Redfern Whalebone Corsets

It is quite impossible to find a genuine Whalebone Corset in any make but a Redfern, and when you wear a Redfern you know instantly that the boning is whalebone. It is so pliable, so wearable and withal so yielding, never losing its shape, always holding the figure easily but with decided firmness. A Redfern is designed to build up or rather to reverse the usual thought, the form takes on the corset shape, assuming long, unbroken lines, no curves. The figure is not conscious of the corset at the waist, other than to know how comfortable it is. It is the hips and the back that are shaped in the corset. We can give you a Redfern that "seemeth" made for you, regardless of your size. $2.50 to $15.00 per pair—Security Rubber Button Hose Supporters Attached.

Revenue as to Embarrass the Philippine Government.

"It has had publicity in the United States and it is believed that the contending interests have been reconciled, and as far as schedules are concerned, it should meet with no opposition. For instance, the schedules relating to the introduction of tobacco, Sumatra leaf and sugar are made identical with the pending Payne bill and, therefore, have removed the apprehension that these goods can be imported into the Philippine islands at a less tariff rate and thence into the United States free as the growth and production of the Philippine islands. The proposed revision has the approval of the governor general and government he represents in the Philippine islands." The president's message upon being read in the senate was referred to the committee on Philippines.

Through the efforts of the Denver Chamber of Commerce the War Department has been persuaded to buy 40 acres of land adjacent to Fort Logan, the big military post near that city, and the outlook is that Fort Logan will be made a brigade post. This will make two brigade posts in that locality—Fort D. A. Russell at Cheyenne, Wyo., and Fort Logan, near Denver. The acquisition of additional land for the Fort Logan reservation was made necessary on account of the water question, which had become serious at the fort. With the purchase of additional land valuable water rights, which the post has needed for years, are assured. An inexhaustible supply of water from an established irrigation ditch is included in the purchase.

would result in greater revenue than would the 2 per cent tax on $4000 incomes. Mr. Bailey said he did not introduce his amendment because he desired to tax the incomes of prosperous people rather than to place it upon the backs and upon the appetites of people who at best are doing none-too-well. Mr. Beveridge said the tariff commission idea had been more widely approved by the newspapers of the country than any other proposed legislation and declared it had not been opposed publicly by any one in congress.

THE VASTNESS OF NEW YORK

A City with More Inhabitants than Many of the States

New York City is the metropolis of the Western World. Within its restricted area resides a population exceeding by nearly a million and a quarter the total population of the entire state of Texas. The denseness of New York's population, the volume and extended character of its business transactions, and the magnitude of its amusement, enterprise and society functions, have made hotel life here a necessity. With the greater city, has grown up a new race of public houses. The modern hotels of New York surpass the world in their size, their elegance of appointment, and the character of their service. They supply every want, they even anticipate one's wishes. There is one hotel in New York, with every feature of its construction, its furnishing, its equipment, its management, its cuisine and its service equal to the most famous hotels of the world, which has succeeded in incorporating and retaining the "home atmosphere" in its regime. This hotel is the St. Regis, situated on Fifth Avenue at Fifty-fifth street. With all its luxury and home refinement, it is by no means the highest priced. Splendid single rooms are obtainable for $3 and $4 a day; the same with private bath for $5 a day (or $6 for two people); while for a party, the bathroom and private bath the rates are from $12 a day upward. The restaurant charges are no higher than those of other first class hotels.
