had diverted the carriage in a peculiar way. Several shots were fired out of the two automatic guns found and the gun numbered 11282 gave the identical markings on the shells. This was considered a great point. At this time Marshal Warner said: "You can say for me that there is absolutely no doubt that the guns found in Brown park are the ones used in the Overland Limited hold-up. If the connection can be made between the cache and the men we have the case clear." The officers were all busy on the case from that time until the finding of the mail sacks as narrated confirmed the discovery. After the finding of the first gun had been reported and the children were excused in the afternoon they immediately went into the draw and searched for more guns. Soon John Petach, Seventeenth and S. discovered the pocket searchlight. With him were Anton Kubat and Harold Whitaker. John Swoboda, 471 South Eighteenth street, found the big Colt revolver. Frank Kudrna, Eighteenth and O streets, discovered the third gun, an automatic Colt gun. Two magazines each were found for the automatic guns and they were loaded full of cartridges. Friday morning when the events of the night became known to the pupils of the school the teachers were unable to repress the eagerness of the children, who, breaking restraint, took to the woods in search of more booty.

Vavra Consults Lawyer.
It is said of John Vavra, the janitor who made the discovery of the mail sacks in the unfinished attic of the building, that he consulted a lawyer before he made known his find. This is not the first instance of the aftermath of the robbery when the reward was carefully considered. It is the first instance, however, that a discovery was delayed from morning until afternoon for the sake of that kind of interest.
John Krolk, the boy who made the first discovery, is a Bohemian boy not larger than a minute. He is thin faced and slender of limb and most entirely innocent of any detective instinct. He ventured timidly to the jail during the evening and announced modestly that he was the boy who made the discovery. He is only 11 years of age.

It is evident that some nice distinctions will have to be drawn by the arbiters of the reward.
The thought of having the five school boys and janitor identify the trio of alleged robbers came to Postoffice Inspector Hal B. Mostby and F. E. Miller of St. Louis, one of the Pinkerton men. Thus they were the first to be recovered from the mail cache by the postoffice inspectors. The indications seem now to point to the fact that there was not a great amount of money in the sacks. A quantity of foreign money offers were found, and a number of letters picked up in the loft were addressed to foreign countries.
The government authorities are strongly of the opinion that the fourth man, who is not apprehended, has got away with most of the money, whatever amount of money was obtained.
Candles Point to Guilt.
A strong point in the evidence is the fact that a clear wax candle was found in the grip belonging to Torgensen on Woods in the room at 234 North Twenty-fifth street, and another of exactly similar kind was found in the cache at Nineteenth and V streets, South Omaha. It is one more link in the chain which makes the identity of the highwaymen assured.

PROMPT TRIAL OF BANDITS
District Court Has Prior Jurisdiction and Will Maintain It.
The main reasons may have a comparatively quick trial. The sentences among the judges of the district court that their trial should be speedy. It is possible that it will take place as early as July. June is out of the question, other important criminal cases having the right of way.
The bandits can be prosecuted in either state or federal court in both jurisdictions. The state has the first claim, however, because it was by officers of the state that they were arrested. The federal court cannot take the men until the county is willing to surrender them.
Robbing a mail car is of course a crime against the United States with life imprisonment as a penalty. Life can also be imposed in the district court, a special statute covering the offense.
"I have not had time to consider what evidence there is yet," said County Attorney English last evening. "And more is of course likely to come. There is no disposition on our part to turn the men over to federal authorities for prosecution until we are through with them."

KIDS ARE IN FOR PART OF PRIZE
They Gave the Tip and Are Entitled to a Reward Money.
The little boy and one little girl who gave the tip that led to the arrest of the robbers are expected to share liberally in the reward offered by the Union Pacific and the government. The Union Pacific offers $50,000 and the government $4,000 and the railroad made its offer specifically "for the apprehension." It did not include "any reward," as in the case most of the time in such instances.
The little fellows are all from families who can put money to good use, so whatever they get will be so much "velvet" and fill a big purse. Before their tip not an officer in either city had a single tangible clue on which to base anything.

PHOTOGRAPH PROOF OF COLLUSION
Picture Discovered in Grip Shows Men's Comrades.
A strong point against the men lies in the fact that after Gordon and Torgensen had disclaimed any knowledge of Woods or his being a comrade of theirs, the photograph of them, with Woods and the fourth man, was discovered in the grip identified as belonging to Woods. This photograph is on a postal card and the four are seated in an automobile with a young woman on the front seat. The young woman has not been identified as yet and it is not supposed she is in Omaha. The picture was taken in a Denver studio and as such shows the men were comrades for some considerable time.
Gordon gave the police a merry chase for a time. He said he could not find his lodging house, although he had been in Omaha several days. He started out in a dozen different directions and after going several blocks, invariably stopped and said he could not locate the room.

PICK WOODS AS THE LEADER
Savage and Donahue Think He is the Boss of the Gang.
That Woods is probably the leader of the gang suspected of the robbery is deemed likely by Chief Donahue and Captain Savage of the Omaha police department. The description of the man suspected by the Omaha officers, is given out as follows:
Six feet tall, 35 or 40 years of age, weighing 175 or 180 pounds, medium complexion, with badly sunburned and tanned face. He is reported to have been last seen in Omaha before the hold-up about Friday on the streets in company of a good looking blonde woman. He and two partners were tried in Missouri for a similar bit of hold-up work and he went free, while his pals were torney general, and we have not been asked to plead yet.

"The case was one of the fiercest in which I have ever been engaged. We got a good jury of sixteen men, and, as the indictments were promptly returned, it is evident that the government has made good. Of course, the defendants were playing for the statute of limitation, but they lost out completely.

"I do not know just when the trials will take place, but probably not until the fall term. Judge Marshall has returned to Salt Lake, and I do not think he is disposed to go into the trial of the case until fall."

-who gives most for $15

—why, the dealer who supplies you with "Bam-pock" young fellows' clothes, of course.
—and inasmuch as WE are the only Omaha handlers of "Bam-pock" clothes, well then, THIS is the house giving MOST for $15.00.
—of course we don't mean the most in bulk—some houses furnish complete suits for $2.95—but we mean the MOST style; the MOST excellence as is judged from a tailor's viewpoint; the MOST immaculateness of character in clothes for young men.

-the sort of suit $15 will purchase from us

—$15 invested in young men's clothes here, will secure a suit in a fabric that would gladden a critic's eye—one of the other of those strictly elite valours in checks or stripes; a suit in striking chevrot, a hussman, or a really select cast-iron cloth.
—$15 one reveals among the accepted ideas of color; PERFECT smoke greys; FROXY olive greens, tans, etc.—the season's newest.
—at $15 one secures OUR idea of tailoring, which means a grade that would test the mettle of any custom tailor you know.
—truly, if you're a young man who wears a garment of from 32 to 38 chest measure, well then, you'll find WE give you the MOST for $15—we really do.

Confession Looked For.
There is a strong belief by the federal authorities that Gordon will "come over" and confess. He was put through the sweat box by Chief Briggs, the federal inspectors, Pinkerton men and the post-office inspectors last evening and began to manifest some signs of willing. The evidence meanwhile is piling up. The finding of several exploded cartridges among the ammunition of the cache and the fact that the gun was used recently adds another point, the arrival of United States Marshal Warner with cartridges from the hold-up completing the link. It was discovered that one gun at the hold-up
