ASSESSING NEW PAVEMENTS

Board of Equalization Will Take Up Work on June 2.

SEVENTEEN PIECES OF PAVING

Improvements Are to Cost in the Aggregate Twenty-Five Thousand Dollars and Be Done This Year.

The new Board of Equalization of the new city council will be called upon at its first meeting on June 2 to equalize assessments on seventeen pieces of street improvements. The papers have been prepared by the engineering department and embrace grading on eight streets, the opening and extending of five streets, paving on two alleys and laying of sewers on two streets. The work will cost nearly $25,000.

The streets to be graded and the estimated cost of the work are scheduled by the engineering department as follows:

Brown street between Florence boulevard and Twenty-fourth street, $1,345.00; Wakarusa street between Forty-sixth and Forty-eighth streets, $1,343.23; Thirty-fifth avenue between Mason and Pacific streets, $900.85; Webster street between Thirty-eighth and Fortieth streets, $15,911.00; Decatur street between Thirty-eighth and Fortieth streets, $942.19; Laird street between Florence boulevard and Twenty-fourth street, $342.38; Twenty-third street between Saratoga avenue and Brown street, $275.76.

The streets to be opened, together with the estimated cost of the work, are as follows:

Nineteenth avenue, between Jones street and St. Mary's street, $10,237.50; A street, between Twentieth street and Hector boulevard, $4,100.00; Sixteenth street, from C street to the south city limits, $460.00; Eighth street, between Dorcas and Arbor streets, $333.50; Seward street, between Military and Forty-first avenues, $276.25.

The alleys are to be paved. One is between Sixth and Seventh streets and runs from Marcy street to Leavenworth street, and the other is between Eighteenth and Nineteenth streets and runs from Harney street to Farnham street. The paving on the first will cost $1,920.70, according to the estimate, and on the other it will cost $1,520.38.

A sewer is to be built on Twenty-fourth street, between Dodge and Davenport streets, at a cost of $963.70, and the other on Hector boulevard and Twenty-third street, at a cost of $637.34.

AGED PATIENT CELEBRATES

Old Man Responds to Spring's Beckoning Call to Come and Have a Time.

The gladness springing so affected Charles Aylson, an aged inmate of the county hospital that he determined to celebrate. Even the attractive green fields could not hold him at the hospital, where he had been all winter, and Thursday he left the place and came "to town." That is all he remembers except that he took "one or two drinks." He is trying to recall the fun he had, now that he is in jail. He is being held by the police until the county authorities can take charge of him again.

Oranges for Health

Physicians state that an orange eaten before each meal will so regulate the system as to make the call of a doctor a rare occurrence.

Oranges promote the action of the gastric juices—aid digestion—act mildly on the liver and are wonderfully cooling in cases of fever. The choicest, ripest and most luscious oranges that reach the market are "Sunkist."

Ask Your Dealer for "Sunkist"

The California Fruit Growers' Exchange label the choicest oranges from their 5,000 groves "Sunkist." The delicious flavor of this perfect seedless fruit makes you keen for more of its kind. Ask your dealer for "Sunkist" Brand.

IOWA HONORS ANSEL BRIGGS

Removes Remains of First Governor from Omaha to Old Home.

WILL ERECT MONUMENT THERE

Martin Dunham, Only Surviving Pall Bearer Who Laid Away Body Twenty-Eight Years Ago, Present at Disinterment.

What was left after its twenty-eight years of interment of the body of Ansel Briggs, the first governor of Iowa, was disinterred at Prospect Hill cemetery Friday noon, placed in another casket for reinterment at Andrew, Ia.

The disinterment was made under the direction of a special committee of the Thirty-third general assembly of Iowa, consisting of State Senator James W. Ellis of Manuoketa, State Senator C. G. Saunders of Council Bluffs and State Representative Henry Brandes of Hancock, Pottawattamie county.

Others present at the disinterment were Mrs. John S. Briggs of Omaha, daughter-in-law of the late Governor Briggs; Martin Dunham of Omaha, the only surviving pallbearer of the funeral of Governor Briggs, which took place in May, 1841; G. G. Baird of the undertaking firm of Baird, Longnecker & Boland of Council Bluffs, which had charge of the disinterment; a reporter for The Bee and Superintendent D. C. Callahan of Prospect Hill cemetery.

Little was left of the body but the skull and a few of the limb bones, the whole having fallen into general decay and merged with the original casket. These were gently removed from the grave, wrapped in cloth and placed in the new casket.

The remains will be reburied in the family lot at Andrew, Ia., Sunday, with impressive ceremonies in which a delegation of the Iowa legislature and the Iowa Historical society will take part.

The Iowa legislative committee, with Mr. Dunham, were the guests of Mrs. Briggs at luncheon at the Paxton after their return from the cemetery.

The cemetery in which the late Governor Briggs will be buried at Andrew, Ia., was donated to that town by Governor Briggs many years ago.

His Active Career.

Ansel Briggs was born in the state of Vermont, February 3, 1806, and his wife, Nancy Dunlap, was born on the same date. He came to Iowa in 1838 and settled on lands where the town of Andrew now stands. He was engaged for several years in establishing stage lines, some times personally driving his own stages. In 1842 he was elected to represent Jackson county in the Iowa territorial legislature, and in 1846 became the first governor of the new state, and served as such until 1850, after which he returned to his old home in Andrew and engaged in general mercantile business, later establishing a newspaper there. During his tenure of office as governor he lost his wife by death, December 29, 1847.

Governor Briggs continued to make Andrew his home, but while visiting his son, the late John S. Briggs and family in Omaha in 1881, he was stricken and died in Omaha, May 5. He was buried in Prospect Hill cemetery May 8. His death was mourned all over the country and particularly in his home state of Iowa. The day following his death Governor Gear issued a proclamation reciting his services to the state and ordered half-hour guns to be fired and the national flag to be placed at half-mast on the state capitol on the day of his funeral.

State to Honor Him.

The Pioneer Lawmakers Association of Iowa passed resolutions urging that the state honor the memory of Governor Briggs by bringing his body back to the state. These were supplemented by similar resolutions of all the pioneer associations of the state of Iowa.

Senator James W. Ellis, of Jackson county, was the introducer of the bill in the Thirty-third general assembly of the state of Iowa, which provided for a sufficient sum to bring back the body of the late governor to the state he had served so well. This was supplemental to a similar bill by Senator Lambert in the previous session of the general assembly. The historical society of Jackson county took an active part in the matter, and in addition to the expense necessary to return the body to Iowa, an additional appropriation of $1,500 was made for the erection of a monument to the memory of Governor Briggs.

This monument will be dedicated and unveiled in September of the present year. It will be a plain granite shaft twenty-eight feet and eight inches above the ground and will have a weight of 30,000 pounds. The base will be of concrete and the pedestal from which the shaft will ascend will be carved with a map of the state, and lettering describing the services of Governor Briggs to the state, with the dates of his birth and death. A portrait of the governor will also be carved on one of the facades of the pedestal.

Small Towns Oppose Fast Train Schedules

Object to Passengers Going Through Without Stopping at Their Stations.

Railroad traffic managers are meeting with considerable opposition in their efforts to improve the train service of the west by adding numerous better equipped trains. Especially is opposition being met on the runs of the Burlington and Union Pacific from St. Louis to Denver, where a lack of two hours in the running time has been taken up under a new time card which will go into effect May 23.

To make this long run in two hours less time it has been found necessary to hasten through some of the smaller towns where stops have been made. These towns do not like to be passed up. The officials say it is necessary and that the towns are not injured because the new trains will take care of all the business at the smaller towns.

The speed with which some western railroads do business is shown by the way the Burlington was able to get out the issue of its new folder showing all the time-card changes which are effective May 23. Although some of the changes were not decided upon until quite recently, the folder is now out and ready for distribution. The folder map has been revamped and extended to include the coast territory, making it a map of over half of the continent. This was necessary because so many of the Burlington through trains now continue their journey on to the coast.

Through business to the Seattle exposition has started, for the reduced rates went into effect May 20. The Burlington had an extra sleeper out on the first day and has an extra car arranged for the next four days. This is the opening of a business which is expected to reach enormous proportions before the summer is very far advanced.

ACTRESS DORA KELLY MAKES BIG HIT IN POLICE COURT

But Not Big Enough to Beat the Judge to Raising Five from Her.

Dora Kelly, a member of the Ninth street colored dramatic club, is quite an actress. She never misses an opportunity for an effective bit of "business." So when Police Judge Crawford fined her and Lucy Burns, another Third ward chocolate drop, Friday morning, Dora assumed a decidedly mellow-dramatic pose, buried her empty traveling bag--otherwise known as a "handbag," although it will carry a small trousseau--to the floor and exclaimed:

"How can I pay a fine when dey tuk all mah money away from me?"

Of course Dora knew that she would get back everything taken from her at the time she was searched, and would be well able to pay her fine out of the proceeds of her dramatic activities, but the chance for a little hit was too great; she just couldn't pass it up.

Creighton Case Appeal Ample

So Rule Judges Redick, Estelle and Troup, Who Deny Motion to Dismiss.

Judges Redick, Troup and Estelle ruled Friday morning that the appeal in the Creighton case is sufficient in itself, and denied the motion of the attorneys for the heirs to dismiss the appeal.

The three equity judges had previously decided that the appeal could not be thrown out on account of alleged fault in its certification and the case will now go forward on its merits.

The case involves, primarily, the tenth paragraph of Count John A. Creighton's will, which includes the bequest for a working girls' home. The executors have now perfected their appeal from the decision of County Judge Leslie, who ruled against the bequest, and decided that the $100,000 should be distributed among the sixteen heirs, among whom are the executors.

Looking for the Bank Robbers

National Surety Company Man Comes to Consult the Police of Omaha.

Hoping to interest the Omaha police in a close search for the Cairo bank robbers in Omaha, R. A. Algire of the National Surety company was in the city Friday and called at the police station. He has just finished adjusting the loss of the Cairo bank and says the early reports of the amounts involved were substantially correct. About $1,500 is offered as a reward for the arrest and conviction of the four men who are supposed to have done the work.

An unusual feature of the case is pointed out by Algire in the fact that no break-downs or temporary defense of any kind were thrown up around the bank by the men who guarded the place against surprise while one or more other robbers blew and rifled the safe.

It is thought that the robbers may be apprehended when they attempt to use the money they secured, for much of it is thought to have been mutilated when the safe was blown.

BOTH SIDES ASK REHEARING

Danish Brotherhood and Guaranty Company Put Up Unique Proposition.

A motion for a new trial was filed Friday morning by Weaver & Gillier in the suit of the Danish Brotherhood of America against the United States Fidelity and Guaranty company. The other side, which lost in the hearing of the case before Judge Day, had previously urged a new trial. The plaintiffs asked for $30,000 and secured a verdict for $7,300.

The spectacle of both sides urging a second hearing is without precedent in recent time in district court. The plaintiffs hope to recover a large sum.

Horse Seller is Held by Police

Will Smith of Clarinda is Suspected of Dealing with the Wrong Animals.

Charged by the police with having sold some horses, buggies and harness for which he was caring in Council Bluffs and which belonged to other men, Will Smith, who says Clarinda, Ia., is his home, was arrested by Officer Lahey Friday morning. He is being held as a suspicious character until a complaint is filed against him.

Several horses, with equipment, are said to have been entrusted to Smith in Council Bluffs by men who wanted their animals broken and cared for. It is said that Smith sold one of the horses to James Griffin, 819 Eighteenth avenue, Council Bluffs, and another to A. R. McCrary, 304 Douglas street. The latter runs a livery barn in this city.

THIRD DEATH IN ONE YEAR

Mrs. Catherine C. Clason Third Member of Family to Die in That Time.

Mrs. Catherine C. Clason, for twenty-five years a resident of Omaha, died Friday morning at 1 o'clock, the third member of her immediate family to succumb within a year. A year ago her husband, Louis P. Clason, died, and last June her son, Charles, died. He leaves an unmarried daughter. The funeral will be held Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock from the residence, 329 Patrick avenue.

Kilpatrick's Saturday Specials

We have shown for several days in our West window, a lot of jewelry which represents a recent purchase from an importer. The lot was purchased at a very low price and will be sold on Saturday at 10 A. M. at figures which must impress you as being very low. We do not carry a full jewelry stock, but only such trinkets and knick-knacks as are usually found in a well appointed dry goods store. Don't miss this sale for really the prices border on the absurd and should cause a furore.

In our Upholstry Section--A small lot of odd Nottingham and Swiss Curtains ridiculously low to clean up. Nottinghams 29c each; Swiss at 15c each. There is a great pick in some instances; sale prices will be less than one-fourth regular value.

Men will be interested in a sale of very choice colored Shirts; choice patterns and very choice materials. You can pay most any price for a custom shirt and not excel the quality or styles. Our own prices, indeed, were $2.00 and $2.50; on Saturday at 10 A. M., $1.59 each. Backward season and cool weather furnish the only excuse or reason for selling them Saturday at $1.59 each. Men--don't miss looking at any rate--'twill be a little revelation to you, good dressers, in shirt pricing.

Saturday in Hosiery Section--Women's gauze lisle, full fashioned, foreign stockings, dainty shades, at 35c per pair. A very timely offering. We'll sell a moderate lot of dollar quality, embroidered lisle and novelty weaves, in choice hosiery at just half price--50c a pair.

It may not be amiss to mention a few particulars anent the jewelry sale--for the benefit of those who did not see the windows. Here are Hat Pins, Belt Pins, Belt Buckles, Dutch Collar Pins, Brooches, etc.

Four Lots: No. 1--Worth up to 35c, at 9c each. No. 2--Worth up to 85c, at 43c each. No. 3--Worth up to $1.50, at 69c each. No. 4--Worth up to $2.50, at 98c each.

Just in for Saturday selling--a lot of new Dutch Collars and Jabots--priced at 50c and 25c.

Thomas Kilpatrick & Co.

SUPPLEMENTARY--A few eleventh hour items--handed in at the last moment, announcing rare values at toilet section--for Saturday only: Bacabelle pure olive oil Castile Soap, regularly 10c; will sell at 5c a cake; Century Perfume Extract, Lawson Pink, Venetia Passion Violet, usually 25c per oz., Saturday 10c an oz. Batha Sweet, a rice powder which adds a delightful softness and exquisite odor to the bath, usually 25c can, Saturday 9c per can.
