

ATTEMPT TO BRIBE JURORS

Charge Filed Against Al Keenan, Who is Arrested.

TWO JURORS MAKE STATEMENTS

Say Keenan Gave Them Ten Dollars Each After They Had Been Accepted on the Trial Jury.

Al Keenan, a professional nuyer of county warrants, was arrested Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock on the charge of attempting to bribe Jesse G. Barrett, a juror in the suit of Robert A. Stewart against the Omaha & Council Bluffs Street Railway company.

The arrest was made immediately following the lodging of an information in county court by County Attorney English and was made in the court house itself.

Early Tuesday morning English and Judges Sears and Kennedy held a conference in Judge Sears' private office.

Early Tuesday morning English and Judges Sears and Kennedy held a conference in Judge Sears' private office.

At the conclusion of the case they said they met them in a dark corner of the basement of the court house and gave them each a $10 bill.

The information lodged against Keenan does not charge bribery, but attempted bribery, the indictment running that "Al Keenan did then and there wilfully, unlawfully and feloniously attempt to corruptly influence Jesse G. Barrett in the trial of a suit against a corporation."

Later on the information charges that "a sum of money was offered to influence said Jesse G. Barrett against plaintiff and for and in behalf of the Omaha & Council Bluffs Street Railway company."

Verdict for Defendant. The Stewart case was concluded Saturday morning in Judge Day's court.

The jury retired late Friday afternoon and at midnight reached a verdict, which was sealed, as is the custom in civil suits.

When opened next morning it read for the defendant.

Until Keenan had been arrested the members of the conference in Judge Sears' room were loath to give out any information, but the nature of the meeting leaked out in a vague way and caused no end of gossip throughout the court house.

Keenan was immediately arraigned before Judge Leslie. He entered a plea of not guilty and the hearing was set for Saturday morning.

Hill was fined at $1,000 and the defendant left the court room in the custody of Deputy Sheriff Mead to seek a bondsman.

"I gave Barrett $20," said Keenan, "it was in the way of my regular business entirely. I gave him $10 first and then $20. It was simply an advance on what he would make as a juror."

If you want to feel well, look well and be well, take Foley's Kidney Remedy. It tones up the kidneys and bladder, purifies the blood and restores health and strength.

Anti-Saloon League Starts Its Contest

Lysie Abbott Says Illegal Votes Were Cast at the Late City Election.

Maintaining that they are rightfully elected and that the republicans declared elected won on the face of the returns by counting illegal votes and rejecting legal votes, the candidates of the Anti-Saloon League for the Board of Fire and Police Commissioners will file their bonds and will institute contests in the court to secure for themselves seats on the board.

This announcement was made Tuesday by Lysie L. Abbott, attorney for and one of the candidates of the league.

"There are eight grounds on which a contest of election can be based," said Mr. Abbott. "The paragraph on which we have our contest is found in section 227 of the compiled statutes of Nebraska and reads: 'When illegal votes have been received or legal votes have been rejected.'"

"In placing the republican and democratic candidates in brackets at the head of the list of candidates for the board on the ballot and voters being given the privilege of voting for a set of four candidates, illegal votes were received inasmuch as these voters did not have to scan the entire ballot to find the candidates in question as did those who voted for the league candidates. The names of the league candidates were scattered and the voting was not fair."

The Anti-Saloon League candidates will file their bonds with the city clerk before May 24, the date when the new officers must qualify, and the contests will be instituted within twenty days from the time the official canvass was completed.

This procedure will be taken for the reason that a decision from the supreme court cannot be expected for several months, possibly.

Professional Men Give to Corn Show. Doctors, Lawyers and Others Donate Liberally to Support the National Exposition.

Professional men are standing up for Omaha and standing up for Nebraska by donating liberally to the National Corn exposition of 1909.

During the week several hundred dollars have been sent to Secretary T. F. Sturgis by the lawyers, doctors, dentists and other professional men.

Under the present financial plan it is a straight donation in most cases and not a stock subscription. As soon as the professional men learned what was wanted they got out their check books and went to work.

The money has been coming in in various amounts ranging from $10 to $200 and a large fund has been created which will help out materially in the promotion work.

Work has begun on the catalogue for next year and the report of the 1908 exposition will soon be out.

AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA

Board of Education Elects Teachers for Ensuing Year.

PRACTICALLY NO CHANGE MADE

Board Makes a New Rule that All "Boarding and Rooming" School Teachers Must Reside in City.

The Board of Education of South Omaha elected teachers in all departments for the ensuing year at a special meeting last night. The list of names shows practically no change from those of the previous year with the exception of a few resignations. No one was dropped from the list on account of any delinquency, which is counted a good record.

Most teachers of the list are in good standing on the permanent list, having completed their second year of service. The resignations to date are Miss Nell Ennor, Frances Tombrink, Emma Glossop, Grace Thielske and Mrs. Maud Carter. Some others are anticipated. Of the resignations who will probably have pleasant announcements for their friends before the end of the summer season, Miss Grace Thielske expects to enter an advanced school in the autumn as a student. Miss Glossop is to go to her old home in Kansas.

The name of R. E. Johnson, head of the commercial department, was passed for the present at least, because of a stipulation in his application demanding a raise of salary $5 in advance of the rules of the board covering that point.

The board refused to make a distinction in his case. A resolution of the board which will cause some consternation and regret, and perhaps a few resignations, was adopted after the lists of teachers were acted upon and recorded to the effect that all teachers simply boarding and rooming during the period of their contract will be required to reside in South Omaha.

This does not apply in the cases of teachers living in permanent homes in Omaha with parents or relatives. The teachers whose residence is at present in Omaha are indicated by the asterisk before their names.

List Adopted. The following is the uncompleted list unanimously adopted. This list will be supplemented later.

PRINCIPALS. Perry MacD., Wheeler, high school. Eva O'Sullivan, assistant.

CLERKS. Mercedes Brown, superintendent's office. Cecelia Barclay, principal's office.

HIGH SCHOOL. Josephine Abbott. T. E. Roswell. Mrs. E. C. Pinlay. H. C. Gramlich. Sussey Horon.

ELEMENTARY SCHOOLS. Sadie Ayer. Nellie Mann. Lillian Baker. Margaret McGovern. Orpha McKirick. Laberta Meth.

THE QUESTION OF THE DAY. It Has Never Yet Had a Regretful Affirmative Answer.

"Is your life insured?" If you should ask all of your acquaintances this question you would unquestionably be surprised to learn how many of them are carrying insurance. You would, to be sure, receive some negative responses, for while there is none who will deny that life insurance is a good thing to have, everybody that ought to be insured is not so yet.

However, the number of affirmative replies would undoubtedly be a revelation of the popularity of life insurance as a permanent, appreciable investment. This is in strong contrast to what would have been the case even a third of a century ago, when insurance was comparatively rare and few of them had any higher incentive in the idea than might be found in connection with some speculative investment.

The difference between then and now is that the value of regular, or standard life insurance is no more questioned than the intrinsic worth of gold or the duty of being insured any more debatable than the value of bodily health or earthly happiness.

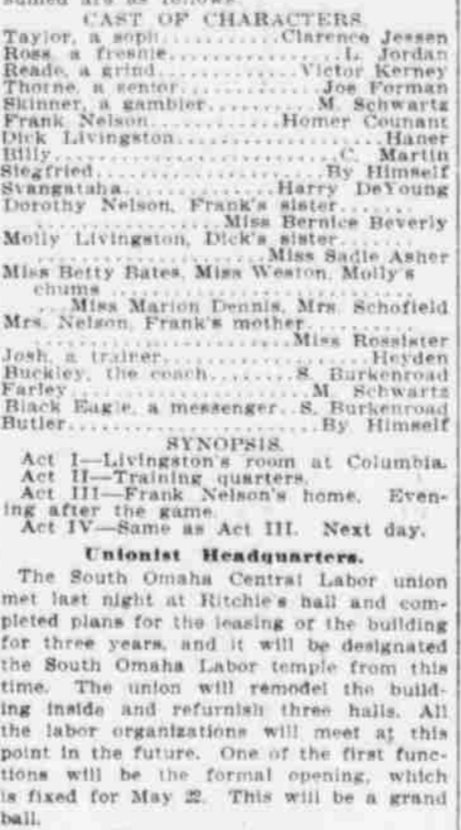

It is, therefore, no longer a question of the protective fold, and that the multitude is growing greener, year by year. The integrity of life insurance and the obligation to insure is so well established that at no instant time it can be assumed that the non-insured will be such an exception to the general rule as to serious men as to insure his own social and business standing.

Building Permits. T. K. Potter, Twenty-first and Pinkney streets, frame dwelling, $2,300; W. A. Elkins, Eighth street and Park street, avenue, frame dwelling, $1,600; C. P. Wison, 301 North Twenty-fifth street, frame dwelling, $2,400; J. D. Dean, 308 North Twenty-eighth street, frame dwelling, $2,800; C. Straud, 340 Pratt street, frame dwelling, $2,500; Josephine Andrews, Thirty-third and Fort streets, frame dwelling, $1,900.

A Ton of Gold could buy nothing better for female weakness, lame back and kidney trouble than Electric Bitters. 50c. For sale by Beaton Drug Co.

Words of Praise From Trained Nurse

Miss Bessie Mills of Atlanta, Ga., who has had ten years' experience as a trained nurse, writes of the splendid results obtained when she has given her patients Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey as a tonic and body-builder, on the Doctors' orders.

MISS BESSIE MILLS are yielding to the weight of years, it will bring strength and vigor to the muscular and nervous centers. Every testimonial is guaranteed genuine and is published in good faith and with full consent.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

If you wish to keep young, strong and vigorous and have on your cheeks the glow of perfect health, take Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey regularly, according to directions. It tones and strengthens the heart action and purifies the entire system. It is recognized as a family medicine everywhere.

CAUTION—When you ask your druggist, grocer or dealer for Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, be sure you get the genuine. It's the only absolutely pure medicinal malt whiskey and is sold in sealed bottles only; never in bulk.

Price $1.00. Look for the trade-mark, the "Old Chemist," on the label, and make sure the seal over the cork is unbroken. Write Medical Department, Duffy Malt Whiskey Co., Rochester, N. Y., for a free illustrated medical booklet and free advice.

Electric Show Unfolds Secrets to Many People

Thousands Visit Exposition in Auditorium and Listen to Whys of Electricity.

They explained things at the electric show last evening—where the "glim" goes from the lamps and where little chickens hatched in an incubator come from.

And that is not all. An indirect message was received relating to the Fort Omaha balloon. The wireless station in the Auditorium recorded the click-click-click, news from the wireless station at Fort Omaha that no word had yet been obtained from the balloon. This indicated to the expert in charge of the station that it was working satisfactorily.

This wonderful affair is the center of constant interest and admiration, and one of the great features of the show.

It was a gay crowd which saw the lights and took the lessons the big show offered last evening. It promised well for the remaining days of the show, which are five in number.

Interest has not abated in the exposition; in fact, it has just been awakened by the ringing of the bells and glare of electric lights. So perfectly is the show working that a turn of the switch to put it in motion would keep everything going as long as the current is furnished. Like all electrical appliances, the show gives people a chance to rest—to sit down by the wayside and take it easy without growing older.

The exhibit of the Omaha Electric Light and Power company, showing the eight kinds of work which electricity does without human hands working much, attracts much attention, while the daily paper published by the company is almost as widely read as "The Omaha Bee."

The Union Pacific band will play Thursday evening, as the day will be known as "Union Pacific day."

HUNDRED DOLLAR BRIDLE. Delicate Work of Art Made by Convent and Sent to Farmer.

Farmer Burns has received a horsehair bridle from Deer Lodge, Mont., that is valued at $100. It was made and sent to him by a convict in the penitentiary who signs himself "Kelley." The bridle is a work of art and three harness men in Omaha say it would bring at least $100.

The delicate technique of its manufacture is horsehair, buttons and all, and there is not a buckle on it. Burns says he knows a great many men named Kelley, but doesn't know which one this is, and didn't know any man of that grand old name who was in the penitentiary.

"It's too bad for a man who can do such fine work as that to have to be put in the penitentiary," said the Farmer. "That's the strongest bridle I ever saw. If the man who made it had put it on his passion and held a tight rein when the temptation came—whatever it was that made him do had he wouldn't be in the prison today."

If you desire a clear complexion take Foley's Orinax Laxative for constipation and liver trouble, as it will stimulate these organs and thoroughly cleanse your system, which is what everyone needs in the spring in order to feel well. For sale by all druggists.

Forest School Sixteen Rooms

Contract Let to F. P. Gould & Son for Extra Amount of Seven Thousand Dollars. The new Forest school building at Thirtieth and Phelps streets will contain sixteen rooms instead of twelve as originally planned. The Board of Education decided to make the change in plans to effect a saving later on.

Good as Another Police Station

So Says Captain Mostyn, Talking of the New Automobile Now in Service. Lawrence Morse, an automobile expert in the employ of the White Steamer company, is in Omaha for the purpose of giving instruction to members of the police force in running the new machine just received by the department. It is probable that at least six officers will be designated to receive such instruction in order that there may always be a competent chauffeur at hand.

The new machine was given its first night tryout last evening when a party consisting of Captain Mostyn, Detectives Heitfeld and Donahue and Emergency Officer Reigelman, with Mr. Morse at the wheel, made a trip over the west part of the city, going as far as the Emergency hospital.

Captain Mostyn gives it as his opinion that the addition of this machine to the equipment of the department is equal to the building of an additional police station, as with it the entire city may be covered in a minimum time and "hurry" calls can be made at a rate which will practically double the efficiency of the force.

THE QUESTION OF THE DAY

It Has Never Yet Had a Regretful Affirmative Answer. "Is your life insured?" If you should ask all of your acquaintances this question you would unquestionably be surprised to learn how many of them are carrying insurance.

You would, to be sure, receive some negative responses, for while there is none who will deny that life insurance is a good thing to have, everybody that ought to be insured is not so yet.

However, the number of affirmative replies would undoubtedly be a revelation of the popularity of life insurance as a permanent, appreciable investment. This is in strong contrast to what would have been the case even a third of a century ago, when insurance was comparatively rare and few of them had any higher incentive in the idea than might be found in connection with some speculative investment.

The difference between then and now is that the value of regular, or standard life insurance is no more questioned than the intrinsic worth of gold or the duty of being insured any more debatable than the value of bodily health or earthly happiness.

It is, therefore, no longer a question of the protective fold, and that the multitude is growing greener, year by year. The integrity of life insurance and the obligation to insure is so well established that at no instant time it can be assumed that the non-insured will be such an exception to the general rule as to serious men as to insure his own social and business standing.

Building Permits. T. K. Potter, Twenty-first and Pinkney streets, frame dwelling, $2,300; W. A. Elkins, Eighth street and Park street, avenue, frame dwelling, $1,600; C. P. Wison, 301 North Twenty-fifth street, frame dwelling, $2,400; J. D. Dean, 308 North Twenty-eighth street, frame dwelling, $2,800; C. Straud, 340 Pratt street, frame dwelling, $2,500; Josephine Andrews, Thirty-third and Fort streets, frame dwelling, $1,900.

A Ton of Gold could buy nothing better for female weakness, lame back and kidney trouble than Electric Bitters. 50c. For sale by Beaton Drug Co.

THE QUESTION OF THE DAY

It Has Never Yet Had a Regretful Affirmative Answer. "Is your life insured?" If you should ask all of your acquaintances this question you would unquestionably be surprised to learn how many of them are carrying insurance.

You would, to be sure, receive some negative responses, for while there is none who will deny that life insurance is a good thing to have, everybody that ought to be insured is not so yet.

However, the number of affirmative replies would undoubtedly be a revelation of the popularity of life insurance as a permanent, appreciable investment. This is in strong contrast to what would have been the case even a third of a century ago, when insurance was comparatively rare and few of them had any higher incentive in the idea than might be found in connection with some speculative investment.

The difference between then and now is that the value of regular, or standard life insurance is no more questioned than the intrinsic worth of gold or the duty of being insured any more debatable than the value of bodily health or earthly happiness.

It is, therefore, no longer a question of the protective fold, and that the multitude is growing greener, year by year. The integrity of life insurance and the obligation to insure is so well established that at no instant time it can be assumed that the non-insured will be such an exception to the general rule as to serious men as to insure his own social and business standing.

Building Permits. T. K. Potter, Twenty-first and Pinkney streets, frame dwelling, $2,300; W. A. Elkins, Eighth street and Park street, avenue, frame dwelling, $1,600; C. P. Wison, 301 North Twenty-fifth street, frame dwelling, $2,400; J. D. Dean, 308 North Twenty-eighth street, frame dwelling, $2,800; C. Straud, 340 Pratt street, frame dwelling, $2,500; Josephine Andrews, Thirty-third and Fort streets, frame dwelling, $1,900.

A Ton of Gold could buy nothing better for female weakness, lame back and kidney trouble than Electric Bitters. 50c. For sale by Beaton Drug Co.

THE QUESTION OF THE DAY. It Has Never Yet Had a Regretful Affirmative Answer. "Is your life insured?" If you should ask all of your acquaintances this question you would unquestionably be surprised to learn how many of them are carrying insurance.

You would, to be sure, receive some negative responses, for while there is none who will deny that life insurance is a good thing to have, everybody that ought to be insured is not so yet.

However, the number of affirmative replies would undoubtedly be a revelation of the popularity of life insurance as a permanent, appreciable investment. This is in strong contrast to what would have been the case even a third of a century ago, when insurance was comparatively rare and few of them had any higher incentive in the idea than might be found in connection with some speculative investment.

The difference between then and now is that the value of regular, or standard life insurance is no more questioned than the intrinsic worth of gold or the duty of being insured any more debatable than the value of bodily health or earthly happiness.

BLATZ BEER advertisement with logo and text: "First aid to the host. Fine at meal time—all times." "The one notable achievement in brewing." "The veritable fulfillment of beer character, quality and healthfulness."

The Story of Nebraska. Next Sunday Lincoln County. THE OMAHA SUNDAY BEE. Pioneers are generally individuals or families of limited means. The wealthy seldom immigrate. So fierce was the conflict in subduing the frontier of Nebraska that none but the stout hearted undertook and carried out the daring experiment.

The Rich Shoe Co. Milwaukee, Wis. advertisement: "That we asked you to watch for. To those who have worn and are wearing 'Julia Marlowe' shoes, we are positive that it will please them to know that in the very near future we will be prepared to tell the public where they will be able to buy any style of 'Julia Marlowe' shoes in any size at all times in this city."