$6,000.

2022 Wirt street. This is an ideal home for someone with a large family, located on the choicest street in Kountze Place. The street is paved with asphalt and the lot has large shade trees in front and is nicely terraced.

There is reception hall, parlor, living room, library, dining room and kitchen on the first floor and five bedrooms and bath on the first floor, also attic. House is built of very heavy lumber throughout, having 2x5 studding instead of the ordinary 2x4 studding used nowadays, and most of it is white pine lumber. The ceilings are high. There are bay windows on three sides of the house. It has the latest style of open plumbing and several years ago one of the best hot water heating plants was installed. Large front porch was put on last year. The house is in first-class repair throughout. The owner of this property is anxious to sell and has made a very reasonable price for quick sale.

It will not be necessary to pay all eash, as the owner will take a mortgage back for over half the amount. You can call at our office or so direct to the house and look it over. Possession can be given in a very short time.

ROUTING CUPID BY PHONE

There's Always More or Less Trouble When a Party Line is o in Tae.

Out on a quiet east end of Cleveland

lives a little married woman who will This woman has a telephone that is or a party line. The other "party" on the line is a boarding house where a desen or more young men take their meals, each young man having, of course, one or more golls to fret about. These young men call up from the boarding house while they're picking their teeth after meals, to make definite and certain arrangements for sitting on the cosy corners that they have picked out for theirs. The result is that when a married woman on the line wants to call up her dressmaker or make a bridge date, she has to wait for hours at a time while the members of the handholders' crowd with hearts keeping syncopated time together, e'en though far apart, ping pong their conversation back and forth over the wires.

She thought for a time of asking the telephone company to put her on another line. But she thought then of another way to get possible relief. Now whenever there is a conversation going on ever that line she "listens in." The other night a young man at the boarding house notified an East Cleveland creature that he would be out to do a fireside companion turn that evening. Then the married woman in a soft gurgle voice butted in. "Why," she says, "you can't go out there. You told that Lorain avenue girl you'd be over tonight." The last Cleveland party supposed the interruption came from somebody at the boarding house who knew just what every boarder had booked for the week. That's one case that this revengeful married woman has put on the blink and will have to answer for. Then a few days ago this woman heard two rings for the boarding house. She answered the phone herself, and as nobody answered at the boarding house she did the talking. "Is Mr. Jones there?"

a peart voice inquired. "Why, no," replied the woman with the Mrs. to her name, "he went over to Tosedo to be married tonight." The next day when that supposedly married-in-Toledo man sought to book a place on a certain pillow strewn davenport he got his. If that boarding house doesn't put in a private line soon shattered romances will be lying about the place as thick as napkin rings.-Cleveland Plain Dealer.
