. It was the subject of remark during the sessions of the commission that pool activities were under discreet restraint and sensational price movements were a rarity. The substantial body of the stock list was quiescent today, but firm. Each ebuilition like that of today is accepted usually as a sign of degeneration in the speculation and a harbinger of the end of a movement. The market showed its recent disposition to ignore bad signs, however, and there was no urgent pressure to get out of stock-holdings over the holdings interval. The no urgent pressure to get out of stock-holdings over the holday interval. The stock market kept one eye on the wheat market and saw evidence there to confirm the belief that the government crop report did not promise well for the winter wheat crop. The reassembling of the conference between the anthracite operators and the representatives of the miners were hopey regarded as promising a settlement coalers continued to benefit from this

The estimates of the currency movement indicated that the money supplies would be increased by the time stock market operations are resumed on Monday next. Recipts on balance from the interior thus far this week are reported to have reached as large an amount as the total from that source for all of last week. Money therefore, continuing exceedingly easy. Discounts declined in tone, but rose in Paris and the London exchange at Paris also declined. Taken in connection with any further advance in Sterling exchange here, this might lead to resumption of goid exports from New York to Paris. Such a prospect would be viewed with entire equantity by the New York financial world. A good deal of encouragement is felt over the marked improvement in the government finances, largely by reason of the expansion in customs receipts. The United States treasury, in consequence finds lixelf with such resources that an early issue of government bonds is considered to be an unlikely necessity. The profit-taking sales at the end of the day subtracted about as much from prices of the principal stocks as had been added by the advance, leaving the only notable change of the day in the class of stock, which made the feature of the day.

Bonds were firm. Total sales, par value, $7,706,000. United States bonds unchanged on eali for the week.

> There was no very great change in the market on cows and helfers, still what change there was was on the side of easier values. To call the market steady to a little lower would best describe the situation.

Stockers and feeders seemed to be in pretty good demand, at least, the desirable kinds. Buyers all seemed to want a few, and as the supply was not excessive, the kinds. Buyers all seemed to want a few, and as the supply was not excessive, the greater part of the offerings changed hands quite early in the morning.

bidding prices that were generally 5 but the salesmen were not disposed to take off very much and the trade in consequence was dull. Still a few loads changed hands was dull. Still a few loads changed hands here and there wherever a salesman thought that he was bid about steady prices. When the trade became general the market was really not very much different from yesterday, at the most only a shade lower on an average. As a matter of fact, there were here and there loads that looked fully 5c lower, but to offset them there were others that were fully steady. The market was at no time very active, but still by 11 o' clock in the morning pretty much everything had changed hands. The big bulk of the hogs sold at $6.5097.00, and cn up as high as $7.15 for the best heavy. the best heavy.

slow and dull and it was very apparent that buyers were indifferent. Still they evidently wanted a few good killers and, as the receipts were not excessive, the more desirable of the offerings changed hands in fair season. Choice Colorado lambs sold up as high as $8.00, and some of the same Mexicans that brought $8.00 a week ago sold at $7.90 today.

The sheep market was not as good as the lamb market, for, while lamba were slow, they were about steady. On the other hand, sheep were slow and in a good many cases as much as 16c lower. Buyers were indifferent and it took a good deal of work on the part of salesmen to dispose of holdings. A bunch of clipped wethers sold at $5.50. Some of the same old wethers sold at $5.50 on Tuesday went at $5.35 ttday. Ewes at $5.70 today were at least 10c lower than the stame stuff brought yesterday, after making allowance for any difference in quality there may have been while it was slow work, the receipts were pretty much disposed of by 10 o'clock in the morning.

Wool Market.

BOSTON. Mass., April 8.—WOOL.—Business in the local wool market continues quiet, with new fresh transfers and those only of small lots. Operations in foreign wool have fallen off and the market is eagerly awaiting the new domestic clip. Advices from the west show that the bidding for wool on the sheeps' backs continues. as high as 25c has been paid in Montana for choice lots. The shearing in Nevada has begun and with favorable weather the work will soon commence in other western states. Scoured wools hold firm and are in demand.
