

ALDRICH AND STONE CLASH

Senator from Missouri Criticizes Rhode Islander's Reference to German Government.

LATTER RESENTS THE CHARGE

Says His Remarks Were Directed at German Manufacturer.

DEBATE CONSUMES TWO HOURS

Senator Depew Also Involved in Controversy.

SHARP CRITICISM BY LAFOLLETTE

Budget State Senator Assails Finance Committee Withheld Information from the Senate.

WASHINGTON, June 3.—The senate was not in an amiable state of mind today and as a consequence there were several clashes of temper. The day was begun with a speech by Senator Stone of Missouri, in which he asserted that the German officials had taken exception to remarks recently made by Senator Aldrich relative to the wage statement supplied by the German government at the request of the American secretary of state. Mr. Aldrich had characterized as "impertinent" the effort, which he claimed had been made in that statement to influence American tariff legislation and Mr. Stone undertook to show that the epithet had been applied to the German government. Mr. Aldrich resented this implication but he repeatedly said that the German manufacturer had undertaken to influence the course of the tariff bill and he charged that in so doing they had been guilty of impertinence.

During the course of his remarks Mr. Aldrich intimated that Mr. Stone was acting as a representative of Germany and this remark aroused the anger of the Missouriian. Declaring his right to speak his mind as an American senator, he said the use of the expression was "a gross impertinence."

The colloquy consumed almost three hours of time. Senator Aldrich paid a high compliment to the German people and their emperor and the incident closed for the day with the statement by Mr. Stone that while Mr. Aldrich and Mr. Depew, who also had been involved in the controversy had not made a straightforward retraction as he had believed they should, they had so "sugared the dose as to relieve it of its bitter taste."

Following the Aldrich-Stone episode, Senator La Follette resumed his speech in opposition to the cotton schedule, which proved to be a general criticism of the methods of the finance committee. He asserted that the German wage report had, contrary to a statement by Mr. Aldrich, reached the committee before the tariff bill was referred to the senate and he charged the committee with general neglect in withholding information from the senate.

He opposed the new cotton duties as an excessive and made an argument in favor of a general scaling down.

Towards the close of the afternoon session Mr. La Follette became quite exhausted and an effort was made to obtain permission for him to suspend and resume again tomorrow. Senator Aldrich took advantage of the incident to make an effort to obtain an agreement to vote on the cotton schedule at a fixed hour tomorrow. In this he was successful and after ten or fifteen minutes of recuperation the Wisconsin senator proceeded.

At 5:30 the senate recessed until 8 o'clock. Stone and Aldrich Clash.

Senator Aldrich's characterization of the course of any government, which might send to this country any anonymous statement concerning prices in the foreign country with a view of influencing legislation was made the subject of an acrimonious colloquy in the senate today between Mr. Aldrich and Senator Stone.

The previous remark of Mr. Aldrich was based upon the fact that in response to a request from our own state department, the German authorities had forwarded to this government a statement of manufacturing concerns concerning the rate of wages in Germany, with a request that the names of the manufacturers be not used.

Senator Stone brought up the question soon after the senate convened by reading a telegram from Berlin declaring the German government had taken offense at Mr. Aldrich's language because of the important position he occupies in his party and in congress. Reading from Mr. Aldrich's original remarks Mr. Stone said: "When the senator from Rhode Island made that somewhat petulant and extraordinary declaration, every one here took notice, and I think every one regarded his utterance as impolitic if not impudent."

Mr. Stone said he was not surprised that Germany had taken notice of this utterance and felt offended by it. Mr. Aldrich, who had listened attentively to the words of the Missouri senator, arose and said: "I made no charge against the German government. I was talking about German manufacturers, whose names were kept from us and who furnished information with the express understanding that it was not to be used in the enforcement of our customs laws. The senator may consider that information of value. I do not. There is no question about it. The German government has been at all. The German government forwarded these statements with the distinct understanding that they were not to be used to raise the invoice value of goods imported into the United States contrary to our laws. I repeat that any attempt on the part of any government to influence legislation on the tariff matter is impertinent. I did not say the German government made such an attempt, but if any government made such an attempt it would be impertinent."

Mr. Stone insisting that the senator from Rhode Island had referred to the German government as impertinent, again read the statement made by Mr. Aldrich as it appeared in the record. "I was not discussing the German government in that regard, but was referring to various statements before the committee," said Mr. Aldrich, who added with energy, "the senator is mistaken. I am not mistaken," insisted Mr. Stone.

Escaped Convict Takes on Role of Millionaire

Romantic Career of Charles Harding Closes with Disclosure After Marriage with Belle.

RAINSBIDGE, Miss., June 3.—It took Charles Harding, alias A. D. Oliver, just five months and three days to run "the social gamut from escaped convict through the roles of promoter, millionaire, evicted bridegroom of south Georgia and back to the penitentiary again. The climax came today, when Sheriff Jones of Monroe county, Mississippi, arrived here and identified A. D. Oliver as the Charles Harding who escaped from his custody on December 31 last. Harding, said the sheriff, had eleven years to serve in Mississippi for obtaining money under false pretenses.

Early in January "Oliver" appeared at Climax, Ga., near here, and the report was spread that he was worth $5,000,000. He posed as a capitalist, bought lumber mills and timberlands and established a bank at Climax. At the height of his success "Oliver" married Miss Rose English.

Dr. Cleminson Changes Front

Stops Talking About Death of Wife and Will Fight Every Step.

CHICAGO, June 3.—Police Captain Kane said today he had practically abandoned hope of securing any further admissions from Dr. Haldane Cleminson, charged with the murder of his wife.

"Dr. Cleminson has secured an attorney and apparently has made up his mind to fight every inch of the case against him," said Captain Kane. "We are now investigating several clues, among them the doctor's alleged relations with women. There are many of these, and we have learned that Dr. Cleminson made no secret of them to his wife, except that he used no names."

Although Judge Clifford refused to release the prisoner on a writ of habeas corpus yesterday, it is said a new move is being planned in the courts before another judge, probably on the grounds that there is no legal evidence on which to hold the accused physician. Meanwhile the police are working to remove the prisoner from the police station to the county jail.

Harriman Stocks Go Soaring

Southern Pacific Leads in Furious Bull Flurry on New York Exchange.

NEW YORK, June 3.—Furious buying of Southern Pacific railroad stock was the leading feature of a sudden revival of speculation in the stock market today. Interest was congested in a few prominent stocks, notably the Harriman-Pacifc and United States Steel. A sudden upward rush of nearly 5 points in Southern Pacific had an impressive effect on the whole market. It was unexplained by any news, but rumors of an intended increase in dividends and of a proposition to retire the preferred stock figured in the gossip induced by the spectacular movement.

The buying was accredited to inside sources and showed no evidence of coming from a public demand. United States Steel stock continued its remarkable rise and touched new high levels within a fraction of 5. Preparation for the introduction of this stock to the Paris bourse were held to account for its strength. The whole market was strong and active, but nothing like the extent of these leading speculative favorites.

Missouri Pacific Simply Laughs at Business Men

The Missouri Pacific just laughs at the business men of Omaha who dare protest its action in cutting off several miles from the switching district of this city and gets so tickled over the joke that it can't take the thing seriously. When called "on the carpet" before the august State Railway commission this would road covers its broad smile with one hand and with the other shoves a bushful boy in its employ onto the witness stand as its sole representative to answer the profound questions pronounced by the commission and the business men and their attorneys as to why this switching district was thus ruthlessly circumscribed.

BIG STRIKE NEAR AN END

Mayor Rebyrn of Philadelphia Says Traction Tieup Will Be Settled Soon.

Agents of Conflicting Interests Hold Extended Conference.

MORE RIOTING DURING DAY

Second Outbreak of Sympathizers Comes During Noon Hour.

OFFICER SHOT, HUNDRED HURT

Mob Resents Arrival of Strike Breakers and Reign of Terror Follows, in Which Property is Burned.

PHILADELPHIA, June 3.—Mayor Rebyrn stated at 6:30 this evening that the strike would be settled within an hour. This is believed to be the result of a conference held this afternoon between State Senator McNichol, the republican leader, Director Clay, Mayor Rebyrn and the representatives of the trolley men.

PHILADELPHIA, June 3.—Mayor Rebyrn said this afternoon that developments were expected that might end the strike at any minute. It is believed arbitration is in sight, as Senator McNichol, the republican leader of this city, has taken an active part in the consultations today between city officials and representatives of the transit company, and it is believed the political heads are fearful their cause will be injured by a prolongation of the strike.

PHILADELPHIA, June 3.—Conditions were quieter this morning in Philadelphia than in the riotous night of yesterday. The Philadelphia Rapid Transit company put into effect its order to run cars after midnight, a thing that has not been attempted since the strike of its motormen and conductors began last Saturday.

At 11 o'clock C. O. Pratt, the strike leader, announced that he had called out the elevated and subway motormen and 100 per cent of the force against him. The strike was tied up. The company claims there is no strike; that two crews quit and their places were filled. It is understood that some of the men who stopped work this morning returned to their trains when assured of protection. Ample police protection now accompanies each train.

Rioting is Renewed. During the noon hour when the streets were filled with men and boys employed by business houses there were several disturbances that bordered on a riot. One block from the postoffice a crowd surrounded a car, dragged the motorman and conductor off and beat them, and for a while the air was filled with missiles. The windows and show cases of a drug store were smashed. Women passengers in the car crowded, terrified, on the floor while a policeman was hit on the head by a brick and seriously hurt. On a riot call a patrol wagon filled with policemen scattered the crowd and made several arrests.

All of those injured in last night's rioting will recover. About 100 are under treatment in hospitals. The station houses were filled to overflowing with persons arrested for rioting. As illustrating the ugly feeling engendered by last night's rioting there were more minor disturbances this morning probably than at any time since the strike began. The strike sympathizers devoted their energies to the harassment of the strike breakers and others who are running the comparatively few cars that are on the street. Each car carries one or two policemen, but few passengers; the public evidently being afraid to ride. Thousands walked from choice, however, as a means of "getting even" with the transit company for its recent increase in the rate of fare.

Four hundred additional sub policemen were sworn in this morning. Timothy O'Leary, assistant superintendent of police, who has been in active charge of the policing of the city since the strike began, said today that if necessary to preserve order 10,000 extra men would be enrolled for police duty.

Hundred Hurt in Riot. One policeman shot and probably fatally injured, nearly a hundred persons biased and battered, either by policemen or strike sympathizers, is the result of the attempt.

BALTIMORE, Md., June 3.—A general strike of machinists in all the shops of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad has been ordered to take effect at 2 p. m. today.

This action, it was stated at the machinists' headquarters here today, is the result of the introduction of the piece work system in the erecting departments of the Mount Clair shops, which led to the strike of machinists there a few weeks ago and what the men claim was equivalent to a refusal of the company at the conference yesterday between Vice President Potter and their representatives to reinstate the Mount Clair men.

QUEER PLEA FOR MERCY

Former Detective Hardin Asks Parole Before Commitment.

MORIARITY GETS SIX MONTHS

Posses of Armed Men Scouring Vicinity of Lloyd Station in Search of Scoundrel Who Attacked School Girl.

DER MOINES, June 3.—Governor B. F. Carroll was today asked to parole, before commitment to the penitentiary for a three-year sentence, former Chief of Detectives Ed Hardin, who is now working on the police force in San Diego, Cal. Hardin claims that his wife is seriously ill and that he has two invalid sons. If he is sent to the penitentiary, he says, they will be thrown on the county. He says that he is willing to return and begin his quest for a parole.

MORIARITY GETS OFF EASY

But for the intercession and pleading of the two women who have suffered because of his perfidy, Frank J. Moriarity would have been sentenced to a long term in the penitentiary when he stood up before Judge Joseph E. Miller in the criminal division of the district court Thursday morning and entered a plea of guilty to the indictment charging him with bigamy.

As it was, Judge Miller was moved by the prayers of the two wives of Moriarity, and after administering a slight "burn" to the self-confessed criminal, sentenced him to six months in the county jail. The court could have imposed fifteen years in the penitentiary.

ARMED MEN CHASING A SCOUNDREL

Armed with shotguns, a posse of irate citizens is in search of a man said to be about 30 years of age, who this morning attempted an assault on Mildred Kelsey, 14-year-old daughter of William Kelsey, proprietor of the Senate saloon, 487 East Sixth street. The assault, which is one of the boldest reported to the local police in recent years, occurred in broad daylight at 8:30 this morning, near Lloyd Station. The Kelsey home is only a half mile north of Grand View Park, and Mildred was on her way to attend school when she was pounced upon by the man. She put up a brave struggle and, by biting one of her assailant's fingers, succeeded in freeing herself unharmed.

TO PUSH BUTTER EXCHANGE

Omaha Creamery Men Say Project Easily Realized.

TO BENEFIT TO INTERESTS IMMENSE

Creation of Primary Market Planned Which Will Handle 75 Per Cent of 70,000,000 Pounds of Butter Annually.

A butter exchange for Omaha is in a fair way of being realized. Following the successful opening of the Albert Lea, Minn., exchange Tuesday, Omaha creamery men have been actively bestirring themselves and will continue to do so until the project for a local exchange comes into being. David Cole, who attended the Albert Lea opening, wired The Bee last evening that buyers were present at Albert Lea from everywhere and that sales were made to many points. "A butter exchange," declared E. S. Snively, "would benefit Omaha immensely and it is not only a feasible project, but it would benefit the producer of butter and the consumer, if including the latter, as much as the creamery exchange has helped men who raise wheat in this part of the world. Values will be decidedly more stable, because the eastern markets are often manipulated and prices artificially fixed so that they do not respond to the real salable prices. The price for butter on the Chicago exchange for instance, last year at one time, was fully 1 cent less than the actual salable price of the commodity at that time.

"If Omaha had a butter and egg exchange it would add very materially to the dairy interests of a great range of territory. There are creameries in St. Joseph, Sioux City, Wichita—to name only three places—which are dependent upon centers well to the east to market their surplus, and buyers go to Chicago and New York to make their purchases."

"Seventy-five per cent of the butter of this territory is shipped each to Chicago and New York and there sold. It can all be sold from Omaha. Big buyers would flock here in numbers and would establish offices here and start accounts in Omaha banks. There is no less than 70,000,000 pounds of butter produced annually in this territory and most of it goes far away before being sold. It is the same proposition as confronts the Wyoming wool grower, except that it will be easier to create a primary butter market here."

ATHEISM BARRED BY LAW

Duma Committee Act Requires Every Person in Canada to Have Positive Faith.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 3.—The second law on the government's program of religious liberty will come up for discussion in the duma tomorrow and will cause an interesting debate between the defenders of orthodoxy and the liberals, in which Premier Stolypin is expected to take part. The government draft placed certain restrictions on the changing of one's faith, but the committee has introduced modifications removing all such restrictions, provided the sect is not criminal. The committee has decided that every man must have a positive religion, and that the profession of atheism can not be allowed.

SHELTON ESCAPE MADE IN MOTOR

Fourth Union Pacific Bandit Ran Auto to Denver Following Train Robbery.

SEEN AT TWO TOWNS ON ROUTE

Kearney and North Platte Both Spotted Fugitive.

WAS EXAMINED AT LATTER TOWN

Four Men Looked for and Suspect Not Held.

TRIO IN OMAHA OLD CRIMINALS

Detective Macdonald of Spokane Identifies Woods, Torgensen and Gordon as Having Had Records in Northwest.

Identification of the three Union Pacific bandits as far western criminals with dangerous records, and the discovery that James Shelton, the man arrested in Denver, went there in an auto, were the developments yesterday in the train robbery affair.

It is asserted that Shelton was seen both at Kearney and North Platte on his way to Denver in the car, and that he was subjected to scrutiny in the latter town. North Platte, however, was looking for four men in a car, and Shelton was allowed to go on his way. It is believed that he got away with the contents of the mail sacks which were found the night of the robbery.

Evidence seems also to point to the fact that Shelton was the man who guided the auto to the scene of the holdup, and there lit the signal beacon which led Woods and Torgensen to make Engineer Mikeljohn bring the train to a stop.

Private conferences between each holdup suspect and Detective Macdonald of Spokane were held at the county jail Thursday afternoon. Macdonald would tell nothing of what was said or done and neither affirmed or denied the idea that a confession was secured.

Assistant Special Agent John C. Vizard of the Union Pacific and Chief Cassidy held a conference with the Spokane officer later in the afternoon. They refused to divulge the details of the conference.

Bandits Identified. Detective Macdonald positively identified Woods, Torgensen and Gordon soon after his arrival. He arrived in Omaha Thursday morning and went to the bandit cells about 10:30 o'clock. He knew the three men so well and they so quickly recalled the position his identification placed them in, that all merely laughed and said nothing at first.

Woods is the notorious safe blow, train robber and bandit, Dan Downer, of the northwest, according to Detective Macdonald, who has known of him for eighteen years. He is also suspected of the Midway murder in British Columbia. Torgensen is a known criminal with the Spokane officer and has a number of crimes charged against him. Gordon's real name is Gordon M. Golden and he is known to have associated with Downer, Torgensen and other criminals in the northwest, although he comes of a good family, his brother, Joe Golden, a train robber, being his only relative who has a police record.

Thinks He Knows Shelton. Detective Macdonald says he believes Charles E. Shelton, the fourth suspect, who was arrested at Denver early Wednesday, is really Bob Spain, a notorious horse and cattle thief, safe blow and bond jumper, who has done time in several penitentiaries. Shelton was identified as Spain by the Spokane officer Thursday morning in Omaha by means of a picture.

The three men in jail here expressed a desire to talk with Detective Macdonald again this afternoon and he will hold a private conference with them. It is expected that something important in the way of a confession, complete or partial, or a scheme whereby the prisoners may escape the maximum punishment by turning witnesses against their partners still at large, may be broached and perhaps arranged.

"I knew them as soon as I saw them through the bars of their individual cells," remarked Macdonald, afterward. "And they knew me, too, for they made no effort to evade identification and just put up their usual laughing stunt.

"They're fierce fighters, at least Downer and Torgensen are," the detective continued, recalling encounters he has had with both men. "And Downer laughs, even when he is fighting you. That's a habit he's got."

Clever Criminals. Although Downer and Torgensen are well known to both police and public at Spokane and Everett, Wash., and in the surrounding country, desperate criminals and guilty of many crimes, Detective Macdonald declares they are so clever that neither has served much time in prison for the offenses. They have been arrested a number of times in cases for which there was not enough evidence to convict them, he says, yet the police knew positively that Downer and Torgensen were really guilty.

The only prison term Macdonald says was ever served by Downer was a three-year term at the Walla Walla (Wash.) penitentiary for horse stealing. He and Torgensen, who is said to have been his partner in crime for years, are wanted now at Waterville, Wash., for safe blowing and bond jumping and at Everett for carrying burglar's tools, besides being suspected of many other cases of safe blowing, train robbery and similar crimes which against them have been entered to their record because they escaped without being captured or even seen, so that a good description could be given of them.

The murder Downer is believed to have committed was that of a storekeeper at Midway, British Columbia, who was held up in his store, robbed of considerable money and then killed in cold blood. It occurred last fall and there are no witnesses or descriptions extant.

Brother Killed in Holdup. A brother of Downer is said to have been killed by officers in a daring holdup in Stevens county, Washington, when his partner, Claude Wells, was also killed. This is pointed out by Detective Macdonald to show that the Downer now in the Douglas county jail is one of the most desperate characters now known to the western police and comes of a family of criminals.

Tried to Extort Money from Wife of Missing Chicagoan

CHICAGO, June 3.—Benjamin Miller, alleged to have attempted to extort $100 from Mrs. Benjamin Porter, whose husband, a life insurance agent, disappeared mysteriously several weeks ago, was arrested here today. According to the police Miller wrote an unsigned letter to Mrs. Porter stating that for $500 to be secretly left tucked over a doorknob at Taylor and Halsted streets, Mr. Porter would be returned to his home. This letter, like previous ones of similar purport, Mrs. Porter turned over to the authorities. A woman dressed to resemble Mrs. Porter visited the address given in the letter early today and did as requested with the money. Miller, it is charged, grabbed the money and started to run away. Detectives broke from hiding places and gave chase, firing several shots and overhauling the fugitive after an exciting race. Miller told the police he had been hired by a man to get the money. This man he said he had met only a few days ago. The man said he had stabbed the husband of a woman who was in love with him and that the woman wanted to give him some money. He was afraid to go for it, and paid Miller to do the job.

The disappearance of Mr. Porter has been a mystery which has baffled the police for several weeks. He carried with him $500 which he had collected for the company which employed him. No trace of him has been discovered.

Brother Killed in Holdup. A brother of Downer is said to have been killed by officers in a daring holdup in Stevens county, Washington, when his partner, Claude Wells, was also killed. This is pointed out by Detective Macdonald to show that the Downer now in the Douglas county jail is one of the most desperate characters now known to the western police and comes of a family of criminals.
