AGONY OF ECZEMA BEYOND WORDS

Whole Body a Mass of Raw, Torturing Humor—Hair All Fell Out and Ears Seemed Ready to Drop Off—Clothing Would Stick to Bleeding Flesh — Hoped Death Would End Fearful Suffering.

CASE SEEMED HOPELESS BUT CUTICURA CURED HER

"Words cannot describe the terrible eczema I suffered with. It broke out on my head and kept spreading until it covered my whole body. I was almost a solid mass of sores from head to foot. I looked more like a piece of raw beef than a human being. The pain and agony I endured seemed more than I could bear. Blood and pus oozed from the great sore on my scalp, from under my finger nails, and nearly all over my body. My ears were so crusted and swollen I was afraid they would break off. Every hair in my head fell out. I could not sit down, for my clothes would stick to the raw and bleeding flesh, making me cry out from the pain. My family doctor did all he could, but I got worse and worse. My condition was awful. I did not think I could live, and wanted death to come and end my frightful sufferings.

"In this condition my mother-in-law begged me to try the Cuticura Remedies. I said I would, but had no hope of recovery. But oh, what blessed relief I experienced after applying Cuticura Ointment. It cooled the bleeding and itching flesh and brought me the first real sleep I had had in weeks. It was as grateful as ice to a burning tongue. I would bathe with warm water and Cuticura Soap, then apply the Ointment freely. I also took Cuticura Resolvent for the blood. In a short time the sores stopped running, the flesh began to heal, and I knew I was to get well again. Then the hair on my head began to grow, and in a short time I was completely cured. I cannot praise Cuticura enough. I wish I could tell everybody who has eczema to use Cuticura. My condition was so terrible that what cured me cannot fail to cure anybody of this awful disease. If any one doubts the truth of this letter, tell them to write to me. Mrs. Wm. Hunt, 135 Thomas St., Newark, N. J., Sept. 28, 1908."

Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Resolvent (liquid or pills) are sold throughout the world. Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Props., Boston, Mass. Post-free, 32-p. Cuticura Skin Book.

AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA

Lighting Contest Deferred One Week by City Council.

NEW RULES FOR JUNK MEN

Terminal Tax Figures Reported by Commissioner Are Highest Yet Given—Benefit for Institute Today.

Contrary to expectation, no action was taken on the lighting proposition at Monday night's session of the council. Both the Omaha and South Omaha company had a representative present. Action was deferred for a week by an agreement in committee room.

The junk dealers' ordinance and the poundmaster's ordinance were amended in minor particulars and passed. Hereafter no junk dealer, who drives a team or has a permanent place of business in the city, can conduct the same without a license. The cost of this license is from $5 to $50, according to the kind of business. Each junk dealer must keep a report of all property usually taken by petit larceny criminals, and these reports must be daily open to the inspection of the police.

The poundmaster's ordinance, regulating all domestic animals harbored in the city, but chiefly relating to dogs, was passed after reducing the fee from $2 to $1 for dogs and from $5 to $3 for females. The chief of police is required to attend at the execution of all dogs by the poundmaster, and to verify his reports of the number of dogs killed. The ordinance is a voluminous affair.

A large number of ordinances, changing the grade of streets, were recommended for passage. One that is likely to cause contention is the change of G street and of Twenty-sixth street from G to H. Some residents will begin suit for damages.

Boulevard on F Street.

F street was ordered boulevarded from Twenty-ninth to the city limits on the west.

Dan Hannon was awarded a contract for the raising of the pavement at Twenty-first and Missouri avenue. He offered to do the work for $175.

Numerous sidewalk ordinances were passed. Most of them were for temporary walks.

The city attorney was ordered to proceed to condemn a right-of-way across the Union Pacific railroad track for a grade crossing at Jackson street.

The residents on Twelfth street presented a petition for a sanitary sewer.

The city tax commissioner made his appointments of assessors as follows: J. M. Fitzgerald, James Obicenski, S. C. Shrigley, Peter Powers, Walter Slate, Gus Olesson, Barney Taylor, Mike Hannigan, William Powell and John Hoffman.

These assessors will begin their work May 1. Last year there were nineteen appointments for this work.

Terminal Tax Schedules.

The city tax commissioner has completed his terminal tax schedules and the same will be taken to Lincoln Wednesday of this week. The railroads are valued at $1,821,685. This amount does not include the rolling stock which is added by the state board. Last year the amount fixed for rolling stock was $329,030. It probably will be about as large as last year. The figures of the tax commissioner this year are $157,000 more than in 1908. The total valuation inclusive of terminal taxation purposes will be about $2,150,000. This is the highest figure yet placed. In the case of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad the valuation was slightly reduced, because the road last year had a large amount of stores such as steel rails and ties in South Omaha. The Union Pacific will be larger because the Lane cut-off is included.

Greek Riot Facts.

Chief John Briggs and Detective P. H. Shields were called upon yesterday to make a deposition before a notary containing all the facts relating to the anti-Greek riot of February 21, which took place in South Omaha. The depositions of the officers was at the request of the Department of the Interior and the State department at Washington, D. C. It is evident the United States will make a thorough investigation of the riot. The deposition of the chief made mention of all the facts concerning the riot from the calling of the mass meeting and the previous murder, which gave rise to the occasion. He mentioned the names of the speakers in his report and gave the names of the men who officered the meeting. The names of Jerry Howard, H. C. Murphy, J. P. Kraus and A. Hunter (as secretary), and mentioned as men who took part and made speeches. The report then followed the course of the mob and noted the destruction of property and the cases of personal violence and injury so far as known. The chief and the detectives as well as other witnesses may be called upon to appear before the federal court soon to give testimony.

Our Letter Box

Contributions on Timely Subjects, Not Exceeding Two Hundred Words, Are Invited from Our Readers.

Stoecker Puts the Shoe On.

OMAHA, April 26.—To the Editor of The Bee: Be a gentleman, at least, and bring forth your arguments, and don't sling mud and use abusive language.

"New Buildings to Cost $7,000,000," in the first column of the first page of The Sunday Bee. In the second column of the editorial page we find the editor bursting out with his madness by cursing our present mayor and members of the legislature merely because they are democrats. The editor of The Bee evidently finds himself several laps behind with his candidates in the present race of the city campaign, and the democrats with their broncho-buster in the lead, of course, is enough to make any republican editor mad; after failing to persuade his readers and the voters of Douglas county last fall to send a republican delegation to Lincoln, and on top of that, also to fall in the republican city ticket, it's enough to make any one mad, and you know it is always the case when any one gets angry, he will scold and curse and swear, and in his anger will say things of which a man of intelligence usually is ashamed of when his aggravation is over with.

Of course, it is hard for our republican editor to put up an argument against a democratic candidate for mayor, when there is no material on hand for such an argument, and he is obliged to scour the country over to make a showing after a long search with a couple of letters that say nothing, and to make people believe that such "bosh" as was added by him will convince the voters of our city to vote for the set of gentlemen that are on the republican ticket. Don't you see that the voters of Douglas county did not want your candidates for the legislature? And they permitted themselves to be misrepresented in the late democratic legislature by a delegation made up of "crooks, graiters, incompetents, corporation cappers, and coarse roustabouts." Now, weren't you mad when you wrote that, and don't you see that the people of our city recognize in you the loser in the present city campaign?

You nor the republican candidates need offer themselves to restore the good name of Omaha. The democrats began to restore this name three years ago, and have also made a success in that line and if the republicans can let us work three more years then the restoration will be complete, and then the voters of Omaha will have fully learned that the democratic party after all is the party that with success can boom and restore the good name of Omaha. In the three years that "Jim" has held the whip-hand Omaha's name has almost been a byword from one end of the country to the other. These are your words; good for you and good for Omaha. Can you conceive of better advertising?

You need not let the people of Omaha devote time, efforts and money year in and out for cementing friendly relations with the cities and towns in tributary trade territory to make Omaha stand for the best in business, art and culture; you need not urge these efforts if you will let the city have three more years of prosperity under a democratic mayor and council, so that you may have that building boom kept up, and give you a chance each year and three years from now to name the sum of $7,500,000 in buildings in Omaha; also let us have three more years like the last three were; we added to our city's numerous industries and widened its scope as a market town. Then we'll need no more of the cement you speak of, as the wealth producing farmers will give us the preference over all the cities along the Missouri river, as quality and price will talk louder than works. All this can be accomplished by having a democratic cowboy, broncho-busting mayor.

Therefore, Mr. Editor of The Bee, don't let the people see that you are a hard loser. With kind regards, I am,

W. F. STOECKER,
Member of Thirty-first Legislature.

In Justice to the Bohemians.

OMAHA, April 26.—To the Editor of The Bee: Pardon me in writing these lines, but it seems that the Bohemian voters of this city are placed in such a ridiculous light that it is time some one in the name of justice should tell the people the truth and not let them think that the height of all the ambition and the acme of all our happiness is a —— glass of beer. Everywhere in the city it is claimed that the Bohemian voters are solid for Mr. Dahlmen because he favors an open saloon week day or Sunday, day time or night time. Of course, Mr. Breen is branded as a prohibitionist by the democratic paper, "Osveta," and its editor, and there seems to be a tendency of that paper to impress its readers that if Mr. Breen should be elected our people will be deprived of their favorite beverage. Of course, any sane man knows that the only way to invite prohibition in city or state is to defy all law regulating the liquor traffic. So it appears to any man who has the least knowledge of the present situation, so that the election of a gentleman of Mr. Dahlman's caliber would, in a short time, have the tendency of bringing on just what we are now fighting against—prohibition. The Bohemian people are not all Dahlman's electors, and the Dahlman meetings, such as the meeting of Saturday night and on Sunday, is a straight insult to every intelligent Bohemian voter. Yes, Mr. Dahlman, our people can vote right, without the presence of your beer at every meeting. While such low-down methods may appeal to some of our people, those are sadly in the minority, as most of us can listen to any good speaker without being hired to do so with a glass of beer. But our people remember well that when the Brewers' association had their meeting last year Mr. Busch spoke in favor of a saloon that would obey the laws, a well regulated saloon that would only be open at hours whenever the law permits it being open. And all the brewers voiced their sentiment, that only a respectable and law-obeying saloon can defeat the prohibition movement, so that all the wide-open town talk of Mr. Dahlman and his henchmen is only a bunco game, and I hope that the majority of our people will see it in that light.

Saturday—

Lincoln hall, Sixth and Pierce streets, First Ward Republican club. Speakers: Harry B. Zimman and Judge Louis Berka.

Magnolia hall, Twenty-fourth street and Ames avenue, Twelfth Ward Republican club.

John P. Breen, republican candidate for mayor, H. H. Baldrige and numerous candidates addressed a large gathering of colored voters, members of the Foraker club, at Osthoff's hall, 513 North Sixteenth street, Monday night. The speech of the candidate for mayor especially created the greatest enthusiasm among the colored voters, and at his introduction he was greeted by tumultuous applause, many standing and waving their hats and handkerchiefs, while the Omaha Military band added music to the demonstration.

Mr. Breen called attention to the democratic promises of three years ago and their failure to make good on a single one of them. He recalled to the voters the fact that the democrats had promised dollar gas, which had failed to materialize. He called attention to the promise of the preservation of the personal liberties of the people made by the democrats, and found the answer in the enactment of the 8 o'clock closing law.

Democrats and Prohibition.

Mr. Breen read the interview given out by Richard L. Metcalfe, in which Mr. Metcalfe said the democratic party must stand for county option in the campaign of two years hence, and the prophecy of Metcalfe that the democratic party, nationally, would be the party of the temperance advocates. He also read from the Metcalfe interview the statement that the signing of the daylight saloon bill would not satisfy the advocates of temperance, so, therefore, the democratic party must advocate county option, and he predicted, said Mr. Breen, that the liquor question would be the issue in the coming fight over state offices.

Mr. Breen assured the members of the club that the liberties of the people would be conserved by the republican party. The democratic party, he said, had proven itself absolutely unequal to the task. It was the republican party which enacted the Slocumb law, back in 1882, and kept it intact without important amendment until the late democratic aggregation assembled in Lincoln and changed it while promising to do just the opposite.

Howard H. Baldrige gave the voters a word of encouragement by telling them the republicans had gone into the campaign united and harmonious, while the democrats were badly divided and were fighting among themselves. He called attention to the broken pledges of the present city administration, and if the administration were continued, history would repeat itself and the record of the next three years would be a story of more broken promises.

Though Mayor Dahlman, he said, may have been a good cowboy and had done his work faithfully on the range, this was no indication that he had the ability to make Omaha a good mayor. The colored voters of the city should stand by the republican party's candidates, he said, because it had been the republican party which had stood by the colored man, and a republican president who had torn the shackles from them.

Interest of the Colored Man.

H. J. Pinkett, colored, talked at length on the duty of the colored people of Omaha to assist in the work of making the government as near as possible ideal, and he predicted a great majority of the colored people would vote the republican ticket, notwithstanding the claims of the democrats.

All of the candidates for other offices were at the meeting and delivered short talks. George W. Hibler presided at the meeting and made a short speech, telling the members of the club that it was their duty to stand loyally by the republican candidates in the interest of a better Omaha. The Breen Boosters' quartet sang several songs.

If you have backache and urinary troubles you should take Foley's Kidney Remedy to strengthen and build up the kidneys so they will act properly, as a serious kidney trouble may develop. Sold by all druggists.

Judge Calls Jury Foreman to Room, but Nothing Doing

Sutton Wants Talk with Man When Jurors Announce They Cannot Agree.

What promised for a minute to furnish excitement occurred in Judge Sutton's court Tuesday morning, when Judge Sutton summoned the foreman of the Elizabeth Seiler jury to his private office, following a report for the second time from the jury that it was deadlocked.

After a few minutes' conversation, however, Judge Sutton declared the matter had been satisfactorily explained and that his calling in the foreman "involved no cloud upon any member of the jury."

Further than this what was in Judge Sutton's mind did not develop, nor would the foreman of the jury tell what had been up.

The jury in question went out at 3 o'clock Monday afternoon to consider what claim, if any, Elizabeth Seiler, a child of 3 years had against the Omaha & Council Bluffs Street Railway company.

The suit was for $1,500 for damages in falling through an opening by the seat in a summer car on the Harney line.

The jury stood eight to four on the first ballot in favor of the plaintiff. On the next it was nine to three, and on the third ten to two. This ballot was taken just before dinner Monday evening. After that there was no change all night and at 9:30 Tuesday morning the court heard a report of inability to agree. Judge Sutton sent the jurors out for another hour, at the conclusion of which no change was reported and the jury discharged, following the consultation with the foreman, as told above.

Election Talk Holds Up Sewer

Councilmen Decide They Are Short of Money, Anyway, and Most Business Goes Over Week.

Most of the time of the councilmen in the meeting of the committee of the whole yesterday afternoon was taken up in discussing the proposed storm sewer in the extreme northwestern part of the city, and the kind of brick to be used in sidewalk construction.

Councilman Endres has been extremely anxious to get something done on the sewer to extend northwest from Thirtieth and Sprague streets for a considerable distance. He made his maiden speech in the council chamber a week ago in support of the sewer and called his colleagues' attention to the approaching election, but as the funds are depleted the sewer question has been put off from week to week. Action has been postponed again for another week.

A mistake was made in advertising for bids for sidewalk construction and the kind of brick to be used was not specified. This was threshed over for a half hour or more, but final action was deferred until tonight.

The council rejected the offer of the Bunson Smoke Consumer company, fearing there was a "nigger in the woodpile" somewhere and that the city might get into trouble. For the sake of introducing the consumers into Omaha, the company offered to install one on the city hall stack free of cost, but with the proviso that the city should pay it at the end of one year the cost of the coal saved during the period. The councilmen did not see how they could determine how much coal the consumer would save.

Odd Fellows' Anniversary

Ninetieth Recurrence of Founding Day Calls for Celebrations in Omaha and Over State.

Assisted by the sister organization, the Rebekahs, the Odd Fellows of Omaha last night commemorated the ninetieth anniversary of the founding of the order by holding an open meeting in the lodge rooms at Fourteenth and Dodge streets. The meeting was attended by many Odd Fellows and Rebekahs.

City Attorney Harry E. Burnam presided and made a short talk at the opening of the meeting, in which he told the object of the gathering. He introduced E. A. Benson, who told some Odd Fellows' stories, and then Judge Paul Jessen of Nebraska City gave the address of the evening, speaking on "Odd Fellowship." Following the speaking program refreshments were served and music was furnished by Gellenbeck's mandolin orchestra for dancing.

The ninetieth anniversary of the founding of the Odd Fellows' order was celebrated in hundreds of cities and towns in Nebraska and other states Monday. Several of the lodges dedicated halls on the anniversary day, and everywhere the day was made much of by members of the order.

Omaha, State, Beacon and Wass lodges joined in the celebration in Omaha last night.

DON'T WORRY ABOUT WHEAT

Kansas Man Says Crop in That State and Nebraska Warrants No Anxiety Just Now.

Ira T. Belden, one of the leading wheat farmers of western Kansas, was in Omaha Tuesday on a visit to relatives.

"There is much unreasonable anxiety about the condition of the Nebraska and Kansas wheat crop which should be dissipated. I have had occasion to examine the present condition of the growing wheat, not alone in western Kansas and Nebraska, but also of Oklahoma, and I find it in a good average condition for this season, with an increased acreage in all of these states. I am not selling wheat on paper in Chicago. My personal observation in Smith county, Kansas, is that the crop will average well up to the best averages for the last ten years."
