DICK DEVANEY IS LOCKED UP

He is Charged with Cutting Dan Kirley in Fight. Dick Devaney is being held at the city jail in default of bail, placed at $500, awaiting the result of injuries received by Dan Kirley, a machinist, in a fight some time after midnight Tuesday night on Sixteenth avenue. Devaney is said to have slashed Kirley across the abdomen with a knife, inflicting a wound four inches long. The cut penetrated the abdominal cavity but not, it was said yesterday, the intestines.

The police, it is said, have been able to learn but little regarding the trouble between Devaney and Kirley, as the latter is extremely reticent concerning it. Devaney denies cutting Kirley, although he admits having a fight with him. Kirley, so the police say, declines to tell who did the cutting.

Kirley was found by a policeman hiding behind a fence and was taken to the office of Dr. Bellinger in the midst of the heavy storm. He was given temporary attention and then removed to Mercy hospital in a cab. Information secured by the police led them to look for Devaney and he was taken into custody about 2 o'clock in the morning.

A Rock Island freight train was reported derailed yesterday morning near Oklaids as the result of dirt being washed onto the track in a cut from a private crossing.

SALOON FIGHT TO COURT

Opponents of New General Petition of Consent Will Appeal.

ATTORNEY FOR ANTIS TALKS

Case First Comes Up for Hearing Before the Board of Supervisors June 23—Will Explain the Law.

The anti-saloon forces are determined to leave no stone unturned in their fight to defeat, if possible, the new general petition of consent secured by the saloons of Council Bluffs. If they cannot defeat it at the hearing to be held before the Board of Supervisors Wednesday, June 23, the fight, it was stated yesterday, would be continued in the courts.

M. S. Odie of Des Moines, attorney for the Iowa Anti-Saloon league, was in Council Bluffs yesterday to lend his assistance to the local forces in the fight against the petition of consent. Mr. Odie is responsible for the statement that the matter would undoubtedly be taken into the courts if they did not succeed in defeating the petition before the Board of Supervisors.

"My previous experience in other counties has shown me that members of boards of supervisors are not generally familiar with the law, and in order to secure a decision based strictly on the law it is usually necessary to go to the district court. In some counties I have seen the supervisors declare a statement of consent sufficient when it lacked a large number of the requisite names. I do not say, however, that the supervisors of Pottawattamie county would do this. In fact, we intend to prevent them, if possible," said Attorney Odie.

Mr. Odie declined to make public at this time the plan of the fight that the anti-saloon forces intend making before the Board of Supervisors, beyond that they were still circulating "withdrawal petitions." "In the event that we fail to induce enough signers of the consent petition to withdraw their names so as to make it ineffective we will resort to other methods to defeat it if possible. We have strong hopes of being able to defeat this new general petition of consent," declared Attorney Odie.

Mr. Odie returned last evening to Des Moines after spending the day in conference with R. C. F. Chambers, the district superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league, and other leaders in the opposition to the saloons, but expects to return here at the time that the petition will come before the Board of Supervisors.

DAMAGE BY STORM SMALL

Sewers and Indian Creek Carry Off the Flood. Mayor Maloney and Street Commissioner Flood made a tour of the city to ascertain what damage had been done by the heavy rain Tuesday night, and found that with the exception of several small washouts on the hill streets, the damage was immaterial.

With one or two exceptions the storm sewers worked well and carried off the immense downfall of water before it had time to overflow the curbs into basements of abutting buildings. Indian creek kept its banks and handled the flood safely except in the southern part of the city, where debris lodged against one of the Rock Island railroad bridges, which was not raised at the time the creek was deepened and widened. This formed a temporary dam and some water flowed into the lower end of the Rock Island yards, but did not do any damage.

At North Eighth street a quantity of debris gathered at the bridge, and for a time things looked somewhat dangerous at this point, but the mass finally gave way and allowed the water free passage. The water in the creek, however, rose higher than it has at any time since it was deepened.

A Rock Island freight train was reported derailed yesterday morning near Oklaids as the result of dirt being washed onto the track in a cut from a private crossing.

NORWEGIAN LUTHERANS MEET

Annual Convention of Church in America Begins in Des Moines.

REQUISITION FOR I. N. JONES

Governor Carroll Honors Papers for Return of Man to Oklahoma Accused of Deserting Family.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) DES MOINES, June 9.—(Special Telegram.)—The twentieth annual national convention of the United Norwegian Lutheran Church of America opened an eight days' meeting at the Auditorium this forenoon. It is the first time a national convention of this body has been held in this state. This is the largest Norwegian church body in America and its stronghold is in the states of Minnesota, Iowa, Wisconsin, Illinois and the two Dakotas. Recently a large number of congregations have been organized along the Pacific coast and in Canada.

This religious body has a large number of colleges, academies and educational institutions in the central states, the leading of which are a theological seminary at St. Anthony Park, Minn., and St. Olaf college, Northfield, Minn. The latter institution became renowned throughout the United States a few weeks ago because it won first honors in the interstate oratorical contest in which the leading colleges of all denominations in eleven states competed. In the preliminary contest which was held in the different states seventy-two colleges competed. It was the first time in twenty years that the state of Minnesota has carried off first honors in the interstate contest.

By practically unanimous vote today the delegates to the national convention of the Norwegian Lutheran church adopted the plan of forming a permanent endowment fund for superannuated ministers. Each minister will subscribe $200 and thereafter each year $5 as a premium on his insurance. The total annual income will be $15,000, enough to care for every indigent divine of the faith.

During President T. H. Dahl's annual address tonight the problem of dividing the church into five districts with a superintendent at its head, under the president was dwelt upon at length. The convention will vote upon this proposition within a few days.

Requisition for Jones. Governor B. F. Carroll today honored requisition papers for the return from Newmarket, Ia., to Beaver City, Okla., of I. N. Jones, who is charged with an attempt to elope from that city with Mrs. Susie Congdon, wife of a well known farmer there.

It is charged in the affidavits accompanying the requisition papers that Jones, who is also married, induced Mrs. Congdon to go to a point in Colorado, while he came to Iowa. Each was to get a divorce and Jones was then to join the woman in Colorado, the affidavits say. Sheriff Johnson of Beaver City left for Des Moines this afternoon for Newmarket to take Jones back to Beaver City for trial.

Want Woman Superintendent. Club women of Des Moines and the state are bringing pressure to bear on the State Board of Control to have appointed as superintendent of the Girls' Industrial school at Mitchellville a woman. They have centered upon Mrs. A. M. Clay, at present superintendent of the Girls' Industrial school of Missouri, located at Chillicothe. There she has made a brilliant success of handling the girls and the club women urge that it cannot be charged she would be incompetent to manage the girls of Iowa in their state institution. Before going to Chillicothe she has been in charge for three years. Mrs. Clay was matron at the state penitentiary of Iowa at Anamosa. She is well known in this state among the club women and in Missouri has become very popular among the women, having addressed them at their conventions several times.

Agent for Board of Parole. It is extremely likely that at the next meeting of the State Board of Parole, which will be July 6, there will be appointed a state agent for discharged prisoners from penitentiaries. This agent will be appointed with the sanction of the executive council, which by the state is given power to appoint necessary help. The council will also fix the compensation to be paid the state agent. The duty of this agent will be to supervise paroled and discharged prisoners. He will also look after paroled prisoners. Practically all the surrounding states have state agents. Iowa has never had one, but because of the new parole system it is believed the time has now come when such an officer is an absolute necessity. The regular date for the meeting of the board is July 5, but as this date falls on Monday and many places will celebrate Independence day then, it is thought best to convene a day later. The number of cases to be considered at this session will be less than 100.

Important Decision Expected. One of the most important decisions to come from the supreme court of Iowa in many years, from a commercial standpoint, is expected in the course of a few weeks. It is a decision on the right to tax government bonds held by national banks. The case originated in the Polk county district court by the Des Moines National bank resisting payment of taxes on government bonds held by it. The lower court held the bonds were taxable and the bank appealed. Now it is up to the supreme court to decide the question. If the higher court upholds the lower court it means that throughout Iowa many thousands of dollars' worth of government bonds held by national banks will be relieved from taxation. If the supreme court of Iowa sustains the lower court attorneys for the banks have stated they will carry the question to the supreme court of the United States for final determination.

Van Houten Quits Newspaper. The News-Times of Lenox, Taylor county, has passed entirely out of the Van Houten family. George Van Houten, sergeant-at-arms of the house at the last general assembly and former member of the house, was for forty years editor of this paper. Then he surrendered the editorship to his son, who conducted it for a time, but was compelled to give up the work because of failing health. He went west and the paper was traded by Mr. Van Houten for real estate. Mr. Van Houten is now in Des Moines making his home temporarily. He has been mentioned in connection with the curatorship of the state historical department. He has given a few lectures recently on Asiatic and European travels. He has traveled all over the world, and is well qualified for such work, having illustrations and machines for showing them. But he says he does not intend to make lecturing a regular work. He will engage in some work in the near future if he is not selected for work in the historical department.
