BRIEF FLAYS BANKER WALSH

Government Attorney Condemns Methods of Chicago Financier.

LATTER IS SEEKING FREEDOM

Document Asserts Convicted Banker Paid High Dividends While Bank Was Insolvent and Gave it Useless Notes.

CHICAGO, May 8.—Arguments of the government in opposition to the attorney of John H. Walsh, under sentence of five years' imprisonment for alleged misapplication of the funds of his bank, the defunct Chicago National, to obtain freedom on appeal to the United States circuit court of appeals are contained in the brief filed today by Assistant Attorney Fletcher Robbins in reply to the brief filed by counsel for the defendant a month ago. The Walsh banks, the Chicago National, the Equitable Trust company and the Home Savings, closed their doors December 19, 1906. Walsh was indicted two years later on 182 counts. A year later the case came to trial in the United States district court and a verdict finding the defendant guilty on fifty-four counts was returned. Judge Anderson sentenced Walsh to five years at Fort Leavenworth. The appeal followed. Oral arguments will be heard by Judges Grosscup, Baker and Seaman, the last week in the month. It is said that the Walsh failure caused losses to himself, stockholders and others aggregating $16,000,000.

Counsel for Walsh contended in their brief that the loans made by Walsh and his purchases of bonds of his own railroad with the bank's money were legitimate transactions made for the benefit of the bank and without loss to the bank. "What Evidence Shows." "That counsel should seriously make such statement of fact to this court," retorts the government brief, "can be explained only by the necessities of the case. We contend that the following facts were established by the overwhelming weight of the evidence: That on December 15, 1906, the Chicago National bank was insolvent, and while paying dividends at the rate of 15 per cent annually, although it was not earning them; that the notes made the subject of criminal charges were of a kind absolutely unknown to honest banking; that they were secured by bonds that were unmarketable and of little or no intrinsic value; that they were never paid; that they belonged to a class of transactions that was a chief factor in the destruction of the bank and in causing a loss to the stockholders of the entire value of their stock; that these loans were made in utter disregard of the interests of the bank for the sole benefit and advantage of Mr. Walsh and his personal enterprises; that the proceeds of these notes were used as alleged in the indictment; that the bond purchases which are the subject of criminal charges were not made in the usual course of business; that these bonds were unmarketable and worthless as bank assets; that they contributed directly to the destruction of the bank and to the loss of the stockholders."

It is further alleged in the brief "that these pretended loans and bond purchases were of such a fraudulent nature that they created no obligation on the part of the bank to pay over the proceeds to the parties to whom they were actually paid." The brief contends that Mr. Walsh's intention was not, as president of the bank, in good faith to make good loans and investments for the bank, but rather to get the funds of the bank to promote his personal enterprises and to conceal the real nature of his act.

Shores' Wreckage Floating in Lake

Officers of Langwell Identify Parts of Boat They Saw in Water.

DULUTH, Minn., May 8.—The story of the wreck of the Adelia Shores was brought to Duluth by Captain Geel and Mate Spores of the steamer Simon Langwell, which arrived in port last night. The Langwell Tuesday morning met with a considerable quantity of wreckage and the upper of a boat that the captain feels sure belongs to the Shores. The story of the mate is as follows: "Several dock plankers floated by. There was nothing to indicate to what vessel the pieces belonged, no marks of any kind. Suddenly Captain Geel pointed out 'starboard. Look at that,' he said. I looked and saw the upper works of a vessel about 150 feet from us, a good distinguishably plainly but there was no sign of a name. "That is the Adelia Shores," said the captain, 'I know her well.' I knew the Shores also and agreed with him. We were then about 12 miles north, northeast of Grand Island."

TIME CLOSE IN DRY FIGHT

Missouri Solans' Per Diem Stops and Exodus May Kill Prohibition.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., May 8.—Consideration of the senate amendments to the prohibition joint resolution will be begun by the house Tuesday morning. Efforts for immediate consideration were unavailing. The delay is considered dangerous to the ultimate success of the measure, as the period during which members of the legislature receive $5 a day for their work has expired and the present rate of $1 is causing many of them to leave for their homes. The state-widened must assemble seventy-two votes for the resolution.

EVERLYN THAW PAYS FINE

Threats of Jail Sentence Causes Her to Submit Part of Bill.

NEW YORK, May 8.—Evelyn Nesbit Thaw will not go to Ludlow street jail, instead for her counsel paid over to George B. Hayes, the receiver appointed to take charge of Mrs. Thaw's affairs, the amount of $250, the fine imposed upon her for contempt in failure to appear in supplementary proceedings. This sum is to be applied to the extinction of the judgment for $250 obtained by Elsie Hartwig, a milliner. There still remains to be paid nearly $100 made up of costs in various courts and the receiver's fees, before Mrs. Thaw can have her affairs taken out of the hands of the receiver.

ED HOWELL HAS FINE TIME

Democratic Legislator Writes from Honolulu About His "Legislative" Junket.

Colonel Pat Healey has received souvenir postals from Dr. F. J. Weyers, west in Ireland, and State Senator Ed Howell, whose trip after the close of the legislative session took him to Honolulu. Both say that they are having fine times and like the climate and places visited. Nothing is said about the daylight law or the election.

Ingredients give to Hood's Sarsaparilla its great curative power—power to cure many and varied complaints, including diseases of the blood, ailments of the stomach, troubles of the kidneys and liver. Many of the ingredients are just what the profession prescribe in the ailments named, but the combination and proportions are peculiar to this medicine and give it curative power peculiar to itself. Therefore, there can be no substitute for Hood's. Get it in the usual liquid form, or in tablets called Sarsatabs.

producers would do likewise to the exclusion of the consumer.

Mr. Aldrich said he had only said that when the testimony of American producers and the importers of goods from foreign countries conflicted he took the testimony of the American producers, and that he said he proposed to continue to do so.

In concluding his remarks Mr. Bristow said that rather than give the American people an improper tariff law he would send the subject back to them to be fought over two years hence.

Mr. Carter spoke in opposition to a tariff commission.

MRS. BOYLE IS FOUND GUILTY

Jury at Mercer Returns Verdict After Single Ballot.

SUICIDE FIRST, DECLARES WOMAN

Defendant Also Charges Man Whose Name Has Not Been Mentioned Was Back of the Kidnaping Plot.

MERCER, Pa., May 8.—The jury in the trial of Mrs. James H. Boyle returned a verdict of "guilty as indicted in the second count." The second count charged her with aiding and abetting the kidnaping. The case was given to the jury at 11:40 a. m. today. The jury reached a verdict on the first ballot this morning. Court had adjourned, however, until 1:30 in the afternoon and the verdict could not be reported until that hour. Manifesting the same stolid indifference to her fate which has characterized her throughout her trial, Mrs. James H. Boyle sat immovable as the jury returned its verdict. A heavy veil, which she has worn throughout the trial, concealed her features, so that it could not be seen whether her color changed, but there was not a movement of her body to indicate that she so much as heard her doom pronounced. Her indifference was even more pronounced than it has been during preceding portions of the trial.

The court room was crowded almost to suffocation when the jury filed in at 1:30

WOMAN THREATENS SUICIDE

"Life in the penitentiary would kill me in a week or ten days, and rather than submit to this I would take the Dutch route," said Mrs. Boyle today. Like her husband she is anxious to tell more than has been brought out in the trial of herself or her husband regarding the kidnaping of "Bibby" Whitta.

"If Jimmie and I are sent to the penitentiary," said she, "we will not go alone. Others will go with us or join us soon there. Half the truth has not yet been told in this case. One other man, who planned the whole affair, has not been arrested. I am willing to suffer for any crime I may have committed, but there is no evidence that I have been mixed up in this case and rather than suffer injustice from the court I will quit this earth and take justice from my Maker."

The address of Judge Miller, counsel for Mrs. Boyle, to the jury was begun at 3:20 o'clock. He presented to the court eight points of law which he asked to have submitted to the jury. In substance they were to the effect that a crime could only be punished in the jurisdiction where it was committed and that in the pending case there had been no testimony to show that Mrs. Boyle had committed any overt act in Mercer county in connection with the abduction of the Whittas boy. Instructions to the jury to bring in a verdict of not guilty were asked.

Judge Miller intimated that powerful influences were being brought to bear to convict the woman and there were references to the suppression of the efforts of the Boyles in bringing into the case the name of a third party. Judge Miller's address occupied an hour and he was followed by Quincy Adams Gordon for the prosecution.

JUROR WHO CONVICTED JORDAN IS DECLARED INSANE

Family Ask He Be Restrained and Jordan's Lawyer Will Ask for New Trial.

MAYNARD, Mass., May 8.—Feeling that the mental condition of Willis A. White, one of the jury which on Tuesday last found Chester H. Jordan guilty of the murder of his wife was not normal, relatives made an effort before Judge Keyes at Concord today to have White sent to some state institution for treatment. Whether this action on the part of White's relatives to continue the restraint which he had been subjected to since the trial will have any effect on the verdict which White rendered with eleven men is a question which none of the court officials today in Cambridge was willing to discuss. Dr. F. V. Rich, White's physician, announced today that in his opinion, White's mental faculties were not normal for some time before he was drawn on the jury. Counsel for Jordan, General Charles W. Bartlett, when informed of the condition of Mr. White today stated that he would at once move for a new trial for his client.

Princess de Broglie Inherits Big Estate After Scouring Divorce in Paris.

PARIS, May 8.—Princess Robert de Broglie, who three days ago was granted a divorce in Paris from her husband on the ground of desertion, has sent the following telegram from Genoa to a friend in this city:

"I have just received news of my father's death in Chicago. As the heiress to fortune I am happy to scorn the miserable pittance offered me through the Paris courts by the De Broglie family. I am leaving shortly for America with my baby."

Princess De Broglie was formerly Miss Estelle Alexander of San Francisco.

CHURCH HOWE REPORTS ON MANCHESTER CITY GAS PLANT

Nebraskan Says Municipal Ownership in English City Has Proven Beneficial.

WASHINGTON, May 8.—Municipal ownership of the city gas plant has proven to be not only a profitable undertaking for Manchester, England, but economical for the consumer as well. The city's profits since the works were taken over forty-five years ago have been $750,000, while the price of gas in the Manchester district at present is only 25 cents per 1,000 cubic feet, according to a report by the bureau of manufacturers from Consul Church Howe. In addition to furnishing gas cheaper, the Manchester corporation has provided, free of charge, gas stoves to all householders making requests for the same. A movement is on foot, the consul reports, to reduce the price of gas to 20 cents for sundry manufacturing purposes and a graduated reduction for ordinary uses.

To illustrate the growth of the business, it is stated that the producing capacity of the works is 25,000,000 cubic feet per twenty-four hours against 13,000,000 in 1850. The investment of $12,382,875 capital is represented. Manchester has a population of about 800,000, being about the size of Boston or St. Louis.
