Wheat Nervous Menday and Fluctuations Rapid in July.

GENERAL TENDENCY DOWNWARD

Corn Active and Starts on Rise, but Decline in Wheat Acts Sympathetically, Weather Continging Favorable.

OMAHA, June 14, 1999.

The wheat market was extremely nervous and fluctuations rapid, particularly in the July option. The sarly trades were at higher levels than Saturday, but selling pressure and bearish sentiment weakened the tone and values worked lower.

Corn was active and started higher, with trading heav?. The advance was checked later in the session by the decline in wheat and continued favorable weather conditions.

Wheat was nervous and sold lower steadily after the first trades. All railies were discounted by the reports from the south, where harvesting is beginning. The late favorable weather has placed the growing wheat in unexpectedly improved condition.

Corn held fairly steady under heavy selling pressure and lower cash values. Rear ing pressure and lower cash values. Rearish sentiment is general, due to excellent weather conditions and the general outlook for the coming crop could not be better at this season of the year.

Primary wheat receipts were 387,000 bu. and shipments were 385,000 bu. and shipments of 333,000 bu. and shipments of 332,000 bu.

Corn receipts were 585,000 bu. and shipments were 275,000 bu., against receipts last year of 184,000 bu. and shipments of 385,000 bu.

Clearances were 2,000 bu. of corn, none of pats and wheat and flour equal to 92,000 Liverpool closed unchanged to %d higher on wheat and %@%d higher on corn. Local range of options:

Reports of Harvest Prompt Abundant Sales of Wheat.

CHICAGO, June 14.-Reports of a more abundant harvest in the southwest than had been predicted earlier in the season prompted liberal sales of wheat on the board of trade today resulting in a material decline in prices. At the closes the net loss for the day was to to 100 fairly aready on the control of the cont closed fairly steady, oats easy, and pro-visions strong. Harvest news was the chief factor in the wheat market although bearinh crop advices from foreign countries also exerted a weakening influence. With the exception of a short lived buige early in the day, the market was weak throughout the entire session and at times the selling pressure, especially on the July delivery. was heavy. As a result, the price of the nearby option declined nearly for from the high point of the day, the low point being reached at the control of the cash gram. News in seneral, however, was so overwhelmingly hearth that the market lout all its strength in the first quarter of an hour and developed additional weakness as trading progress. World's shipments for the week were much larger than expected, heling nearly 3,000,000 bushes in excess of those of the previous week. LONDON. June 14.—Money was in fair demand and supply on the market today and discounts were easy on the bank of England getting the $3,500,900 in gold avail-able. Trading on the stock exchange was quietly cheerful. Operators are disinclined to fresh speculative ventures for the pres-ent, but the investment business improved silt edged securities, home rails and for-eisn bonds. Kaffirs started on the down grade under Paris sales, and the close was easy. Grand Trunk was good American securities opened about unchanged. Later buying of Union Pacific and United States Steel shares caused a general improvement and at noon values were is to % higher than Saturday's New York closing. PARIS, June it.—Prices on the bourse today opened steady but closed heavy. BERLIN, June 14.—Prices on the bourse today were weak and trading was inactive.

CATTLE—Receipts of cattle were very small this morning, only 94 cars being reported in. There were, in fact, hardly enough cattle on sale to interest buyers to any great extent and the trade as a whole was very dull from start to finish.

There was quite a sprinkling of seems on sale, but packers did not appear at all anxious for fresh supplies, but seemed rather to be in a waiting mood, holding off and bidding in many cases, it onything, a little lower than last week. Still the more desirable kinds kept selling a load or two at a time at just about steady prices. Some pretty good cattle sold up as high as $48.0. The movement, however, was very slow, as noted above.

HOGS—Receipts of hogs this morning were extremely light, there being hardly enough on ordinary occasions to make a really good market. It was very evident that packers wanted all the hogs they could get and the light run together with that packers wanted all the hogs they could get, and the light run, together with very favorable advices from other selling points, stimulated the trade to such an extent that prices were 100 Hz higher than last week. Hogs sold largely at $7.4087.50 and on up as high as $7.75 for good heavy weights. This means that the advance today carries the market to a new high level for this year, although the market is not for this year, although the market is not yet as high as it was in 1902.

have been no grassers of any consequence on sale this year until today left value estimates and the market level open to argument. The demand, as a result, was a wrife sensitive, and buying talent was inclined to punish values in the hope that their purchases would at least be low enough to give them the benefit of the doubt. The early trade was very slow and it was well along in the morning before very many muttons had passed over the scales.

staple and Fancy Produce Prices Farvery many muttons had passed over the came evident that the easier feeling and apparently backward demand was the resuit of a systematic "amothering" and a large portion of the Oregon aggregation was turned over to packers at generally strong prices. Spring lambs did not fare as well as aheep stuff, a string of Oregons selling at $7.50. Western cornfed springs sold at $0.0. The decline on this class of stock under last Thursday is right around 32590c. A few cars of Oregon wethers sold at $5.50, and two cars of grass-fed year lings from the same state made $7.00. Three cars of western cornfed yearlings sold at the same price. Summarized, the nearest approach to the general market this morning would be right around steady to easier on sheep, with apring lambs at the decline noted. A high market level, generally limited receipts, and the fact that no two days' supplies are very much alike, combine to inject a foggy atmosphere in trade, leaving value standards uncertain.
