EXECUTIVE TO CONFIRM EXPERTS TO CARRY OUT PHYSICAL VALUATION BILL.

RESULT OF LITTLE PROVISIO

Appointees Will Have Abundant Opportunity to Tell What a Good Senator Shallenberger Will Make.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LINCOLN, April 11.—(Special.)—Nebraska will be treated to a most interesting spectacle the first of the week of three railway commissioners, elected by the people for a term of six years each, marching into the office of the governor and requesting him to permit them to name certain persons as experts to carry out the provisions of the physical valuation bill.

This is the result of a little proviso put in the bill by a democratic legislator that the experts and helpers shall be appointed with the consent of the governor.

The proviso was put in there for the purpose of giving the governor a little more power in distribution among the great, hungry army of applicants.

Under the terms of the bill the governor will be able to get quite a big cut in his machine for those who are appointed for this work, will necessarily have to spend a good deal of the time over the state and they will have plenty of opportunity to tell the people what a good senator Shallenberger will make.

Fight not Settled at Primary.
The republican primary to be held in Lincoln, April 11, promises to be a waste of time and money, as several candidates will have their names on the election ballot regardless of the outcome of the primary.

Don Love and W. H. Utter have submitted their names to the voters at the primary for mayor, while John B. Wright will be a candidate regardless of who wins the republican nomination.

This is the first time Lincoln has had an opportunity to hold a non-partisan election, but it remains to be seen whether the shouting loudest for no politics in city affairs, to get up the primary for the selection of candidates. Insofar as the election ballot is concerned, there will be no party designation as all the candidates will have to go on the ballot by petition, so that the primary will be a general election receiving the highest vote will be to advertise him as the choice of the majority of the republicans voting.

Political affairs in Lincoln were tangled up by the action of a self-constituted committee attempting to work through legislation a charter which would give many business men did not want. This charter provided for a commission of five persons to manage the affairs of the city, but inasmuch as it was backed by the biggest corporations in the city the legislature refused to pass it. In the meantime the backers of the charter for the city, a primary election and the time had gone by before they waked up. Then the republican committee concluded to manage a little primary for the benefit of the candidates who desired to run as republicans.

In the meantime lawyers say there are very grave questions as to whether Lincoln can have any election this spring.

Wind Too Much for Easter Hats

Blows Gale All Day and Makes the Womenfolk Made All Over.

Those Easter hats, what a time they had of it yesterday!

If Colonel Welsh ever had a standing with the women folk, he lost it when he shined up that brass weather vane for Easter. He could not have done worse.

What chance did one of those coal-scuttles, or washtub hats have against that hurricane? What milliner in the land could have anchored those vegetable, fruit, feathers or plumes against such a wind?

Preposterous! "Here I've spent three weeks of my time and four of my husband's salary getting this hat and this suit for Easter and look at the weather! Horrid! Why, I can't walk against that wind, let alone wear my new Easter outfit. The wind would get in under this hat and lift it and me off the ground. What is the use, anyway?"

This was a common soliloquy Sunday. And, oh, how Forecaster Welsh did catch it!

Throughout Saturday night the wind kept up an incessant howl and when Sunday morning dawned it seemed to gain momentum all day, making life outside very near intolerable.

THIRTY PEOPLE INJURED IN TROLLEY COLLISION

Switch Falls to Work in Kansas City, Kan., and Crowded Cars Come Together.

KANSAS CITY, April 11.—Thirty people were hurt, some of them seriously when two crowded trolley cars collided at Sixth street and Quindaro avenue in Kansas City, Kan., last night. The most seriously injured were:

Mrs. Mary Calvin, back wrenched. Mrs. William Stanley and 9-months-old child cut and bruised. Walter Barker, infernal injuries. Grover Stearns, back bruised.

All the injured live in Kansas City. The accident was caused by a switch falling, which allowed the trolley to turn into another car on a cross street. Passengers in both cars, numbering 100 were thrown from their seats and many were trampled in the rush for the doors. Others were cut by flying glass and splinters, many receiving minor injuries.

HOSEY KICK GOES TO TAFT

President Hears Protest of Chicago Women and Defense Manufacturers.

WASHINGTON, April 11.—President Taft today heard both sides of the hosey kick question. A delegation from the League of Cook County Women's clubs of Chicago called on him and presented a protest against the increased duty on gloves and hosey. The delegation included Mrs. Nathan B. Lewis, Mrs. E. M. Henderson, Mrs. Freeman E. Brown and Mrs. Helen Morris.

They were introduced by Representative Wilson. The delegation will also present its protest to the senate finance committee.

The other side of the question was taken by the president by a delegation of hosey manufacturers from southeastern Pennsylvania, which declared that the rate of duty provided in the Dingley bill was insufficient.

Services Over Body of Novelist

Funeral of F. Marion Crawford Will Be Held Monday and Will Be Private.

SORRENTO, April 11.—The funeral of F. Marion Crawford, the American novelist, who died here Saturday, will not be held until Monday for the reason that the church does not permit the celebration of the funeral mass during holy week. The services which will be private and very simple, will be held in the Capuchin church to which Mr. Crawford made generous contributions. Mr. Crawford, who was deeply religious, received all the comforts of religion during his last days. The body will be placed temporarily in the chapel of the little cemetery of Sant'Angelo until the will has been examined and it is learned whether Mr. Crawford expressed in it any wishes regarding his last resting place.

Mr. Crawford's physician said today that his patient had died of sudden cardiac paralysis, following extreme weakness resulting from pleurisy. He suffered greatly from asthma, but seemed to find relief in oxygen. Up to the last moment Mr. Crawford wanted to put his paper in order, and almost his last act was to read the manuscript of an unfinished romance, "The White Sister," to a member of his family.

He leaves forty completed works and he has gathered material for his masterpiece, an exhaustive account of Medieval Communism of Italy, four volumes of which have been completed.

The company has an additional 100,000 acres for sale and is offering a very large sum.

DANGEROUS FAKES.

Tricks to Introduce Alum Baking Powders Which Should Be Exposed.

There has recently been attempted at some of our grocery stores, and also at dwelling houses, by agents who are trying to sell alum baking powders, what the exhibitors call a baking powder test.

They pretend to show by some boiling test that pure cream of tartar baking powder contains something which every woman of intelligence knows they do not.

It does not need a chemist to expose this trick. Cream of tartar, which is the chief constituent of the best and most wholesome baking powder, is originally a clear, white crystal. This is ground into a fine, creamy flour, in which form, mixed with baking powder, it is present in the baking powder. Cream of tartar, when mixed with water and boiled simply returns to its crystalline form, and that is all there is to the so-called test.

The matter of special interest to the public is to know what these people offer in place of cream of tartar powders of well known purity and established reputation against which these aluminous powders contend. They are offering a baking powder which official analyses have repeatedly shown is made from alum, a drug so well recognized by physicians and scientists as injurious to health that in many countries its use is entirely prohibited. Its cheap and inferior nature and the ingredients of this powder that it costs to make less than 3 cents a pound. No prudent housewife will knowingly put such stuff as this into her food.

Announcements of the Theaters.

"The Clansman's" fourth season has been marked by even greater enthusiasm than it aroused before. Crowded audiences have been the rule everywhere and thousands have been turned away for lack of room. There is a remarkable quality in this play which commands the public interest to increase with every successive presentation. It is the most wonderful "repeater" in theatrical history. The only explanation is that "The Clansman" gets closer to the hearts of the people than any other offering presented for many years. It is a distillation of their life, bone of their bone, and sinew of their sinew. As long as the deathless deeds of our heroes, Ku Klux Klan, are in glorious remembrance, "The Clansman" will remain the epic of the American people. This is the attraction at Boyd's Thursday, Friday and Saturday and Saturday matinee.

SAINTS SUSTAIN THE BISHOP

Question of Policies Up at Mormon Conference at Lamoni.

LAMONI, Ia., April 11.—(Special.)—The special order for Saturday in the conference of the Reorganized Church of Latter Day Saints was the consideration of the report of the board of auditors. The special features of the report were taken up separately and discussed, but the debate was so general that only two clauses were disposed of at the time for adjournment for the day.

The questions in issue are mostly those of methods in bookkeeping and in the handling of certain financial matters. The board of auditors and the actions of the body are mainly a justification of the bishop. No charge of mismanagement or incorrectness is made by the auditors, the matter being of importance to the members of the church because the policies of the financial agent are at issue. Sentiment seems to be against equal division and the result of the next two sessions will be watched with much interest.

Last night Elder J. W. Wight of the Twelve Apostles was the speaker. This morning President Joseph Smith preached and a large crowd was in attendance. Vision flickered at Lamoni for Sunday in large number. The weather is uniformly good, though slightly cool, and the saints are having a good time at their meetings and in their associations. At night Elder Gomer Griffiths of the Twelve preached. Overflow meetings have been arranged for all gatherings.
