RIGHTS OF ROAD IN AIR
 California Town Planning the Regulation of Aerial Navigation.
 The city attorney's office of Los Angeles is engaged in a search for aerial jurisdiction because the captive balloon at Santa Fe, after the manner of all balloons, veers with the wind over divers and sundry lands and lots owned by park neighbors. They object to sand ballast on the ground that it is a nuisance. They also protest against it on their roofs. The manager of the Aero club of California believes the time has come for regulating traffic between earth and heaven.
 To define the rights of balloons and airships and to protect aerial navigation, property owners and citizens from possible damage is the purpose of a proposed ordinance which the club is preparing for presentation to the city council. It will probably be the first in the world.
 The subject was brought to the attention of the city attorney and referred by him to Assistant Wilson. A conference was held between Wilson and the Aero club management and it was agreed that it is not untimely to have such an ordinance framed and presented for passage. Wilson suggested that members of the club formulate articles and then hold another conference with him.

 The Aero club members contend that the time is near when aerial craft will be common in southern California, and that some provision must be made for their legal operation. Already Knabeushue has flown all over the city in his dirigible; other airships are about to be constructed; a number of flights have been made with the balloons American and United States; several flying machines of the "heavier than air" variety have been completed and await success to insure local use; many models of other machines have been made and several are under process of construction. With all this going on the aero people believe that aerial navigation in southern California will be extensive very soon.

 The Aero club wants to make provisions requiring all balloonists to have permits, either from the Aero club or the city officials, as a protection against unskilled aeronauts; that sand taken up in a balloon be of a certain quality and sifted; that certain limitations be made regarding captive balloons; that airships and flying machines be required to keep away from buildings and wires except where landing places are provided, etc.—Los Angeles Times.

Chicago Beauty Squad.
 Chicago's experiment with a "beauty squad" of girls and women, acting as detectives to keep the lid on in places where their sex is known to seek refreshment with their escorts after midnight is fraught with possibilities of human interest. For instance, if a beauty-squadder in the discharge of her duty detects some one in whom she is interested entertaining a fair and unsuspected rival will there be some hair pulling added in the coil formalities of ordinary procedure? A curious nation watches with interest.—Chicago Journal.

Everybody Swears by Him.
 "Who's the best known man in this township?" queried the advance agent for the medicine show.
 "Well, young fellow," answered Uncle Elias Beaver slowly, as he carefully packed the tobacco in his black pipe, "Jake Seymour holds that record about now, by gains' the first new potatoes from his own garden," then Hank Calkins is a close second with his new peas. Aunt Sarah Stanton is attracting considerable attention with her flock of eighteen light Brahmas with an egg record of twelve dozens in eight days, the same hen' writ up in the Smithville Banner. An' Walte Weaver's building a new hip-roof barn. But I guess, everybody's most popular man about these parts now. Everybody seems to swear by the squire, ain't he? he's just been elected assessor.—Judge.
