Clubs May Have to Stop Selling. Exciseman U. G. Powell intimated this morning that the excise board might adopt a rule forbidding clubs or other organizations maintaining rooms for their members to serve liquor. This would affect the Elks, Eagles, several German clubs, the Country club and other bodies.

Mr. Powell said he thought the prohibition victory was not due so much to the failure of 7 o'clock closing to bring satisfactory results as to the fact that a good many rotes against prohibition were wasted by being dust in the negative on both prop-estions, instead of the daylight saloen al-

All kinds of opinions were expressed on the streets as to the "dry" victory in Lincoln and the effects on business to follow. Among a number of citizens interviewed on the subject, including bankers, agents for rental property, contractors and merchants, the sentiment seemed to prevail that business will experience a temporary setback from the simultaneous vacation of twenty-five storerooms and the throwing of seventy-five to 100 persons out of employment. There were some, however, who took the view that business will be helped took the view that their pat

> This week as usual the Orpheum bill has been the talk of the town and the house has been more than well filled at every performance. The stirring music of the opera and its theme of patriotism has made 'The Patriot' a favorite. And when one remembers that it is sung by so capable a company with Heiena Frederick at its head, this is not at all to be wondered at The graceful dancing of Agnes Mahr and her sister Flora is likewise a feature of interest. Lovers of athletics will find pleasure in "At the Sound of the Gong." with its moving scenes. As one may well infer, the other numbers are of quite equamerit and attractiveness.

Of much interest is the story of "Blue Jeans," that is now running at the Burwood theater, in that the plot is of a semipolitical nature, therefore thoroughly appropriate for just this present week. Hugh Gibson, who but recently joined the Bur-Fighting Against wood company as comedian is causing aughs without number in the role of the illage sheemaker, the part fitting him to nicety.
