Stone Says Bryan is Making Mistake

Missouri Senator Defends His Course in Tariff Fight Criticized by Nebraskan.

WASHINGTON, May 25.—A defense of his vote for a duty of 3 cents a ton on iron ore was made by Senator Stone today after the senator had today. As a prelude to this statement Mr. Stone read from an interview with William J. Bryan, declaring that democratic senators who had voted for the tariff on iron ore made a mistake. After an elaborate enunciation of his affectionate regard and respect for Mr. Bryan, Mr. Stone insisted that in this case he believed the famous Nebraskan to be in error and proceeded to give the arguments which had influenced him in reaching the conclusion that a "duty for revenue" should be levied upon iron ore.

Mr. Stone declared that he could see no way in which the United States Steel corporation could profit by the duty on steel, and he believed the great iron ore product of this country should be made to yield revenue.

Rain Aids at Junkin Trial

Downpour at Centerville Drives the Crowd Off Street at Opening of Negro's Case.

CENTERVILLE, Ia., May 25.—Apprehension of a mob attack on John Junkin has been relieved by rain, which has driven the crowds off the streets on the opening day of the negro's trial for the murder of Clara Rosen. Immediately following his arraignment he waived the right of three days' time before trial and the examination of 120 veniremen specially summoned began after the opening statements. The prosecution is conducted by Seneca Corbett, attorney, Judge J. C. Mitchell, is making no effort to get a jury of men who have not heard of the crime. A heavily armed guard protects the prisoner.

ALMA STREETS ARE FLOODED

Cloudburst Above City Makes Rivers of the Town's Streets and

ALMA, Neb., May 25.—(Special.)—About an inch of rain fell in this vicinity Sunday and Monday. Monday afternoon there was a cloudburst just north of Alma, one-half mile, and as there was only a light sprinkle in town the people were surprised to hear the roar of flowing water and John street and all streets west were filled from sidewalk to sidewalk with a solid body of water that came down the hill from the north so fast that the sewers were filled and streetswalks overflowed. LARGER FORCE ON THE TRAIL

Three More Postal Inspectors Join Search for Bandits.

RENTED FLAT AND AUTO A CLUE

Strange Conduct of Transient Tenants Excites Interest—Police Give Out No Clues, if They Have Any.

Three additional postoffice inspectors arrived in Omaha Tuesday morning to get to work on the registered mail robbery. They are Hal B. Mosby of Washington and Inspectors Patterson and Smith of St. Louis. What is regarded by the postoffice inspectors as an important clue developed Tuesday morning in which a hurriedly rented house on Twenty-fifth avenue and an automobile figure prominently. The premises in question, the immediate location of which the officials decline to make public, were rented about two weeks ago. The parties moved in hurriedly, remained there about a week and moved out again. Last Saturday the premises were rented again, the parties occupying merely the upper floor of the flat. About 10 o'clock Saturday night an automobile drove leisurely up in front of the house, only the driver being in it at the time. The auto remained in front of the house for about half an hour and then started, going southward. It was a medium-sized touring car.

Shortly after 1 o'clock Sunday morning this same auto appeared again in front of the flat, but the parties observing it did not notice again anyone in the auto. It was then faced toward the north, with auto light burning. The auto remained in front of the house until after the parties observing it had left. It was heard to move away some little time afterward, going northward.

The premises occupied by the parties who rented them Saturday are now vacant.

Up in the Air.

"We are up in the air in the train robbery, so far as tangible clues that have so far brought any developments are concerned," said Chief of Detectives John H. Savage and Police Captain Henry W. Dunn Tuesday noon.

"Our latest clue, which the Iowa automobile, for through the morning, was given to telephonic communication with the town marshal of Stanton and with the owner of the machine. All the other clues and theories we have had, including the express wagon going south after the holding the men at Fremont, the party of suspects in the vicinity a week before the holdup, the finding of the mutilated letters on the bottom land southeast of the city and others have led us nowhere.

"We are still up against catching the bandits and getting back the mail, and from present indications there is not a single clue that is going to lead us to our object. The best one we had, according to our opinion, was the Iowa auto, and it has turned out to have been the car used by a party of business men for a Sunday pleasure trip to Council Bluffs and back. On their return they lost their way in the evening and ended up at Henderson, from which town they took trains to nearby stations where they lived."

Kept at the Garage.

It has been discovered that instead of putting up at a Council Bluffs garage at 1 a. m. Sunday, as reported to the Omaha police, the machine was kept at the garage for a short time Sunday noon, after which it was started back toward Stanton by the owner, Albert Lawson, a farmer living near Stanton.

The fact that two of the train robbers were thought by the few people who saw them, masked and closely disguised, to be young, and that the two men who held up and robbed Conductor A. Deane and Motorman C. O. Haskins on their street car at Tenth and Valley streets Friday morning, are also reported by the car crew as looking young, are all that support the theory that the car thugs participated in the mail robbery.

In both cases the men were masked and nothing could be seen of anything but their outer clothes and the manner and voice employed. The police say the street car holdup men "might" have participated in the train holdup.

Shapiro Picked Up False Scent.

Sheriff Bradley is also shy on clues. Some woman out at Florence telephoned in Tuesday morning that a man was prowling around her place and acting "queer."

"This is no time to act queer," shouted the doughty sheriff, as he jumped into his big rubber boots and buckled on his rain coat and hit out for the station seven miles to the north, where the Mormons planted their tree. "I'll see how people take liberties with me and act queer."

From the best of the sheriff's knowledge the man was trying to locate the negro.

HERNDON CLUE PROVES FALSE

Owner of Mysterious Automobile is Found and Explains Action.

DEER MOON, Neb.—The mysterious trail of the automobile from Omaha to Henderson, Ia., which the Pinkerton detectives followed today and thought was made by the train robber who held up the Union Pacific passenger train Sunday morning turned out to be a false clue. Albert Lawson, the farmer who owned automobile No. 23, was located at this station this afternoon and stated over the telephone that he left Stanton Sunday morning with his automobile, accompanied by Victor Wallin, hardware merchant, J. S. Sandin, rural route carrier and Dr. McMasier, dentist. They went to Omaha to see the sights and returned in the evening, but the roads being bad they deserted the machine at Henderson and came some on the train. The first they heard of the train robbery was of their way to Omaha Sunday morning.

PANIC-STRICKEN MOTHERS STORM NEW YORK SCHOOLS

Thousand Excited Women Try to Rescue Children from Threatening Fire.

NEW YORK, May 25.—A panic stricken mob of nearly 1,000 women, mothers and relatives of the 500 children who attend the East Side public school at Forsyth and Stanton streets, stormed the doors of the school house today when a fire started in a six-story tenement house adjoining. Realizing the serious consequences that would follow if the excited women got inside the school house, the janitor quickly closed and bolted the doors and the teachers managed to quiet the children. No one was injured.

Fake Advertising Hit.

FREMONT, Neb., May 25.—(Special.)—The directors of the Fremont Commercial club at their monthly meeting voted to turn down such schemes as cook books, directories, except the local directory, hotel registers, programs, map and time cards, which will practically confine advertising to newspapers. The city has been worked extensively by advertising schemes during the last year and business men were getting tired of them.

Roosevelt Takes Shot at Fake Special Writers

Ex-Specialist Says So-Called Special Stories of Hunting Trip Are Not to Be Credited.

NAIROBI, British East Africa, May 25.—A special correspondent of the Associated Press returned to Nairobi this morning after a two days' visit to the Roosevelt camp as the guest of Mr. Roosevelt.

The camp was located on the Heatley ranch on the banks of the Nairobi river. Mr. Roosevelt and his son Kermit are in remarkable good health and they are delighted with the success of their expedition. The accuracy of the rifle fire of Mr. Roosevelt and his son has astonished not only the settlers, but the members of the party. Kermit killed, recently, at close range, a hyena that had attacked him and he has also come near making a record bag of female warthogs in a given space of time.

Today the party is staying at the Heatley ranch, but tomorrow Mr. Roosevelt, his son and Edmund Heller are coming into Nairobi. Major Kearns and J. Alden Loring will remain at the Ju Ja ranch until Wednesday, collecting birds and mammals.

Mr. Roosevelt is annoyed at certain special dispatches which, it is reported here, are appearing in American and English newspapers. He associates the Associated Press to send out the following statement: "No newspaper has a representative with the Roosevelt party, nor any nearer means of gaining information of the party's doings beyond what is generally known. Any special dispatches appearing in any human probability in the newspapers. Moreover, the details which purport to be thus obtained can only be due to bribery, and it is safe to state that a dishonorable man, accepting a bribe, and a dishonorable man, accepting the same, would be willing to invent untruths for money or traffic in other forms of dishonesty."

SUGAR SCHEDULE BEFORE SENATE

Mr. Eney made no effort to conceal his protective predictions. "A tariff for revenue only," he said, "was never contemplated by the builders of our great constitution. It is a tariff for revenue only has no place in our system of government. No tariff can be levied without carrying protection in some degree."

No tariff, he contended, was ever adopted by any democratic congress or signed by any democratic president without the protection of a tariff. "The Wilson-Gorman law," he added, "was quite notorious for some of its protective features."

Raising his voice and for the time abandoning his set speech, Mr. Eney said: "It is gratifying at this session of congress we notice a great change of opinion among Democrats who are voting for a duty on raw material although at one time free raw material was considered a cardinal principle of the democracy. I hope that the conditions of the country, its necessities and the liberality generally that is pervading all classes of the people, may dictate to the democrats the abandonment of all the absurd theories of free trade and cause them to come in with the great body of the people and vote a liberal protection for all the manufacturing interests of the country, including the independent farmers declared it should be of all foreign nations."

Pratt's Aldrich Bill.

The Louisiana senator stated that so far as he could discover the Aldrich bill imposed no injury to any domestic interest, "nor," he added, "has there been imposed in any of its schedules any burden upon the people."

After Mr. Eney entered upon his speech many republican senators crossed the chamber and sat in rapid succession. Senator Aldrich, Sutherland, Gamble, Scott, Page, Smith (Mich.), Bristow, Root, Bradley, Crawford, Burton, Johnson and Stephenson closely attended upon the words of the venerable Louisiana senator. His remarks did not appear to be so popular among the democrats as towards the latter part of his address, only his colleague, Senator Foster, together with Senator Daniel gave him special attention.

Senators Overman, Hughes and Barkhead occupied seats on the outskirts of the democratic side, but no other senators of the minority were within the chamber.

Later Mr. Bailey and Mr. Bacon joined the little group about the Louisiana senator. Mr. Eney had not concluded when the session adjourned.

FIGHT FOR POSITION AND RATE

Administration and Anti-Forces Are Hustling at Pierre.

PIERRE, S. D., May 25.—(Special Telegram.)—The fight in the Ancient Order of United Workmen promises to center on the places of master workman and grand recorder, with no full states outside these two places. T. M. Simmons, present grand master, seeks re-election, and with him J. H. Parrott of Pierpont is grand recorder. On the other hand, Olaf Nelson of Yankton, present grand foreman, desires to be grand master, and with him J. D. Lavin of Aberdeen, desiring to hold his position as grand recorder.

The afternoon session was given up to the discussion of the rate question, and the trend appears to be that the Simmons, or administration rate will be adopted, which is a minimum of 50 cents on the $1,000 for younger members and a maximum of 25 on the $1,000 at 40 years old or over. It is expected that a vote on the rate proposition will be secured some time Wednesday.

SUNDAY BEE MAKES A HIT

Story on Development of Furnas County Greatly Appreciated

BEAVER CITY, Neb., May 25.—(Special.)—The Sunday Bee arrived in Beaver City on schedule time in spite of heavy rain and consequent bad roads. The Sunday mail comes by stage route from Oxford, no passenger trains being run on this branch on the Burlington that day. The special writup of Beaver City and Furnas county, illustrated with halftones, was eagerly read forward to and most appreciatively read. The extra supply of papers of large proportions were sold at once, and the demand was not then satisfied. By the new train schedules of the Burlington the latest edition of the Bee now reaches Beaver City on week days shortly after 10 o'clock a. m., and the Sunday issue at 4 o'clock p. m.
