Beveridge After Tobacco Trust. The theme of Mr. Beveridge's discourse was an amendment proposed by him regarding the size of tobacco packages. He contended that while the size of the packages had been reduced during the Spanish war with the end in view of compelling the purchaser to pay the war tax, those sizes had not been restored nor the prices reduced, notwithstanding the removal of the tax, thus practically giving the tobacco manufacturers, and especially the Tobacco trust, the advantage of the tax, even though it has not been in operation for about nine years.

Aldrich Proposes Increases. Mr. Aldrich proposed an increase of the duty on sole leather, as fixed by the house, from 5 to 10 per cent ad valorem, and on shoes from 15 to 20 per cent. Senator Bailey dentally, he said that there was less reason for increasing the duty on sole leather in view of the prospect of a corporation tax By a viva voce vote the duty on sole leather was increased as proposed, but a roll call was ordered on the increase on shoes. It resulted in favor of the committee-22 to 27. The endre affirmative vote was cast by republicans, but Senators Bristow, Clapp, Crawford, Cummins, Curtis, Camble, La Follette and Nelson joined the democrats in opposition.
