Prof. John L. Coulter of the economist department of the State university, Thursday gave his class a lesson on egg buying, incidentally upsetting the time-honored theory of the housewife. If Missouri Pacific Cancels Them it Will Override the Wishes of Many Patrons on Its Line.

Stock feeders are to join the Omaha Commercial club, Raiston Townsite company, Howard Stove Manufacturing company and the Raiston Car Shops in opposition to the cancellation of switching charges by the Missouri Pacific on the Belt line, south and west of South Omaha.

switching rates. Stock feeders call attention also to the fact that two railroads are switching corn for $3 to $5 per car and charging them $12 to $14 per car for hauling hay. One or two shippers are paying $12 per car for switching two miles, while corn is switched six and seven miles for $4.50 an $5. A large amount of alfalfa and wild hay is being shipped into Omaha. Stockmen say it moves from points as far as 140 miles for 9 cents per hundred pounds, then gets into the Omaha yards and the railreads get 4% cents per hundred pounds, in most instances, for switching it two or three miles, or half the rate from the point where it was shipped.
