NEW YORK STOCKS AND BONDS

Powerful Influences Deminate Speculation Throughout Session.

GROUP AFTER GROUP EXPLOITED

Market is Strong, but Constant Digestion of Profits Keeps the Price Movement Irregular.

NEW YORK, June 4.—Powerful forces obviously were at work in the speculation in stocks today, the volume of the transactions and the size of the individual operations showing evidence of the most abundant resources such as are commanded only by speculative capital of the first magnitude.

What could be done in the case of Southern Pacific brought the speculation to Wall street in a flood.

First efforts were directed to the stocks directly interested by the Southern Pacific movement yesterday, but it ranged up and down the list as will during the day, exploiting first one stock or group of stocks and then another.

Purchases of fresh securities to cover heavy sales in others, the action being a part of the speculative movement that is not depressing effect was produced by the widespread sale of Southern Steel, which sold below yesterday's closing price throughout the session.

Since Monday it has happened before the United States Steel to sell higher every day than on the day before.

This continuous advance in United States Steel has been a backbone of the whole market during that period.

Reaction in New York was a favorable sentiment for the advance of the general market situation. That reaction was not followed in the current operations to get out of the stock at a profit on the part of the stockholders.
