

Impure Blood

Thoroughly Cleansed

Relieved of All Impurities Through the Use of Stewart's Calcium Wafers.

The blood is a thick, opaque fluid of a rich, red hue in the arteries, and a purplish blue in the veins. It derives its color from numerous small bodies floating in it which are called red corpuscles.

These red corpuscles number 5,000,000 to the cubic centimeter; but it often happens that they become very much diminished in number, a condition known as anemia or leukoemia.

The red corpuscles are the stimulating and animating elements of the blood. They absorb oxygen in their passage through the lungs, and convey it to the tissues of the body, where combining with food elements absorbed from the stomach, it evolves animal heat.

Whenever the kidneys fail to properly filter the blood of its impurities, or when constipation occurs, the impure foreign matter collects in the blood-current, is carried to all parts of the system in the circulation, and is usually deposited in the form of pimples and other eruptions upon the skin.

Most of these eruptions appear upon the face, for the reason that the skin there is thinner than anywhere else. Many people commit the error of trying to cure the pimples or eruptions by the application of salves and lotions, which is a great mistake.

Caesium Sulphide is the greatest blood purifier in existence. Instead of driving the blood impurities out through the pores, it sends them out through the proper channels—the kidneys and intestines.

STUART'S CALCIUM WAFERS contain calcium sulphite, combined with other powerful alteratives and purifiers, which act rapidly and powerfully upon the morbid products of the blood, expelling them completely, preventing their return, and incidentally removing pimples, boils, blackheads, carbuncles, tetter, ringworm, scurf, and all other skin blemishes.

Call on your pharmacist and secure a package of this wonderful blood-cleansing remedy, price 50 cents. Also write us for trial package free. Address, F. A. Stuart Co., 175 Stuart Building, Marshall, Mich.

LABOR LEADERS VISIT TAFT

Officials of the American Federation Confer with President.

MANY PROBLEMS ARE DISCUSSED

President Takes Under Advisement All Requests Made and Asks Questions to Bring Out Further Information.

WASHINGTON, April 17.—President Taft discussed the problems of the workingman for two hours today with the members of the executive council of the American Federation of Labor.

The labor leaders, headed by Samuel Gompers, president of the federation, called at the White House and found the president keenly attentive and deeply interested. Mr. Gompers declared and not only did he give the spokesmen of the party all the time they desired to lay their matters before him, but joined himself in the discussion in order to bring out fuller information on the various subjects.

In the delegation were representatives of most of the trades affiliated with the American Federation of Labor and there were a number of leaders who stubbornly opposed Mr. Taft in a presidential campaign. But the meeting within the executive offices was all cordial to all.

He told his callers that he would investigate such of the matters presented which seemed to him to require it and would be glad to help in arriving at a proper solution of the difficulties in which the working people found themselves, while at the same time keeping the interest of the whole people in view.

Many issues discussed. The labor leaders seemed pleased with their reception. They took up with the president an imposing array of problems, including the matter of injunction, the eight-hour law, convict labor, the recent indictment of labor leaders in the south for alleged violation of the Sherman anti-trust law, the danger of a dissolution of all labor organizations under a strict interpretation of recent decisions by the supreme court, the maintenance of international peace, labor problems on the Panama canal, the adherence to the right of asylum in this country for political offenders from other lands, and convict labor.

President Taft told the labor leaders that he regarded the matter of an anti-injunction law as one of the most important pieces of his administration. He added that he felt he had made his position clear on the subject in his speech of acceptance last July and had confirmed that position in his inaugural address.

The president said he would be glad to consult further with the representatives of organized labor as to amendments, etc., when a bill for the next congress has been framed.

Dr. Charles P. Neill, the government commissioner of labor, was present throughout the meeting. The executive council members who called were: Samuel Gompers, Frank Morrison, James Duncan, James Mitchell, James O'Connell, Max Morris, William Huber, John B. Lennon, John R. Alpine and Joseph Valentine.

Convict Labor Problem. With reference to convict labor, Mr. Gompers told the president that organized labor desires only that this class of labor shall be regulated, not prohibited. The idea is to prevent convict-made goods and work from coming into competition with the labor of free men.

Status of Labor Unions. Coming to the present status of labor organizations under recent decisions of the courts, the discussion widened broadly. It centered about the supreme court decision in the famous Hatters' case, under which certain phases of labor organization methods were declared to be in contravention of the Sherman anti-trust law.

Under a further interpretation of that decision, said Mr. Gompers, "labor unions can be dissolved by any move on the part of the federal government. Men can be arrested, indicted and sentenced to a year in prison and a fine of $5,000. Officers and members of the union also can be proceeded against civilly and three-fold damages be assessed against them in any amount that may be complained of by any person claiming to have suffered by reason of men quitting work or withholding their patronage."

BACK IN NEWSPAPER HARNESS

Former Omaha Scribe Starts a Daily in Oakland, Cal.

The newspaper habit is almost as hard to shake as the habit of eating "three squares" a day. It is possible to dispense with one of the "squares" for a time, but there is "void in the inner consciousness" of life which refuses to be satisfied with vain excesses.

John T. Bell of Omaha and Oakland, Cal., is an example of the magnetic pull of the press. A stenographic reporter of the Douglas county district court when Judge Savage occupied the bench, Mr. Bell drifted naturally into newspaper work, held down a desk on the old Omaha Herald for years, published a weekly in Omaha during the '70s, and collaborated with Judge Savage in producing a history of Omaha. Ten years ago he moved to California, retiring from newspaper activities. The resolve did not last, for he has resumed the harness as editor of the Oakland Ledger, a new venture under his auspices.

Harvey W. Scott, Mentioned as Successor, Admits He Has Been Offered the Mission.

Harvey W. Scott, mentioned as successor to D. E. Thompson of Nebraska as ambassador to Mexico passed through Omaha last evening on his way east.

Scott answered nothing, nor did he when Michael DeYoung, owner of the San Francisco Chronicle, also urged him. "He doesn't seem to want it," said President Wheeler later.

It is regarded as likely that Mr. Thompson will not continue after some months in the ambassadorship. It has been known for some time in Omaha that he can have if he wishes the headship of a large New York trust company and it has been rumored that he would sell his Nebraska interests.

Shallenberger Offended Over Omaha Request Says at Banquet at Beatrice Metropolis Tried to Dictate His Attitude on Measure.

BEATRICE, Neb., April 17.—(Special Telegram.)—Governor A. C. Shallenberger was the guest of honor at an elaborate banquet given by the Men's brotherhood of the Centenary Methodist Episcopal church this evening in the church parlors, which was attended by about 300 invited guests.

During his remarks the governor referred to the signing of bills, saying he put down his name boldly and in black letters to the daylight salon bill, so that it would stand the test of time. He said he was offended when 500 residents of Omaha visited him and tried to dictate his action.
