NEW ELEVATOR FOR OMAHA

Union Elevator and Grain Company Buys Plant Here.

LOCAL CAPITAL IS BACK OF IT

Increases the Capacity of Omaha Warehouse More Than Thirty Thousand Bushels—On Great Western Tracks.

The Union Elevator and Grain company is a new firm that will begin business at once on the Omaha market and has bought the elevator of the Nebraska Hay and Grain company in Council Bluffs, which will be enlarged to suit the needs of the business the new firm expects to do. Application has been made for membership in the Omaha Grain exchange.

While Omaha capital is interested in the new grain firm one out-of-town dealer comes to the city to take an active interest in the business, W. H. Holliday of Davenport.

The enlargement of the elevator which the new firm will make will mean an increase in the elevator capacity of Omaha warehouses of more than 30,000 bushels. It is located on Great Western tracks and though on the low side is a part of the system of elevators operated in connection with the primary market of Omaha.

As a result of Omaha taking such high place among the primary markets of the world on receipts and shipments a number of inquiries have been received and indications are other grain companies will follow. The Nebraska Hay and Grain company, which sold the elevator, remains the same.

ROSENTHAL SEES BILL A LAW

Omaha Gratified that Parole Measure is on the Statute Books of Nebraska.

When Ben Rosenthal, returned from New York in January, after seeing a prison system working and learning of the number of men who were reformed each year by the probation and indeterminate sentence laws, he determined to secure such laws for Nebraska if possible.

After some work at Lincoln a probation law was passed and signed by the governor and became a law. The indeterminate sentence law was vetoed by Governor Shallenberger.

The provisions of the parole or probation law are well known. They make it possible for the trial judge in dealing with first offenders to suspend sentence and permit those found guilty of felony, to be admitted to bail on parole from term to term.

Mr. Rosenthal has a letter from the secretary to the governor. In response to his inquiry, that the bill was passed and has since become a law.

Judges Estelle and Kennedy of the district court have been personally interested in this measure.

Grip Don'ts.

- Don't kiss the children.
- Don't sleep going to bed.
- Don't attempt to walk the attack down.
- Don't take a cold or even a hot bath.
- Don't use any alcoholic stimulants.
- Don't eat a heavy meal.
- Don't forget to take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.
- Don't let your bowels become constipated.
- Don't leave your bed until the worst is over, nor venture out until fully recovered.
- Do this and the grip is shorn of nearly all its terrors. Grip never results in pneumonia unless Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is used.

When you buy, avoid cheap imitations. Buy the genuine Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. This is important.

Smith Will Deny His Confession

Will Repudiate Statement Accusing Himself of Setting Fire to Sunderland Barn.

James Smith will deny his confession of having burned down the Sunderland Bros. barn in a fit of pique. Smith went on trial yesterday for arson before Judge Sears in district court and, if found guilty, can be given twenty years.

Smith will claim that his confession was extorted from him by the police through duress and that it was in no wise true. According to the confession Smith made, it was a fine of $250 which prompted him to set the barn on fire, an act which led to a $25,000 loss. Smith while working for the Sunderland as a teamster suffered a breakdown and was charged the amount named. He quit in a huff.

REFUSES TO PUSH CASE OF MAN WITH FAMILY TO KEEP

Complaining Witness Drops Prosecution on Learning Defendant Has Household.

Because Ed Rush, a railway employee, has a family which needs his support, he was not prosecuted in police court Thursday morning. E. D. McIntosh, living at 1511 Leavenworth street, was the complaining witness against Rush, who was arrested Tuesday on the charge of assault and battery. Yesterday McIntosh sent a note to Police Judge Crawford, explaining that he would not appear against Rush when the case was called, having learned that Rush's family would suffer if he should be found guilty and punished.

REALTY MEN BOOST THE FUND

Exchange Contributes Several Hundred Dollars Toward Child Saving Home.

The Omaha Real Estate exchange Wednesday made a campaign of its members for the benefit of the Child Saving Institute building fund. A member reports that $500 had already been pledged and after the meeting adjourned the members subscribed $300 additional.

As a birthday gift, little Miss Josephine Robbins, 13 years old, sent in Wednesday thirteen pennies, writing that she sent a penny for as many years as she was old, and suggested that it would be a good idea for all the little girls of Omaha to do the same on their birthdays. The fund is getting close to the $50,000 mark. Subscriptions reported Wednesday were:

Rates and other needed information can be obtained by writing Mrs. Henry Mattingly, 526 West Sixth street, Davenport.

The local biennial board of Cincinnati has completed its organization and plans are already being made for the entertainment of the general federation's biennial convention in the spring of 1910. Mrs. Lawrence Maxwell has been made chairman and the several subcommittees have been appointed and are at work. The magnitude of the task of entertaining this largest women's convention held in this country is best appreciated by those who have had experience and these have demonstrated that a year is none too long a time in which to get ready. Omaha women will have a busy time this spring and summer making ready for the annual convention of the National Women's Christian Temperance union to be held here next October. Definite work cannot be begun, however, until after the conference with Mrs. Stevens and Miss Gordon, who will reach Omaha about April 20.

KOUNTZE INHERITANCE TAX CASE IN SUPREME COURT

Fight Will Be Continued to Realize Paying Something Like Fifteen Thousand Dollars.

The last fight over the Herman Kountze inheritance tax will come before the supreme court early in May and will finally settle whether or not Douglas county is to receive something like $15,000 from the estate of the late millionaire.

Mr. Kountze transferred property to Augustus Kountze to be held in trust pending his death. The county has claimed there is a specific provision in the inheritance tax law which meets such a device and the Kountze heirs have asserted that the property went to New York and out of this jurisdiction.

Deputy County Attorney Eilick, who won the case in the county court and on appeal to district court, will represent Douglas county before the supreme court.

BOY HAS EGGS AND EATS 'EM

Deaf and Dumb Lad Carries Them in Pocket and Matron Gibbon Cooks Them.

Two fresh eggs, done to a turn by the motherly hand of Mrs. Beanie Gibbon, matron at the police station, formed part of the breakfast of Bennie Holley, a 14-year-old deaf and dumb lad who is being lodged by the police until he can be sent back to Boone City, Ia., from his home at which place he can away some time ago.

And fresh eggs are not included on the menu of the prisoners and lodgers at the city jail, either, so the question as to where the delicious food came from is unsolved. Poor Bennie can't tell, or else he won't, and none of the officers or even the matron at the police station can figure out how two nice fresh white eggs came to be in the pocket of the little deaf mute, who has been away from his farm home for days.

Bennie was picked up at the depot Wednesday night by Officer Glover. Thursday morning he held a little pad-and-pencil conversation with Officer Reigelman in the matron's room at the jail, and said he wanted to go home. He says his father's name is J. Dew, but he is reticent about saying more concerning his people or where they live. He has been attending school and says he doesn't know how long he has been away from the people from Boone City, with whom he lived on Twenty-seventh street.

People past middle life usually have some kidney or bladder disorder that saps the vitality, which is naturally lower in old age. Foley's Kidney Remedy corrects urinary troubles, stimulates the kidneys, and restores strength and vigor. It cures uric acid troubles by strengthening the kidneys so they will strain out the uric acid that settles in the muscles and joints, causing rheumatism. Sold by all druggists.

SEATTLE WILL FETE G. A. R.

Makes Big Plans to Entertain Old Soldiers at the Coming Exposition.

G. S. Phillips, a former Nebraskan, but now of Seattle, is an Omaha visitor stopping at the Merchants.

"You want to tell the old and young veterans of this part of the country that great preparations are being made for the entertainment of the war veterans during the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition, as well as for their families," said Mr. Phillips. "The military order of the Loyal Legion has pre-empted a five-acre tract on the exposition grounds and is establishing on it patriotic headquarters. All of the civil and Spanish-American war veterans and their auxiliary societies will be specially looked after."

"The result of correspondence with the War department has been to secure a splendid equipment of the military camp and it is to be established as a model."

SOLAR BIOLOGY NOT AS VALUABLE AS SOLAR PLEXUS

This is Demonstrated in Case Brought for Damages for Loss of Former.

A damage to "Solar Biology" is not a costly as an injury to the solar plexus. A wallup in that region, it will be remembered, cost Prof. James Corbett many thousand dollars and the world's enameled.

For the incapacitation of her husband a lecturer on "Solar Biology" whatever the cost is the jury has given Mrs. Clara A. Faus a verdict of $52, which J. S. Cross the saloon keeper, will have to fork up.

Mrs. Faus would have received more if the solar system were slightly different but as it takes the earth fifty-two weeks to revolve around the sun, $52 is what the plaintiff gets. The jury, which arrived at a sealed verdict late last night, agreed to give Mrs. Faus $1 per week for the year she claimed to have lost the services of her husband. It was that amount a week which Cross thought Faus spent in his saloon.
