Washington and Key Honored on Flag Day

Statue of First President Unveiled at Seattle and Author's House is Decorated.

SEATTLE, Wash., June 14.—Flag day, which was observed throughout the state with patriotic exercises, was made memorable at the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition by the unveiling of Lorda Taft's bronze statue of George Washington.

When the fair is over the figure will be mounted on a solid granite base. The statue, which is colossal, shows Washington draped in a military cloak with his hands resting on a sword. The unveiling exercises took place this afternoon.

Judge C. H. Hanford, president of the Sons of the American Revolution, was chairman of the day.

The drawing of the strings in the unveiling ceremony was done by 3-year-old Eleanor Washington Caldwell, great-granddaughter of John Augustine Washington, the last owner of Mount Vernon before the estate was turned over to the commission of women. The French ambassador and Mme. Jeanneret were guests of the exposition officials at the fair today.

WASHINGTON, June 14.—While the guns at Fort Myer, on the Virginia side of the Potomac, today boomed forth a salute of twenty-one guns a facsimile of the Fort McHenry flag was raised over the hoist in this city in which Francis Scott Key, author of the "Star-Spangled Banner," lived for many years. Four hundred school children sang the patriotic song as the flag was being raised. Other ceremonies appropriate to flag day were held in the house, which is owned by the Francis Scott Key Memorial association. Flag day exercises were held in many of the government offices here during the luncheon hour.

Charles Deering Will Also Testify in Suit to Oust the Harvester Combine.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., June 14.—The formative financial interests back of the organization of the International Harvester company may be represented on the stand when the taking of testimony in the state's suit to oust the concern from Missouri is resumed here tomorrow. Attorney General Major announced today that George W. Perkins, who as a member of J. P. Morgan & Co. aided in the organization of the corporation, has been requested to appear before Special Commissioner Brice.

President Cyrus H. McCormick and Charles Deering, a member of the board of directors, have also been summoned, but probably will not appear until later. Mr. Deering is in Europe, according to the attorney general's information, and Mr. McCormick expects to sail for that continent July 18. The attorney general said, however, that he will keep the case open until they return.

Mrs. Gould made one cutting remark to her inquisitor. Mr. Nicolli had been asking the witness about her gowns, how many she wore, how often she wore them and what became of them. They were given away, Mrs. Gould testified.

"One of them," she shot in, "was given to your own sister, who is on the stage. I have aided many poor girls to get stage engagements by equipping them with my discarded gowns."

"Did it become her?" was Mr. Nicolli's only rejoinder.

JANE ADDAMS IS PRESIDENT

Woman Heads National Conference of Charities and Corrections.

FIRST TIME IN ITS HISTORY

Italian Lawyer, in Address, Charges that Foreigners are Discriminated Against in American Courts—Last Day's Proceedings.

BUFFALO, N. Y., June 14.—Miss Jane Addams of Hull House, Chicago, is the president of the National Conference of Charities and Corrections for 1909. The election today was unanimous. This is the first time in the history of the conference that a woman has been at the head of the organization.

The other officers elected were: First vice president, F. H. Nibbecker, Glen Mills, Pa.; second vice president, Anselmy Wilcox, Buffalo, N. Y.; third vice president, Judge William Delaney, Washington, D. C.; general secretary, Alexander Johnson, Fort Wayne, Ind.

The executive committee includes W. Almont Gates, San Francisco; W. H. McLain, St. Louis; Julian W. Mack, Chicago, and Miss Mary Perry, St. Louis, Mo.

In an address before the conference here this morning Gino C. Speranza, attorney to the consul general of Italy at New York, made the sweeping charge that foreigners, including immigrants intending to make the United States their home, are discriminated against in American courts. He claimed that the United States is a nation of citizens and prospective citizens by classifying the latter when they come to an American port into desirable and undesirable, and said that while the country had a right to do this, it ought to be done by a court rather than by summary, arbitrary and nonjudicial tribunals or boards of special inquiry. He claims that this discrimination follows the immigrant after he has become a citizen, both in civil and criminal courts.

Cardinal Cheered on Way to Court

Andrieu Tells Judge He Appears from Courtesy, Not Recognizing Summons.

BORDEAUX, June 14.—When Cardinal Andrieu appeared in court today to answer the summons of the judge charging him with having incited a breach of the laws by the allocation which he pronounced at the cathedral on the occasion of his enthronement, he was acclaimed by an immense crowd. The cardinal told the judge that he came as an act of courtesy, not because he recognized the competence of the court. He said he had spoken as a bishop and that he was answerable only to his conscience, the pope and God, and declared that he assumed full responsibility for his words. In which he maintained the right to distrust the laws of the republic when these were prejudicial to the free exercise of religion.

When the cardinal emerged from court he was again acclaimed. Women fell on their knees and kissed his ring, while the young Catholics cheered.

PRETTY FAIR BANKING THIS

Anyway, No Man's Family Ever Finds It Aught but Good.

If the manager of the largest bank in your state, or in the nation, should agree to pay you $10,000 after a certain specified time on the sole condition that you pay him from $3 to 6 per cent annual interest on that sum until the time arrives, wouldn't you think that pretty good banking for you? If he should further offer to make such a contract without asking security of any kind, giving you, however, the strongest sort of an agreement that he would do as pledged, wouldn't the offer suit you?

The regulation of the bank and the $10,000 on good collateral and take the interest in advance, or, if a savings bank manager, will let you the interest semi-annually until the time arrives, then either man must have the $10,000 back again.

But a life insurance company asks you only to pay the same rate that the banker requires and when your contract matures stands ready to present you with the $10,000. You pay, if not too old, what is really a low rate of interest, and never at any age, a high rate, and in twenty to thirty years can have the $10,000 all your own.

Greater still, and most important of all, is the fact that if you chance to die after the first year's payment, the $10,000 will be paid at once to your family. Finally, the company will take your small sums that you pay, reloan them with all the advantages of experience, knowledge of financial securities and the power that goes with the handling of large sums, and still increase these payments or premiums or yours that dividends will be earned for you and the originally pledged $10,000 grow to $15,000, $16,000 or more, all to be yours or your family's.

If you are looking only for straight life insurance, and are willing your family should have all the money not matter how long you may live, you can take a contract by which, if you are at a fairly early age, say 30 years old, your payments will not amount to 2½ per cent annually on what they will receive, exclusive of dividends, isn't that borrowing future money pretty cheap considering the easy terms of payment and no security asked of you? The sum of $10,000 is given only as an illustration. You can have a contract for $1,000 or $5,000 on pro rata terms, or can have it at an even smaller rate from the start if you do not care to participate in the dividends.

In other financial transactions you are obliged to keep up the interest and finally repay the whole of the principal, whereas in life insurance by simply paying the lowest rates of interest you or your family will actually own the principal, and it can be as big a sum as you choose.

WASHINGTON, June 14.—A committee representing the National Retail Hardware association was introduced to the president today by Senator Dilliver of Iowa and Representative Tawney of Minnesota. Samson Shows Boosters Good Time at Den Splendid Crowd Present to Take Part in Proceedings and Enjoy Speeches.

Boosters held the center of the stage at the den Monday night and were put through the various stunts to the delight of what was announced as one of the largest crowds which ever gathered at an Ak-Sar-Ben initiation. Clark Galt promised to be as good a booster for Ak-Sar-Ben as he was on the trade excursion and Ty. Belt and Joe Kelly and many others swore allegiance to the king.

After the initiatory part of the program, which went as smooth as a greased pig, and several short talks had been made, moving pictures were thrown on the screen. First the pictures shown to the people of Iowa where night stops were made on the boosters' trip, and second a series of moving pictures taken at the various towns where stops were made by the boosters. They gave a splendid idea of the way the gospel of Omaha was spread broadcast over northwestern Iowa, and showed the way the people turned out by the thousands to give Omaha's boosters a royal welcome.

Grand Master Herring announced that the paid membership last night was 731, or more than it ever was before at this time of the year. Next Monday night the officers of the grand aerie of the Eagles will be entertained at the den, as will also delegates to the annual meeting of the Printing Pressmen and Assistants' union. The grand multi gave a splendid talk on "What is a Booster in Iowa."

W. E. Fischel, a banker of Dow City, Ia., who headed a delegation of twenty-three from that city, spoke well of the boosters and their visit to that city. He also took occasion to boost for Dow City a little, saying that it does more business than any town of its size in Iowa.

J. M. Guild, commissioner of the Omaha Commercial club, said he had never gone out from Omaha with a harder working bunch of boosters than on the last trip.

"We stopped at 117 towns in six days, or about twenty a day," said Mr. Guild. "I went out to entertain and not to accept entertainment, and we aimed to see something that would have hard work to follow."

Mr. Guild told of an item in a newspaper at Cedar Rapids. That town had sent out some boosters and they got in the track of the Omaha boosters. They were sorry for it because they were laughed at in comparison with the great showing made by the Omaha boosters.

"I think I can truthfully say that this very order of Ak-Sar-Ben was in a large measure responsible for my coming to Omaha," said Dr. J. M. Kersey, pastor of the First Christian church, when called upon by the grand multi. "When the committee from Omaha called in the south to invite me to come to Omaha to preach, one of the first things the committee told about was this very order of Ak-Sar-Ben. I got the impression from what they said that this was a crowd that did things, and I would not live in a city where they do not do things. I immediately wanted to come to a city where they believed in what they said."

A man who could not enjoy this entertainment tonight would surely be hard to please and would be lacking in some of the red corpuscles which are needed in the blood. When I moved to Omaha I took the oath of allegiance to Omaha and Nebraska, and I now take the oath of allegiance to Ak-Sar-Ben."

CONSTIPATIONBAPTISTS DISCUSS HERESY

Prof. Foster's Case Talked Over in Secret Session.

HIS NEW BOOK IS OFFENSIVE

One Preacher Thinks His Expulsion Might Be Followed by General Church House Cleaning—Mild Resolution Adopted.

CHICAGO, June 14.—Behind closed doors the Baptist ministers' conference today took up the question whether Prof. George Burman Foster of the University of Chicago should be expelled from the conference and his ordination papers cancelled because of unorthodox statements in his recent writings. No action was taken.

The charges against Prof. Foster grew out of opinions advanced by him in a book recently published, which are declared by ministers of the Baptist conference to be absolutely opposed to the basic principles of the Baptist denomination. The specific charges were made last week by Rev. W. A. Matthews, who reviewed Prof. Foster's book and pronounced it "rank heresy."

Many ministers declared that Prof. Foster has denied the divinity of Christ and by doing so forfeited all right to remain in the Baptist church. There being no governing body in the Baptist denomination, the supporters of Prof. Foster assert that the ministers' conference has no power to demand his expulsion.

Dr. Melbourne P. Boynton and other members of the conference declared before the doors were closed that in their opinion Prof. Foster would not be expelled from the church, though he might be excluded from the conference.

"If Foster is expelled," declared Dr. Boynton, "there are several other members of the conference who may come in for a house cleaning before we finish the meeting."

The conference adjourned without taking any definite action in the expulsion of Prof. Foster. A resolution pledging the ministers to preach the gospel regardless of the views of the attacked professor was adopted.

SENATE TALKS OF SUGAR DUTY

sugar from the requirement of payment of duty on entering the United States, was then voted down. The vote stood 11 to 48, many democrats voting with the republicans against it. The votes for the amendment were cast by Senators Bristow, Brown, Clapp, Cummins, Davis, Dooliver, Fletcher, Gore, La Follette, Newlands and Tillman.

Another amendment by Mr. Bristow, increasing from 500 to 1,000 tons the quantity of sugar that might be raised by a producer to give him a first right to have his product admitted to the United States free of duty, was defeated by a viva voce vote.

With the committee amendment pending the senate at 5:30 p. m. took a recess until 8 p. m.

The waning of interest in the tariff proceedings was evidenced by the small attendance in the galleries when the senate met tonight. No more than half of the membership was present.

Favors Philippine Independence.

Discussion of the Philippine free trade of the bill was resumed by Mr. Stone of Missouri, who spoke on his amendment giving the Philippines freedom after fifteen years. He declared the congress had no constitutional right to assess import duties on products from the Philippine Islands. He said the intelligent people of the islands were opposed to the legislation proposed by the bill as reported from the finance committee.

Asserting that there was no glory in their conquest and that there is no profit in holding them, Mr. Newlands of Nevada declared in favor of a promise of independence to the Philippines at a definite time.

He said the Philippines will never be a source of great wealth and that the Philippines will never develop the high standard of self-government.

Mr. Newlands asserted that the holding of those islands will eventually involve this country in an international conflict if the insurance policy would prove as costly as the Boer war to Great Britain.

"So I would withdraw with honor now rather than to have to withdraw in the future," he concluded.

Stone's Amendment Lost.

Mr. Stone's amendment was lost, 44 to 18; Mr. Chamberlain voting with the republicans. A motion by Mr. Bulkeley to refer the finance committee of the Philippine proposition to the committee on the Philippines was also defeated, 40 to 21. Saying that there were a large number of cigarmakers out of employment, Mr. La Follette offered an amendment cutting down the number of cigars to be admitted free from the Philippines from 150,000,000 to 50,000,000 a year.

Mr. Aldrich suggested that the order governing the sessions of the senate be changed, that the senate meet at 10 a. m. and continue until 1 p. m. There being no objection the order was made and night sessions, therefore, will be discontinued.

At Mr. Aldrich's request the vote on Mr. La Follette's amendment was postponed until after the finance committee tomorrow acts on the free tobacco proviso of the Philippine free trade section. As Senators Bulkeley, Brandegee and Fletcher desired to offer amendment to reduce the quantity of free tobacco it was decided to let the Philippine section go over until the committee reports.

Mr. Bulkeley spoke expressively on the conditions in the Philippines and the effect of the tobacco provision of the Philippine trade section. The senate adjourned at 11 o'clock until 10 o'clock tomorrow.

TEN-MINUTE SESSION IN HOUSE

Asks Secretary of Interior for Report on the Finance Committee Tomorrow.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 14.—After a session of ten minutes today the house adjourned until Thursday. Upon motion of Representative Murphy of Missouri, the house passed a resolution calling upon the secretary of the interior to forward the reports of Cyrus Bede, an Indian inspector on the conduct in office of J. Blair Schoenfeld, Indian agent at Union station, Muskogee, Indian Territory, in 1904. Following the investigations by Bede, Schoenfeld resigned, but the reports were never made public. Representative Murphy, as attorney for the Creek Indians, was one of the men who filed charges against Schoenfeld.
