Lower Cables Ineffective and Pit Plays for Final Break.

Bullish News from the Southwest Makes Market Firmer and Sends Values Up to Strong Closing Point.

OMAHA, May 29, 1909. Lower cables were ineffective. The pit crowd played strong for a final break with crowd played strong for a final break with no result. Bullish news from the southwest of formed the market and values worked higher and closed strong.

A broad market is to be expected owing to the present light stocks on hand and the uncertainty in the growing crop.

Corn showed better tone with no advance, owing to free offerings. Demand is good and good sales were reported. The very best of growing weather has started corn from the country holders.

Wheat showed a tendency to weaken with lower cables at the opening, but unfavorable news from Kansas and a renewed support in the distant futures rallied the market and the demand for cash wheat held May option strong resulting in a slight advance. May wheat opened $1.33 and closed $1.34.

Corn held firm with the advance in wheat

$1.33 and closed $1.34.

Corn held firm with the advance in whent and reports of heavy sales offset the bearish sentiment on the favorable weather conditions. With an in:provement in the cash demand, liberal offerings were easily absorbed, sustaining prices at the close. May corn opened at tobic and closed at 69-3c.

Features of the Trading and Closing

Prices on Board of Trade.

CHICAGO, May 29.—The famous "deal" in May wheat came to an unostentatious end today at the close of a session marked by no more enthusiasm than is manifested of the control o on any ordinary day. Only one price-$1.34

-was quoted for that delivery throughout the entire day, which is Uac below the best mark for the season and ic above yesterday's final figures. The market closed irregular, the nearby deliveries being firm while the more distant options were inwhile the more distant options were in-connection with the expiration of the May deal in wheat failed to materialize and trading throughout the entire day was quiet. A few belated shorts covered sairs at the opening at $1.39, but no transactions were recorded during the remainder of the day. Sentiment in the pit was mixed owing to the conflicting crop news and many tradecrew of the holiday Monday, Local experts who have been investigating the wheat crop of Kansas sent in additional builtish reports, but advices from other sources failed to confirm these reports of a probable shortage. Deliveries of wheat today on May contract aggregated 51.000 bushels. No defaults were reported. The market closed quiet and comparatively steady, with prices $2 hower to 1 higher. WEATHER IN THE GRAIN BELT FAILS TO MAKE GOOD ON EFFORT Unsettled and Cooler, with Showers and Thunder Storms.

OMAHA, May 23, 1809.

The barometric depression noted over the mountain district in the preceding report has moved slowly eastward during the last twenty-four hours and now extends, in a trough shape, from the western Canadian provinces south over the eastern slope of the Rocky mountains to Texas, with its center over central Nebraska. The depression is followed by unsettied weather and rains in the mountains, and is causing increasing cloudiness throughout the central valleys this morning. The "low" will continue eastward over the central valleys today and will be attended by unsettled and cooler weather with showers and thunderstorms in this vicinity tonight and probably Sunday. High temperatures prevailed throughout the central valleys Friday and warmer weather is extending slowly eastward.
