AND STEEL IMPROVE

Actual Gain is Noted Both in Prices and Volume of Orders—Primary Dry Goods Market is Quiet.

NEW YORK, May 7.—L. R. G. Dun and his weekly review of trade tomorrow will say: Bank clearings outside New York per cent better than last year and 24.5 per cent larger than in 1918, and 10 per cent larger than in 1919, with a gain of 12.5 per cent over 1918 and only a 1.5 per cent decline as compared with the same year of 1917, with immigration larger than last year, with imports greater than in the past several years, with a distinct gain in the iron and steel trade in both orders and prices, a healthy situation in copper, with a new construction going rapidly forward, the trade situation seems to be as good as the prevailing belief that as soon as tariff revision is out of the way, the last obstacle to a full return of normal industrial and mercantile activity will be removed. While indeed is the better feeling in and steel. Favorable developments in all divisions are reported. Recovery is quickly slow following the prolonged depression, but there is more suggestion of permanence in the revival and the broadened demand has by some slight advance in prices, primary dry goods market continues quiet, with prices remaining at their present level. In view of the firmness of raw material, prices of cloth yarns goods and fabrics have been closed on the finer fabrics, but converters show no intention to create far ahead. Dry goods prices continue to be inactive. In export division, inquiry is in demand, but little business has been placed, to China amounting to only 1,000 bales, 25 yard shawls, while some small quantities of goods from Africa and India and Manila have been placed. A quantity of prints than its recent years. In woolen goods the volume of business is gradually increasing. Worsteds are still higher and woolen yarns are with a comparative firmness. Linens are only in moderate request at prices.

Foreign Financial. NDON, May 7.—Money was abundant in the market today and discounts were trading on the Stock exchange at strength, particularly in the mining, where there was large business at prices. Copper shares again were out, in sympathy with the metal and iron buying. Amalgamated was $2.50 dearer than yesterday. The small but attractive new issue adversely affected the standard gilt-edged stocks, but home calls hardened on renewed support. American securities started lower on fears of an unfavorable crop report, but they recovered under the lead of Pacific issues, while United States Steel advanced on improving trade reports. Later there occurred a slight easing, but vigorous Wall street support sent the market higher and caused a strong close. PAISIS, May 7.—Prices on the Bourse today were irregular, with the exception of copper shares, which were strong.

Nine Witnesses in Calhoun Case

State Says it Will Trace Money Drawn by Ford to Ruel's Sister.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 7.—Good progress has been made in the trial of Patrick Calhoun, president of the United Railroads, nine witnesses for the state being examined. The evidence dealt with the money alleged to have been paid to Abraham Ruel by Tires L. Ford, general counsel for the railroad company, acting as the agent of Mr. Calhoun. From the testimony of William M. Abbott, general attorney for the company, who went with Ford to the mint and carried sums, drawn by telegraphic order of Mr. Calhoun, to that of L. A. Erie, former supervisor, the prosecution worked its way step by step.

Real told of receiving $350 from Ruel's sister, in connection with a business deal for the city outside the graft cases. This payment was made June 2, 1918, and Assistant District Attorney Honey declares he will prove that the money given Ruel was a part of the $30,000 drawn from the mint by Ford.

Mr. Abbott was asked: "Did you, in the spring of 1917, secure certain reports for Mr. Calhoun from a detective named Dorian?" "Yes," he replied.

An objection caused Judge Lawlor to ask the object of the line of inquiry. Mr. Honey stated that the prosecution hoped to show that a conspiracy had been entered into by certain attorneys for Calhoun, including Earl Rogers, that Dorian, the detective named, should invite former Supervisor Thomas Lonergan, now dead, to a resort where an introduction to a woman was to follow. As a result a charge was to have been preferred against Lonergan, so as to drive him from the state and prevent him giving testimony. Earl Rogers heatedly declared his innocence. Judge Lawlor suspended his ruling.

NEWLANDS SUGGESTS ALLIANCE

Cummins Says Democrats Are Worse Divided Than Republicans.

WASHINGTON, May 7.—An amusing situation occurred at the close of Senator Cummins' speech today on the tariff in the senate when that republican progressive was asked by Senator Newlands whether the faction striving for a revision of the tariff downward had formulated a plan with which the democrats could unite in the question to accomplish their purpose. The question gave evident satisfaction to Senator Aldrich, but apparently Senator Culbertson, the minority leader was not so well pleased.

It was pointed out by Mr. Newlands that if the twenty progressive republicans united with the thirty-one democratic senators they would have a majority of the senate. Mr. Cummins remarked that the senator from Nevada had found more progressive republicans than he had. Responding to Mr. Newland's question, however, Mr. Cummins asked: "Is the senator from Nevada authorized to speak for the thirty-one democrats when he propounds such an inquiry?"

"No," said Mr. Newland, "because the thirty-one democrats are powerless to accomplish anything here by taking the lead. The only way they could succeed in benefiting the country would be by following the lead of the progressive republicans. I think if that republican faction would get together on a program for a revision of the tariff downward, the democrats would respond favorably to the proposal."

"Are you making an official statement from the democratic party or merely a suggestion?" asked Mr. Aldrich. Mr. Newlands replied that he spoke only for himself, whereupon Mr. Cummins declared that the speaker favoring the highest duties had come from the democratic side so that he saw little hope of help from that quarter. "What have the progressives to hope from that side of the chamber," Mr. Cummins asked. "The despair of the senator from Iowa

at being able to gain support from the democrats in the senate is not warranted by the attitude of the minority of progressive legislation placed upon the statute books during the last two years," said Mr. Newlands. Continuing, he declared that the democrats had stood with the president and in line with the senator from Iowa, for progressive action on public questions such as the railroad rate law and that they would be with him for a downward revision of the tariff and he again expressed
