Elks Sell Lots for New Building; Langen Buys Again

Deal Made by George & Co. Insures Store Buildings at Seventeenth and Jackson.

When the Elks sold their corner lots at Seventeenth and Jackson streets for a consideration between $10,000 and $12,000, and J. A. Langen bought a tract of twenty-two acres on West Dodge street for $22,500 Thursday, another demonstration was given of the activity of Omaha real estate. Leonard Everett of Council Bluffs secured the northwest corner of Seventeenth and Jackson, where the Elks intended to erect a club house. Just back of the Young Women's Christian Association building

Store buildings will be erected on the lots, thus improving a neighborhood which is rapidly building up.

Mr. Langen also bought the Busch tract, opposite the beautiful Fairview addition, which has been built up by George & Co. and will erect a fine residence on the old Irish style. It will cost $15,000.

Mr. Langen last year bought the Beiden home at Thirty-fifth and Hawthorne for $30,000. This property is now for sale and the semi-country home will be erected on the West Dodge street tract.

George & Co. made the deals for the Elks, while J. A. Langen & Son bought direct from the owner, Mary L. Busch.
