She and Her Husband Will Appear Before Police Judge Against ters is the remedy. 50c. For sale by Beaton Four Young Men.

Jerome P. Magee, with his wife, Mrs. Ella Cotton Nash Magee, will be the complaining witness in police court Friday morning against four young men, Herbert Mullen, Otto Meis, Jules Rose and Ran Salter, who are charged with playing baseball in the street in a complaint filed by City Prosecutor Daniel.

It is said Mr. and Mrs. Magee, with the latter's little daughter, Fredericka Nash, were just leaving the Seventeenth street entrance of the Brandels building in an automobile Wednesday noon when a ball thrown by one of the youths struck Mrs. Magee forcibly on the left arm. Her daughter narrowly escaped injury. The Magee home is at 432 South Thirty eighth avenue. Mrs. Magee was not seri-

FILING PERIOD FOR COUNTY PRIMARIES IS NOW HERE

It Will Continue One Month and the List of Candidates Will Be Long.

Friday is the first day on which candidates for county offices may file for the primaries to be held on August 17 Candidates will be given one month in which to file, the last day being July 18. All filings will be made with the county clerk, and 142 offices, including forty-five deputy assessors and about seventy justices of the peace and county constables are to be filled.

Massive Stone is Cast to Ground by Builders of the New Structure.

A six-ton rock was successfully fluna from the third floor of the Douglas county Which county gets the inheritance tax court house to the ground Thursday mornfrom the $4,500,000 estate of Guy C. Bar- ing.

The rock formed the cornice and roof of a portice at the south side of the building build Omaha and has just passed away, is This portice is being removed, for it juts about the $4,500,000 mark exclusive of his out six feet or more thom, the main wall recent gifts to relatives and arrangements of the old building and the north wall of to give to charities, is the opinion of his the new building will come up three feet from the old wall."

It was desired to send this great capstone to the ground without injuring the supporting columns and capitals and this was successfully done. Rollers were first inserted under the capstone. A rope was tied to it which led out to the Harney street end of the excavation and men-pried from behind with rollers while others pulled at the end of the cable,

The rock burst in a dozen pieces when it struck sixty feet below. The capitals and columns were not so much as scratched. The work was in charge of L. J. Koerner a superintendent for Caldwell & Drake.
