*Sunday. CATTLE—There were no fresh receipts of cattle this morning, at least none of any consequence, and as practically everything was cleaned up yesterday, the market was bare of supplies, which is the usual situation on a Saturday. The receipts for the week foot up over 17,000 head, being a slight failing off as compared with last week, but a gain of about 10,000 head as compared with the corresponding week of last year. A feature of the week's run has been the large proportion of good, heavy cattle that have been received. In spite of the fact that the price of corn has CATTLE-There were no fresh receipts has been the large proportion of good, heavy cattle that have been received. In spite of the fact that the price of corn has been high, it is very evident from the number of finished heavy cattle arriving that feeders have practiced less economy in the matter of feeding corn than might be expected under existing conditions.

Owing to the fact that all market points have been very liberally supplied with heavy beef steers in the face of a small expert demand, the market on that kind of cattle throughout the week has been dull and prices locally are 10215c lower. Handy light and medium weight cattle of good quality have been in moderate supply throughout the week, and as they have been most sought after by buyers, prices on that kind have been fully steady or even strong. The trade on this latter kind of cattle has been active at this point every day throughout the week, while heavy cattle have been more or letss of a drag.
