STUBBS IN LEMON BUSINESS. Harriman's Traffic Director Prepares to Slip Omaha Something. CUT OUT RIVER AS BASING POINT. This is His Scheme and Its Effect Would Be to Deprive Missouri Valley Cities of Trade in Utah. While Mr. Harriman is in Europe, and other "friends" of Omaha are supposed to be down at Cut-Off lake on their vacations, J. C. Stubbs, traffic manager of the Harriman lines, is preparing to slip Omaha a piece of citrus fruit, commonly known as "lemonera." But the traffic bureau of the Omaha Commercial club has already seen the sour fruit. It is identified as a move that will eliminate the Missouri river as a basing point, minimize the effect of the Spokane case on the Union Pacific, and put Omaha, St. Joseph, Atchison, Leavenworth and Kansas City out of business in Utah and points in the west where Omaha especially, has built up a large trade. According to the traffic bureau, the Harriman lines are going to great lengths to minimize the effect upon their interests of the now famous Spokane decision of the Interstate Commerce commission. Mr. Stubbs has prepared a rate schedule from the Atlantic seaboard and from Chicago and St. Louis to Utah points, which meets, from those points, the reductions forced by the Spokane decision, but which leaves the rates from the Missouri river just where they are. In other words, all the reductions are made for the benefit of Chicago and the Atlantic seaboard; while the Missouri river is abandoned as a basing point. That's the mak'n' for Omaha's lemonade. Generally speaking, the rates under this plan on the important commodities are 120 per cent of the Missouri river-Utah rates. On iron articles, such as nails and wire for instance, where the Chicago rate was formerly 75 cents above the Missouri river rate, it is now to be 15 cents above. The same proportion holds good on other important commodities. The traffic bureau of the Omaha Commercial club holds that the reduction of the Utah basis from Chicago inevitably will lower the Colorado basis and the result will be that the whole territory west of the Missouri river, except that of Kansas and Nebraska, will be handed over to Chicago and St. Louis. If the Stubbs figures are published, carrying the concurrence of the Chicago-Missouri river lines, all the rates from Chicago and St. Louis to the Missouri, will be at once attacked before the commission. They are very high rates and the Interstate Commerce commission has already, informally, cast doubts on their legality, on account of their excessive character. Other Rates Excessive. The commission has also pointed out, in the Kindel case, that the rates from the Missouri river to Colorado points are excessive and these will be attacked as well as the rates to Wyoming, Utah, Idaho and Montana points, since there is a fixed relation between the rates from Chicago and the Missouri river rates to all that territory. If the railroads reduce the Chicago rates, it is believed, the commission undoubtedly will reduce the Missouri river rates. If the basis presented to the other lines by Mr. Stubbs is accepted by them, it will be a remarkable triumph for one man, as it is well known that every traffic official present at the now famous meeting in Mr. Stubbs' office opposed the basis bitterly, not only as being unsound in itself, and a departure from the principles those same railroad men were supporting in the Missouri river case and the Kindel case, but a wholly unnecessary sacrifice of revenue. This last does not interest Mr. Stubbs and his expert mathematicians, since they have figured out a basis for divisions of the reduced rates that will unload the bulk of all the shrinkages on the lines east of the Missouri river and preserve the revenues of the Harriman lines. NUELSEN STAYS IN AMERICA. Methodist Bishop of Nebraska Will Not Go to Germany's This Fall as Expected. Rev. John L. Nuelsen, D. D., Methodist Episcopal bishop for Nebraska, will not go to Germany for work this fall, as was reported some time ago, but he will put in the entire year in America, and most of the time in this part of the country. The bishop returned Thursday from a lengthy trip through the east, but left again Friday for Missouri to deliver several commencement addresses. From there he will go to Minnesota and the Dakotas to be present at a number of college and academy graduations. Judge Sears Gravely Ill in Hospital. Member of District Bench in Dangerous Condition from Lung Trouble of Recent Origin. Judge Willis G. Sears of district court in the Methodist hospital dangerously ill from lung trouble. It is believed to be a complication following an attack of pneumonia. The pneumonia itself was not so severe as usual. Judge Sears has been absent from his court for a week, but in the first place his absence was caused by the illness of a juror and so his staying away was not remarked. The fact that he is dangerously ill will be a surprise to nearly all his friends and acquaintances. He was removed from the Merchants hotel, where he lives when in Omaha, to the hospital Thursday evening. Dr. Lee Van Camp, the attending physician, said Friday that he feared that Judge Sears "might never leave the hospital." Chinese Skull Rapped by Thugs. Charles G. Tong May Die as Result of Violent Assault by Three Men at Night. Charles G. Tong, a gentleman from China who conducts a little store at Thirtieth and Davenport streets, was cracked on the head hard and numerously Thursday night and may die. He was assaulted at his place of business by three men. Three men colored, T. Kennedy, 1229 Cass street; W. Allen, 1529 North Twenty-fourth street; and W. Gumm, Brown flats, were arrested about 2:30 Friday morning under the apprehension that possibly they had something to do with the assault. The three men first arrested are dog catchers by profession. Later in the day, when Tong's condition became even more critical and nothing was secured by the police positively to connect Kennedy, Allen and Gumm with the assault, detectives arrested two more negroes, George Harris, 1126 North Seventeenth street, and William Galbraith, 1124 Capitol avenue. Harris is believed to have been one of the Chinaman's assailants and is charged with assault and robbery, while the others are held only as suspicious characters. It is thought, however, that nothing was stolen from Tong's person or place of business and residence, robbery having been only attempted, if thought of at all. What Need of Bryan With Jim? If Mayor Can Be There it Won't Matter About the Peerless Leader. "Oh, if Mayor Jim could be there I don't know as we would postpone a democratic gathering just because Mr. Bryan could not attend, even though he did suggest that another date be selected so he could attend." These are the words of Thomas J. Flynn, chief orator of the democratic party in Omaha, when asked what he thought about the refusal of Kearney democrats to postpone a meeting when Mr. Bryan, who was invited and could not attend on account of a previous engagement, asked that another date be set so he could attend. The big boss did not seem to think it strange that the Kearney faithful should refuse to postpone their meeting because Mr. Bryan asked it.
