

Nebraska HOME FOR FRIENDLESS WINS

Supreme Court Rules that it is Entitled to Appropriation.

DEAN WARD GOES TO ILLINOIS

Nebraska Educator Definitely Decides to Accept Offer of University at Champaign—Mrs. Briggs Wins Case.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Neb., June 25.—(Special Telegram.)—The supreme court holds that appropriations made by the late legislature for the State Public School for Dependent Children are specific appropriations for the Home for the Friendless. The writ of mandamus was issued requiring State Auditor Barton to issue warrants on vouchers filed by the superintendent of the Home for the Friendless for the payment of salaries of the employees.

The late legislature provided by law for changing the name of the Home for the Friendless to the State Public School for Dependent Children. This law goes into effect July 2. The legislature made no appropriation for the support of the Home for the Friendless, but did for the school, which would leave the home without funds from March to July 2, when the home goes out of existence.

The opinion written by Judge Root takes the view that the legislature intended to change the name, but continue the institution of the Home for the Friendless. Judge Rose dissenting concurs in what he calls the "spirit of kindness" in which the writ is allowed, but dissents from the proposition of law on which the judgment is based. Judge Rose says no specific appropriation was made under the head of the "State Public School of Lincoln" to pay the wages of present employees at the Home for the Friendless for the month of April, and strict adherence to the constitutional provision relating to the disbursement of public funds is necessary to the proper financial management of the state government. "I fear the precedent established," he says, "will be cited in the future to justify the appropriation of public funds and the wrongdoing of public officers."

Myra E. Briggs Wins Suit.

Judgment for $3,000 given in Cuming county in favor of Myra E. Briggs, against the Royal Highlanders, has been affirmed by the supreme court. Suit was brought by her husband, The Royal Highlanders refused to pay the amount of the policy on the ground that the insured committed suicide. The plaintiff assailed the suicide clause in the regulation of the Royal Highlanders on the ground that it was adopted by the executive committee, which it was alleged, was not a representative body. The court holds as it did in the case of Lang against Royal Highlanders, where a fraternal benefit association has not completed with the state law and adopted a representative form of government its governing body is without power to adopt a by-law changing the terms and obligations of a mutual benefit certificate.

Dean Ward Goes to Illinois.

Dr. Henry B. Ward, dean of the medical school of the state university, has accepted the call of the University of Illinois to head its department of zoology, and will remove to Illinois with his family in the early fall.

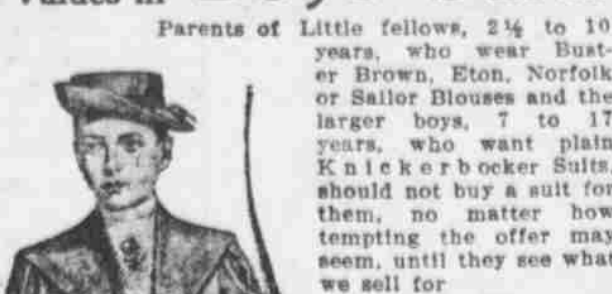

The offer of the Illinois institution was made to the doctor some time ago and Sunday Dr. Ward went to Illinois and personally looked over the institution and agreed to accept the call, provided certain concessions were made whereby his work in the field of original research would not be so limited.

Late this afternoon the doctor received a telegram agreeing to his proposition, and he announced his intention to accept. The new position pays a salary of $4,000 a year, or $1,000 more than is paid by the University of Nebraska. Dr. Ward received an offer from a New York college, but he had lived here so long in the west he concluded he would not be satisfied in New York. Dr. Ward is 44 years of age and has been connected with the University of Nebraska for sixteen years.

THE HOME OF QUALITY CLOTHES

Values vs. Bargains

There's a difference—value-giving means your money's worth, any day or your money back—qualities so good a customer never regrets the price he paid. A value-giving store is one where you feel you don't have to match wits with a clever salesman to get a square deal. This is a value-giving store—values are always bargains, but bargains not always values. Some stores prosper by advertising bargain sales almost weekly, under some pretext or other. They buy anything and sell anything, just so the price seems low enough and their customers usually have a feeling akin to the fellow who plays the lottery—"The chances are against me, but I'll beat 'em some day." Do you prefer safety (values), or uncertainty (bargains)?

$15 Suits

There is no better way under the sun to determine what you gain by dealing with a value-giving store than to visit every store in town looking at suits they sell at $15.00 to $20.00—then coming here and looking at our great line of $15.00 suits. We do not claim impossibilities for them but we do claim that our position on the $15.00 suit question is impregnable.

OTHER SUITS, $10 to $35 is immensely popular this sea-Blue Serge and it deserves its popularity—it is the one best fabric. No man should think of buying a blue serge suit, either outing or three-piece, without paying this store a visit. We've an exceptional three-piece value $10.00 and a beautiful serge, silk half lined, outing suit at $18.00—lots of others.

$13, $15, $20 @ $25

Vestless Suits Men who have looked around a bit have expressed their astonishment at our showing of feather weight Outing Suits. The best "bargains" offered elsewhere are discounted by us several dollars. The word "values" has a meaning, when applied to our outing suits that most any one can understand.

Grandfather Sues for Child's Custody

Seth Terry secures writ of Habeas Corpus for Omaha Girl Long in Litigation.

BEATRICE, Neb., June 25.—(Special.)—Seth Terry, an old resident of the Pickwell neighborhood, has instituted habeas corpus proceedings in the county court for the custody of Effie Johnson, his 13-year-old granddaughter, who has been making her home at Omaha with her aunt, Mrs. Gusie De Lorie. The writ was issued against the child's father, J. Alfred Johnson, and his sister, Mrs. De Lorie, and Sheriff Trude, accompanied by Attorney M. W. Terry of this city, went to Omaha Thursday and brought the girl to Beatrice. The case was set for hearing June 25, and Seth Terry, the grandfather, gave bond in the sum of $500 that he would produce the girl in court on that date.

The litigation over the Johnson children has been in the courts since 1906. Beulah and Effie Johnson lived with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Terry, near Pickwell, and the father, J. Alfred Johnson, first brought suit for the custody of the girls, who are 15 and 10 years of age, respectively, when their mother died. The case was heard before Judge Kelliger, who gave the oldest girl to Mr. and Mrs. Terry and the youngest to the father. Now the grandmothers have brought proceedings to secure possession of the youngest girl, who has been living at Omaha ever since the court placed her in the custody of her father.

Mr. Terry alleges that Johnson and Gusie De Lorie have not properly provided for the child and are unfit to have the custody of the girl, whose health is being impaired.

The animal measures seven inches between ears, is thirty-two inches high, sixty-six inches in length and weighs 130 pounds. There was a reward of $100 offered.

BUSHNELL AT BROKEN BOW

President of State Organization Entertained by Commercial Clubs.

BROKEN BOW, Neb., June 25.—(Special.)—The Commercial club last night entertained H. M. Bushnell of Lincoln, president of the Associated State Commercial Clubs. The affair was given at the Temple theater and attended by about 150 members, who thoroughly enjoyed the informal luncheon and smoker that followed. Mayor Dan Rockwell occupied the chair and introduced the speakers. After interesting comments had been made by ex-Mayor George L. H. Jewett and H. G. Myers, President Bushnell was introduced as the speaker of the evening. He made many practical suggestions that if carried out will undoubtedly be of great benefit to the community. Among other things, Mr. Bushnell advocated good roads and told how to get them; he complimented the county, town and club, and, as an outsider, thought it advisable for the people to stop agitating county division and pull together towards making Custer county the biggest and richest county in the state. Other speakers were Emerson R. Purcell, Superintendent of Schools Elliott, Judge Humphrey, Alpha Morgan, Judge Reese, S. J. Lonergan and M. E. Walker of Omaha.

HALF-MINUTE STORE TALK

No, sir! We haven't made a million dollars yet—don't ever expect to—don't know that we even want to, but we could make a lot more money (for about one season) if we were willing to sell clothes built for the eye instead of the wear. It is easy to sell clothes that look right, but ours must stay right—and that kind is sold at such a narrow margin that we must content ourselves with selling the best clothes in the best clothes store in town.
