

WAREHOUSES ARE TOO SMALL

Railroads Want to Ship 4,000 Pounds More in Beer Cars.

BAY WINDOWS MAY BE BUILT

Breweries Constructed Local Coolers to Hold Only 24,000 Pounds and Railroads Propose Increase of Minimum Weight.

All beer warehouses in Nebraska will have to be enlarged or people will have to drink more beer, if the Nebraska Railway Commission secures the adoption of the new classification which will make a change in the minimum weight of beer cars, increasing it from 21,000 to 24,000 pounds.

This is one of the most serious things which will result from the new classification, though there are others. E. J. McVann, manager of the traffic bureau, and J. M. Guild, commissioner of the Commercial club, returned Thursday from Lincoln where they went to protest against the adoption of the latest classification list.

A little more than a year ago the railroads increased the minimum amount of beer which should be loaded in a car in order to entitle it to the car load rate from 20,000 to 24,000 pounds. Nebraska apparently got away with the increased amount of beer even in face of the prohibition clouds which have been hovering over the state.

Now the railroads are going to compel brewers to put 28,000 pounds of beer in a car before they can get the car load rate. It simply means that the local agent or saloon keepers who have cooling warehouses out over the state will have to get 4,000 pounds more beer, each time and then the extra amount will come to the warehouses. They were originally built to hold and accommodate 24,000 pounds of beer. For years only 20,000 pounds were shipped in the cars sent out from the breweries.

When the 24,000 rule went into effect, the brewers found their warehouses filled every time they sent out a car load of beer. Now comes the proposal to make the minimum weight 28,000 pounds, or 4,000 pounds more than the warehouse will hold.

Beer Going to Waste. What will the brewers and saloon keepers do with the extra 4,000 pounds, especially with a daylight saloon facing them.

Some suggest they might hold a bargain sale at the car as they are doing in Lincoln and make the arrival of a car load of beer in a country town a big event when the extra 4,000 pounds may be easily disposed of in any "wet" community.

In the new classification more than 800 changes are proposed in minimum weights, all being increases. They affect a large list of commodities besides the beer of Nebraska, including implements, steel tanks and other merchandise and machinery.

The Railway Commission has the question of adopting the new classification under advisement.

CALDWELL HERE TO START

Court House Contractor is Ready to Take Hold of the Big Contract.

George Caldwell of Caldwell & Drake, contractors for the new court house, arrived in Omaha Thursday. His firm will not legally take hold of the work for a week yet, the grading contract, which is in the hands of Lamoreaux & Peterson, being expected to be done by that time. This involves the excavation of the hill on which the new demolished jail stood.

Caldwell & Drake have erected a fence around three sides of the court house and are building a temporary office at the corner of Seventeenth and Harney.

Wireless from Wilson Says

Wheat Too High

Message is Flashed Out by Secretary of Agriculture Knocking the Price.

"Wheat at $1.35 per bushel, too high!" This declaration by James Wilson, secretary of agriculture, which reached Omaha Thursday morning by the wireless newspaper route, created consternation on the floor of the Omaha Grain exchange, where real wheat to make real bread has been selling for real money for $1.20 to $1.25 per bushel. Some of the dealers did not know what to do. They had accepted the money of the millers and it was a question of whether they should give back the 40 cents on each bushel or not.

But most of them thought not and didn't. Then it had just been discovered by the grain dealers that every bushel contains 7.2 grains of pure alcohol and every 5 cent loaf of bread .66 per cent of the poison. How could wheat be worth less than $1.25 per bushel, they argued, when Lincoln and other fly-specks on the map are going dry and the only way to get a drink of alcohol is to buy a 40 cent table d'hôte dinner and eat the bread.

"Wheat will continue to go up if they quit cutting bread in Lincoln and go to opening the loaves with a cork-screw," says "Bill" Sunderland, the friend of Jim Patton, who has maintained all along that $1.25 is the actual price of wheat.

Of course the Lincoln excise board may forbid the people eating bread now that the demon-mokey is known to lurk within the crust. This would be a serious blow to the grain trade, say all the Bills on the exchange, as the moment a loaf of bread gets between the legs of some Lincoln gentleman and causes him to fall in the gutter, there will be things doing down there which will put the price of wheat down where Tama Jim says it ought to be.

Pretzels are said by the health authorities to be the least alcoholic form of bread and total abstinence are expected to continue their use. The difficulty has been to find a place where the pretzels are served outside the groceries and there is danger in people becoming confirmed bun eaters and boosting wheat to $2 per bushel.

RAIN DOES MUCH GOOD TO SOIL AND CROPS

Came at Time When It Was Greatly Needed by Farms and Gardens.

The rain of the last few days will be of immense benefit to gardens and all sorts of grain in Nebraska as well as to pastures. The condition of the soil was getting bad, but the rains relieved the situation. Winter wheat was showing very little growth because of want of moisture and oats were suffering from want of rain and from the strong winds. The ground was not too dry to plow for corn and considerable corn has been planted. The pastures were exceedingly backward.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., May 13.—Vegetation, which has been held back by dry and unseasonable weather throughout northwest Missouri, was given impetus today by a soaking rain and crop prospects are much improved.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 13.—Almost an inch of rain is reported to have fallen in central Kansas early today, while showers were general in that state and in northwestern Missouri, greatly benefiting crops.

TWO DEPUTIES PERMANENT

Nickerson and McCallum Are Placed Under the Civil Service Regulation.

An executive order has been received from the Department of Justice from Washington placing J. B. Nickerson and G. W. McCallum, deputy United States marshals, and D. W. Dickerson, secretary to the United States district attorney, in the civil service class, thus insuring the permanency of their positions.

Only those deputy marshals who are also office deputies in addition to process serving deputies are placed under the civil service regulations. Nickerson and McCallum, being office deputies, are therefore included in the class. The field deputies continue under their old status to hold office at the pleasure of the appointing powers, during the incumbency of the United States marshal.

FOUR HILL TRAINS TO EXPO

Quartette of Passengers Will Run Daily Between Chicago and Seattle.

James J. Hill will have four complete trains daily from Chicago to the Seattle exposition during the coming summer over his own lines, according to the new schedule, which goes into effect May 22. Oriental Limited, the crack train of the Great Northern road, now running between Seattle and Portland and St. Paul, will be extended on a solid train from St. Paul to Chicago over the Burlington.

The Burlington's two trains for the northwest through Omaha and Lincoln from Chicago and St. Louis and Kansas City will run solid to Seattle, one over the Great Northern and the other over the Northern Pacific.

During the summer season the Missouri Pacific will run its Kansas City train out of Omaha on time—11:15 on Saturday night. This train is held during the winter to take care of the theatrical business out of Omaha for the south.

The train of two cars carrying the Kansas City Commercial club on its trip through Nebraska has been traversing the Burlington in Nebraska for two days. Burlington officials report that the train has been on the schedule all the way, which is considered quite remarkable for this class of a train, carrying so many people who jump off at every station.

Lines west of the Missouri river are lining up some new eastbound excursion rates for the month of June to the Atlantic coast. These rates are something new and by them the railroads hope to force the growth of Atlantic coast travel early in the season to the resorts and hotels. These are always crowded after July 1 and the railroads will try to start travel a little earlier.

To give its patrons a chance to see the growing fields of Nebraska by daylight the Burlington has decided to add an observation sleeper to its train from Omaha to Denver which leaves Omaha at 4:35 p. m.

ASKS LAWYERS TO NAME FEES

Water Board Wants to Know "How Much for the Future?"

KNOW TOO WELL AS TO THE PAST

Hippie Says They Will "Continue the Fight," but Wants Webster and Wright to Name Their Price First.

Definite contracts as to what legal services will cost in the future will be drawn up by and between the Omaha Water board and John L. Webster and Carl C. Wright, the board's attorneys.

Members of the board say they have a deep impression what their attorney fees have been in the past, but in the future they want to know what the cost is to be before the work is done.

No meeting has been held, said Dr. A. H. Hippie, member of the board, but the two attorneys have been instructed to make out an itemized statement of expenses past for the board. All bills tendered by the attorneys have been paid without question, but now after they have been paid and paid by the board not knowing exactly what it paid for, the board has asked the attorneys to separate the bills to show what each separate case has cost.

"We will continue the fight and will hold the aggressive end of the contest until the last ditch," said Dr. Hippie. "But don't misunderstand me. I mean that we will fight the appropriation case to the finish, but the board has many cases and some of these may be dropped where they are. But about this I do not know—the board has taken no definite action."

"All I can say at this time is that the attorneys have been asked to furnish itemized bills showing the cost of litigation of each case; that they are asked to contract for future work at a certain price, and that the water works appropriation case will be fought to a standstill."

Asked what the board would do with the $5,500,000 that the people voted to issue in bonds Dr. Hippie said it would be used to buy the water works and not in paying attorneys' fees.

More County Cash in Banks Than Ever

Over Six Hundred Thousand Dollars at Close of Business on Wednesday.

There is now in various banks in the city of Omaha more cash belonging to the county of Douglas than ever before on deposit since the organization of the county.

County Treasurer Furay reports that at the close of business on Wednesday, May 12, there was on deposit in the banks $612,344.77. The former high water mark was reached last year, the high total at that time being $572,000.

City taxes will come in the heaviest lot of July, but just now the treasurer's force is busy making out receipts for county taxes.

HOSPITALS AND OTHERS FAIL TO REPORT TO CORONER

Seven Cases, Healey Says, He Should Have Had Are Passed to Private Hands.

The failure of hospitals and private individuals to notify Coroner Healey of cases of death coming under his jurisdiction, caused hot words at Thursday morning's inquest over the body of Nate Travis, the negro shot by Roy Davis.

"I will refuse to hold an inquest in a case if it is grabbed out of my jurisdiction without my knowledge and I am not notified even of the death of the party," declared Coroner Healey.

County Attorney English was also "hopping mad." The coroner declared that in the future he would leave such cases to the wisdom and action of the county attorney, as is required by law.

A delay in the Travis inquest, due to the failure of all but three of the witnesses to appear, was the primary cause of the impatience of the county attorney and the coroner. On account of the delay, the jury hearing the case adjourned till Friday at 10 o'clock.

According to a statement made at the inquest, the Travis case is the seventh during Mr. Healey's term to be turned over to a private undertaker and treated as a private case, when the coroner should have been called. It is the second case in which the Omaha general hospital has failed to notify the coroner, but has instead allowed a private undertaker to haul away.

Woman's Work

Activities of the Organized Bodies Along the Lines of Undertaking of Concern to Women.

The problem of raising money is confronting several of the local organizations of women that have pledged their assistance in entertaining the convention of the National Women's Christian Temperance union next October. While the burden will by no means fall entirely upon the women, they will have a substantial part of it to provide, and as this will be a matter of several thousand dollars, organization of the financial plan is an important preliminary.

The Omaha Women's Christian Temperance union has a regular income from the noon lunch which it serves at the high school and the Omaha Women's club also has funds. Frances Willard Women's Christian Temperance union has no regular income aside from its dues, and today and Friday is holding a home for the high school of the Paxton in the rooms formerly occupied by the Young Women's Christian association.

The entertainment of the 600 or 700 delegates expected will be the most serious question, as this must be provided by the homes of the city. The Women's club has assumed responsibility for the social affairs to be given for the visiting women, but with ample funds and committees organized for such functions this will entail no anxiety.

The National society of the United States Daughters of 1812, State of Nebraska, held its last meeting for the summer Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Frank Crawford, 26 South Twenty-seventh street. Mrs. Herbert E. Gates, president, presiding. The regular executive routine work was transacted and after the reports of the state officers were read the board presented five applicants for admission. The following women were elected: Mrs. Daniel H. Miller, Kearney; Mrs. Verdetta M. Scofield, Seward; Mrs. Mahlon A. Nye, Kearney; Miss Rothery, Omaha; Mrs. Frank H. Garvin, Omaha. Mrs. Charles Dorsey Armstrong acted as chairman for the musical and literary program which followed. Several instrumental selections were given by Miss Nancy Martin and vocal selections by Miss Lancaster. A paper entitled "Battlefields that I Have Visited," loaned by the historian of the United States society and read by Mrs. Andrew K. Gault, was of interest. It was written by Mrs. Jane M. Kinney of Port Huron and had been first read in Detroit at one of the state society meetings. Refreshments were served and the members enjoyed a social afternoon.

Mrs. Scott Durand has been appointed one of the lecturers at the Maryland Agricultural college. She has been prominent in Maryland for several years as a social leader, a farmer and the owner and manager of a large dairy. In accepting the appointment she declared that there were a number of reforms which she wished to bring to the attention of the farmers and dairymen of her state, and she knew of no better way of doing it than lecturing to them or their children. Mrs. Scott is well known to club women.

Miss Helen V. Boswell of New York will not visit Omaha this week, as had been expected by local club women. Owing to an accident she will be unable to come west at all and will send a substitute to the Iowa Biennial. It was Miss Boswell whom the government sent to Panama two years ago to organize the women there into clubs with a view to bringing about some contentment among the families of men employed on the canal, and through the clubs to work out many other problems incidental to the social life of the isthmus.

The Canal Zone Federation of Women's Clubs was the result, and it has fulfilled the most sanguine expectations of its promoters.

Miss Boswell is now chairman of the Industrial committee of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, and in that office is one of the most conspicuous club women of the country.

Cayenne Pepper Woman's Weapon

Thrown Into the Eyes of Another Woman and May Impair the Sight.

With cayenne pepper in her eyes as the result of a fight with another woman in the same house, Mrs. Delgard, 408 Pierce street, is at her home with eyesight that may be seriously impaired. Mrs. Winnie Lynch, who lives on the upper floor of the house at 408 Pierce street, has been arrested on a charge of assault in connection with the pepper throwing and her husband is also in jail on the charge of vagrancy and non-support.

The trouble occurred at the Pierce street address at noon Thursday. Mrs. Lynch is said to have hurled the pepper into the Delgard woman's eyes as the result of trouble of long standing between them.

It is said by the police that Lynch lives at 129 South Fourth street and has not been supporting his wife. Mrs. Lynch's predicament is supposed to have been the start of the trouble between the two women and to have led to the pepper throwing.

Salter Wants Bonds Resubmitted

Fire Chief Will Ask Council to Approve Another Vote in the Fall.

Fire Chief Salter says the fire engine house bond proposition will be resubmitted to the people at the fall election in the event he can get the council to approve of resubmission, which he thinks he can.

"When the people of Omaha once understand that we are paying $300 a year rental for the central fire engine house at Eighteenth and Harney streets, and that this sum would, in a few years, pay for the construction of a house of their own, they will vote for these bonds, I think," says the chief. "We need more houses and we need more equipment for those we have. Prospective voters in the city inquire into the fire proposition the first thing, and we ought not to be backward in equipping our fire department and placing it at the top in perfection."

MRS. PHELPS FILES DENIAL

Contradicts Charges of Husband Concerning Her and John W. Bergers.

Mrs. Josephine Phelps filed Thursday in district court a reply to her husband's answer to her petition for divorce. The reply is a formal one and simply denies "each and every allegation" set up by Phelps in his answer which was filed May 3. Phelps then denied Mrs. Phelps' charges and countered with an accusation against Mrs. Phelps which involves John W. Bergers, accusing the two of misconduct at Bergers' home on Dewey avenue and at the Bergers' garage on Farnam street.

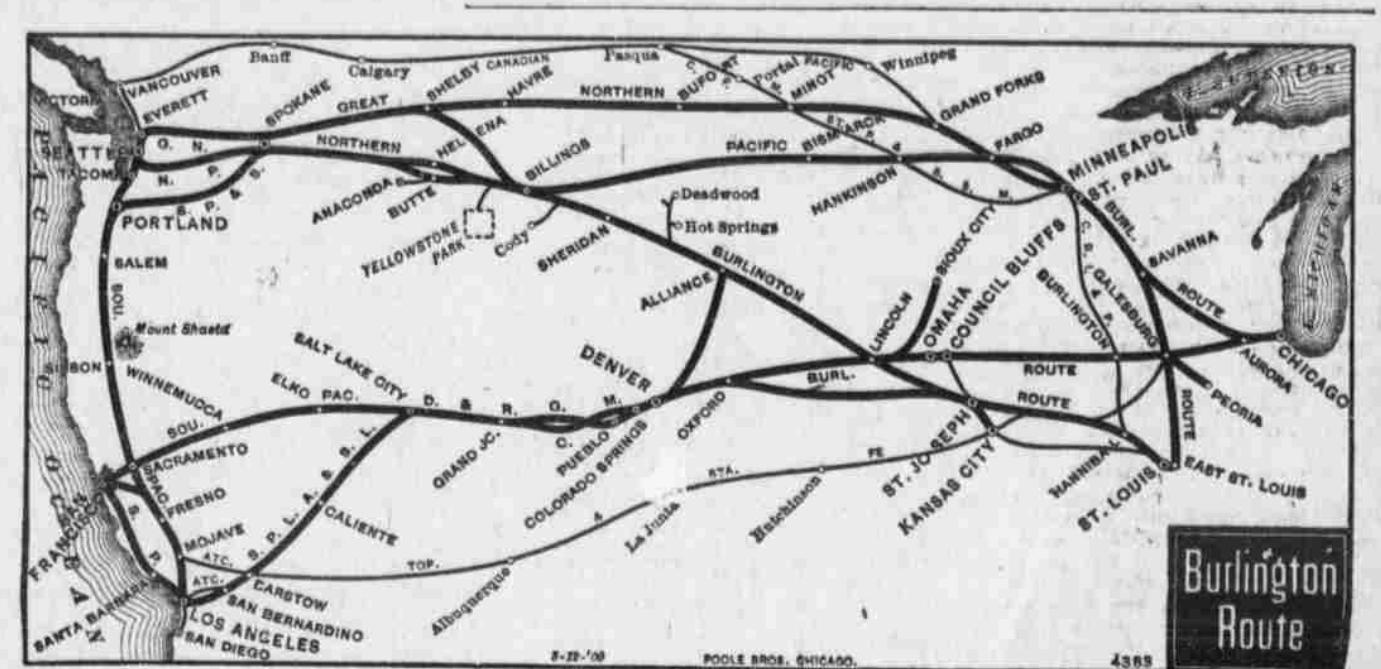

Army Notes

The Call of the Coast.
The Seattle Exposition invites you. The Pacific Coast country in the development of its marvelous civilization, solicits you to journey through that land. The melting snow of the mountains is a magical resource, shaped to the genius electrical and horticultural wizards; those mighty forests are the last of their kind left standing in this country; there are no such orchards, orange groves or floral landscapes in the world—nor have there ever been. On a tour of the Coast you pass through an empire, where the romance of the Spanish past has been merged with the human activities of the new West.
See your own country; see the West with its fast growing wealth, population and incomparable cities, and learn what a future it may offer to your sons; this five thousand mile journey is a broad education. 1909 offers much to tempt you.

ILLINOIS WOMAN MAKES REMARKABLE RECORD
Picks Eighty-Five Gallons of Berries Besides Performing Regular Housework.
Mrs. Anna Marling, R. F. D. No. 1, Box 57, Dennison, Clark county, Illinois, relates an interesting experience with the Cooper remedies, which have grown largely into popular favor during the past few years. She says:
"Four years I have suffered agony from stomach trouble, always experiencing severe pain immediately after eating. I had a very poor appetite, and often went without my meals in order to escape the distress that was sure to follow. My digestion was bad, I was troubled with gas on my stomach, and my bowels were in a wretched condition.
"I tried everything I heard of in an effort to get relief, but could find nothing that would help me. I became weak, run down and greatly discouraged. I could do scarcely any work and felt miserable all the time. I had no strength—everything was a drag, even my very existence. I could not sleep, and was so nervous and worn out that life hardly seemed worth living.
"Having read several announcements of the Cooper remedies, I was finally so impressed with the claims of L. T. Cooper and with the statements made by persons who had used his medicine, that I decided to give it a trial, and procure a treatment of Cooper's New Discovery.
"From the first day I started to use the New Discovery I began to improve. It put my stomach and bowels into perfect condition, cleaned my system of impurities, and built me up rapidly in flesh and strength. I was soon sleeping soundly at night, and in the morning felt rested, and ready for the day's work. By the time I had taken the full treatment my health was better than it had been in years.
"Last summer I picked eighty-five gallons of blackberries, besides doing my other work. The neighbors all remarked how well I was looking. And I told them it was Cooper's New Discovery that was doing it. I can never be thankful enough for the benefit I have derived from this splendid Cooper medicine.
"Cooper's New Discovery is now on sale by all druggists everywhere. A sample bottle mailed free upon request by addressing the Cooper Medicine Company, Dayton, Ohio."
